Smith's '28 Platform Told in Message

ADVICE TO STATE IS HIS APPEAL FOR ELECTION

Prohibition Policies Are Outlined.

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Gov. Al Smith killed two birds with one stone today by delivering his annual message to his Republican opponents in the 1928 legislature at its opening session and his campaign prospectus to his Democratic supporters for the presidential nomination, all in one document.

The message, containing 33,000 words, is the longest ever placed before a New York legislature. The governor introduced it as his "eighth and last" message.

Discusses National Questions.

While ostensibly the governor kept closely to New York state affairs, he singled out for detailed discussion those which are also of national interest—water power, prohibition, budget reform, agriculture, and structural governmental changes. The message contains material that is sure to be scattered in every nook and corner of the United States where there is a delegate to be selected for the 1928 national convention.

The part of his address which will be most quoted deals with prohibition and law enforcement, on which the governor left no room for doubt as to his position.

"It is a fundamental tenet of our system of government," he said, "that the civil rights and liberties of our people must be protected."

Forced Dry Ratification.

He criticized the Republican legislature of 1919 for forcing ratification of the eighteenth amendment by a party caucus and pointed out that when the question of modification of the Volstead act was submitted to a popular referendum, the majority for modification was 1,164,586.

"I am within the truth," he declared, "when I say that the method used in the legislature of 1919 to force the ratification of the eighteenth amendment aroused much ill feeling in many parts of the state. Democratic government loses its force and vigor when an organized minority by trick or device circumvent the will of the majority.

"The great mistake of the legislature of 1919 in failing to submit this question to a popular referendum is the direct cause of the unrest, uneasiness and dissatisfaction apparent in large portions of the state. It has gone further and been the prime cause of creating disrespect for the law among citizens who give the limit of obedience to every other regulatory statute ever enacted in the state or nation."

Must Look to Washington.

The governor declared that "gradually our people are beginning to realize that only in Washington can any change in the present status of prohibition be made."

The governor does not go so far as to say what form he thinks the relief which may be had from congress should take, but he does condemn those who criticize efforts to repeal or modify the eighteenth amendment. On this point, he says:

"The theory of Democratic constitutional government, having for its purpose the preservation of the liberties of the people cannot permit intolerance to the point where one group denies or attempts to deny to the other the right of freedom of speech and freedom of expression. In a petition recently presented to me seeking double provision for enforcement of the Volstead act, the organization of citizens in favor of modification is condemned, and there are those who carry their ideas to the point where they are prepared to denounce as un-American and un-Christian those who may perchance be opposed to their view of a statute while giving it implicit obedience."

Must Sustain Law.

In the meantime, he insisted, the state has a "sacred duty" to sustain the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law.

"They are as much a part of the laws of this state as our own statutes and our own constitution," he declared. "I speak only the truth when I say that the people of any locality get the degree of law enforcement upon which they insist and for which they are willing to pay.

"So far as I am concerned, in obedience to my oath to sustain the constitution of the United States, I have re-

REPAYS $6,000,000 GRUBSTAKE; FRIEND DECLINES INTEREST

Cleveland, O., Jan. 4.—(AP)—A "grubstake" of $6,000,000, which saved Frank A. Seiberling, president of the Seiberling Rubber company, from financial ruin a year ago has been returned by the rubber magnate to his friend, Edgar B. Davis, New York financier.

The two men met in New York twenty years ago. Seiberling was head of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber company and Davis was president of the United States Tire and Rubber company.

Davis went to Sumatra to build up rubber plantations and for ten years the friends were parted. When Davis returned he put his entire fortune into Texas oil fields. Hard pressed for money, Davis appealed to Seiberling, who loaned him $57,000. Davis later sold out to Standard Oil for $12,000,000.

Later Seiberling faced a crisis in the rubber industry, and in 1920 found himself out of Goodyear and virtually "broke." Seiberling organized a new venture, the Seiberling Rubber company. After it had struggled along six years without making headway, Davis remembered that old "grubstake" of $57,000. He loaned Seiberling $500,000 cash and underwrote his notes for $5,500,000.

Last year Seiberling Rubber went up and Seiberling was ready to pay back. A few days ago he retrieved the notes and Davis was released as guarantor.

"He's a real fellow," Seiberling said of Davis. "He refused to accept any interest."

HE SHARES IN OIL MILLIONS, WOULD DIVORCE DANCER

Romance that came to Cameron Fitch in a loop night club two years ago, when he was 18, died yesterday when the young man started suit for divorce against Mrs. Louise Fitch, former dancer, in the Superior court. The suit was filed by Attorney William L. Howard, who stated young Fitch is living with his mother in Chicago, refusing to give further directions.

Fitch was a beneficiary in the $3,000,000 estate of William P. Cowan, late Standard Oil official.

Young Fitch in his bill charges cruelty, setting up that his wife burned him with cigaret stubs and struck him with a heavy silver brush, his gift, and finally deserted him. It is stated the young man met the young woman, then dancing in a loop night club, in October, 1925, and that he induced her at once to elope with him to Waukegan, where they were married at sunrise.

Young Fitch became a beneficiary of Mr. Cowan's estate in 1920. His father, Charles E. Fitch, for years was manager of the Cowan estate and trainer of Mr. Cowan's horses.

Ex-Cop Walks Into Holdup; Kills Robber

Intent upon visiting his friend, Frank Nelson, owner of a sporting goods and radio store at 7743 South Halsted street, to talk over plans for a rabbit hunt, James Doody, 45 years old, 8035 South Carpenter street, a former policeman, walked into a holdup in the store last night.

As Doody entered the door one of two youthful bandits aimed a revolver at him and fired. The shot went wild. By that time Doody had drawn his own weapon. His first bullet pierced the robber's heart and killed him instantly.

Father Identifies Slain Youth.

The dead man was Stanley Hodana, 19 years old, of 4846 South Paulina street. The body was identified by his father, Michael Hodana. His companion, who had herded three customers into an indoor golf net at the rear of the store, fled after the shooting and escaped.

Those who had been held up when Doody entered the store, together with the sums lost by each are: Frank Nelson and his brother, Albert, $44; J. H. Luken, 7754 Lowe avenue, $10; Michael Kenny, 634 West 68th street, $42; and E. B. Lankin, 8118 S. May street, $9.

Doody Praised for Bravery.

Doody was commended by Capt. John Egan for his bravery in returning the bandit's fire. He is the owner of a garage at 1015 West 79th street.

Back in September, 1925, Hodana was arrested with three other youthful burglars in a basement at 1810 West 46th street. They had taken refuge there following a robbery and defied police to take them out. A few tear bombs and bullets soon brought their surrender, however.

Policeman Surprises Robbers.

Two robbers who undertook to hold up the Silver Moon club, an athletic association, with rooms in a barn in the rear of 1222 North Spaulding avenue, received a surprise early this morning when their demand for "hands up" was met with a volley of pistol shots. Policeman Jeremiah Mahoney of the Shakespeare avenue station was in the place when the masked men entered. He opened fire as soon as he saw it was an attempt at a holdup.

One of the robbers returned the fire, but no one was hit. One of the bandits crawled under a table to escape Mahoney's bullets. He was captured and proved to be Robert Ahlgrin, 2615 North Hamlin avenue. His companion, who, he said, was John Rowan, 1119 North Paulina street, leaped through a window and fled. Rowan was captured at home. Both men told the police they had families and were out of work. They said this was their first attempt at robbery.

Rob Girl Café Cashier of $600.

A lone robber held up the Triangle restaurant, 130 South Clark street, early this morning, escaping with $600 after a tussle with Miss Jewel Hutchinson, 25, 4720 Sheridan road, the cashier, who pursued him out of the restaurant and down an alley. The robber took a box from a safe, despite Miss Hutchinson's struggle to prevent it. Two waitresses, who witnessed the robbery, said the man was young, wore a handkerchief to conceal his features, and had red hair. They are Betty Mulch, 22, and Ida Nelson, 27, 4718 North Racine avenue. No customers were in the place at the time.

NONSTOP FLIGHT BY SOCIETY GIRL, GOTHAM TO MIAMI

Miami, Fla., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Miss Ruth Nichols, young society girl of Rye, N. Y., tonight at 8:06 o'clock completed the first nonstop airplane flight from New York to Miami. Flying time was exactly twelve hours. She took off from Far Rockaway at 8:06 a. m.

Miss Nichols was accompanied by Harry Rogers, Air Line president and owner of the Fairchild pontoon monoplane, and Maj. M. K. Lee, retired business man and sportsman of New York, Washington, and Baltimore.

The trip was a little more than 1,200 flying miles, Mr. Rogers said. Miss Nichols was at the controls for five hours and for two other short intervals during the flight.

U. S. WARS WITH NICARAGUA, FOES OF COOLIDGE CRY

Hit Administration in Both Houses.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Resentment over administration Nicaraguan policies flared in both houses of congress today.

Resolutions hitting at the administration for conditions which resulted in the killing and wounding of American marines in recent fighting with Nicaraguan rebels were offered in both the senate and house.

Senator Heflin [Dem., Ala.] offered a resolution in the senate denouncing administration policies and requesting the President to withdraw the marines immediately. Senator Nye [Rep., N. D.] presented another, declaring against the protection by the American government of investments of American citizens in foreign countries. Senator Wheeler [Dem., Mont.] announced that he would introduce tomorrow his resolution for the appointment of a special senate committee to investigate the American Nicaraguan policy.

Lively Debate in House.

Representative Bloom [Dem., N. Y.] introduced in the house a resolution requesting the secretary of state and the secretary of the navy to furnish information relating to the circumstances causing the fight which resulted in the marine casualities and the reasons why marines were sent to Nicaragua.

A lively debate occurred in the house with Representatives Garret [Dem., Tenn.] and Huddleston [Dem., Ala.] assailing the administration and, Representative Begg [Rep., O.] defending it. Representative Boylan [Dem., N. Y.] in a statement accused the administration of carrying on a war without congressional authorization.

In the Heflin resolution requesting the President to withdraw the marines it was asserted that "the sending of armed forces by the United States into a neighboring republic for the purpose of overthrowing a government resulting from the expressed will of the people is wrong, inexcusable, and indefensible."

Urges Congress to Act.

"Soldiers of the United States are now and have been for months, engaged in war in defense of the Diaz régime in Nicaragua," the resolution continued. "Such action, in the absence of a declaration of war by congress, is in violation of the constitution and deserves the condemnation of all loyal Americans and calls for immediate action by congress."

The debate in the house was precipitated when Representative Huddleston took the floor to condemn the sending of marines to Nicaragua.

"The significance of the situation in Nicargua, as I see it, is that a stupid and inept administration has gotten us into a difficulty and we now have to fight our way out," Mr. Huddleston said. "We have embarked upon a dangerous enterprise; now we must make our way out if we can do so consistent with national honor and safety.

Assails Coolidge "Pacification."

"There is war in Nicaragua, not the war of the American people, but a war of those who happen to be in charge of the American government; a war they entered upon without the consent of the real rulers of this country. This, after twelve months of the Coolidge brand of pacification."

Representative Begg, in reply, said it was the duty of the United States to maintain the Monroe Doctrine and to protect American life and property wherever it may be throughout the world.

"Why all of this fuss because we have marines in Nicaragua?" he asked. "We have had marines there more or less regularly since 1895, and each time we took them out they were sent back at the request of the Nicaraguan government, because they could not keep order without them.

"Instead of inciting war, the marines are preserving the peace of the new world; we have saved a war. If the Monroe Doctrine is to be scrapped and foreign nations are to be permitted to land troops to protect their own nationals in revolutions, such as the one that is now going on in Nicaragua, how can we safeguard the Panama canal?

U. S. Must Keep Peace.

"The peace of the world demands that we must maintain peace and a stable form of government in Nicaragua, and if we fail to do that we should not object to foreign nations sending troops of their own to protect their nationals at least."

Representative Garrett said that he had been unable to learn of any American lives or property in danger in

Chief Divides City Into Five Police Areas

Chief Michael Hughes late last night assumed the title of "commissioner of police," appointed seven "deputy commissioners," and generally reorganized the police department much on the order of the old inspector system abolished sixteen years ago. The order he issued was made effective at 8 o'clock this morning.

As a result five of the officials this morning hold new jobs, each of them in charge of one of the five divisions into which the city's forty-one districts were divided.

Alcock Chief Deputy.

John H. Alcock, formerly chief deputy superintendent of the department, became "first deputy commissioner." Chief of Detectives William E. O'Connor became "Deputy Commissioner" O'Connor, "in command of the detective division." Michael Grady, deputy chief, becomes chief of detectives.

Mooney and McDowell have been deputy superintendents and the others captains.

Districts Are Renamed.

Each of the five new divisions took in certain of the police districts, and for this purpose, the order stated, most of the old stations were given new numbers. These changes were listed as follows:

Old dist.	Station name.	New dist.
Traffic Div.	Traffic.	Traffic Dist.
1	Central detail [Loop]	1
*1-A	Harrison street	2
2	Cottage Grove	3
2-A	Stanton avenue	4

*Division headquarters.

Formation of Divisions.

The order then assigns the police districts to the five divisions thus:

Second division—4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th (not open), 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, and 18th districts.

Third division—21st, 22d, 23d, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, and 28th districts.

Commissioner Hughes said:

"It should be clear that the change isn't merely one of titles but of duties as well. It means a complete staff reorganization suitable for a big city. Instead of a chief giving orders to fifty captains, we will have a commissioner giving orders to seven deputies, who will command the captains."

Commissioner Hughes will continue to receive a salary of $10,000 a year. Alcock will get $8,000 and each of the other deputies $7,500.

DISCOVER PLOT TO REVOLT IN 2 MEXICAN STATES

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 5.—(AP)—A revolutionary plot in the states of Queretaro and Guanajuato, for which arms were said to have been smuggled from the United States, has been discovered. Six alleged ringleaders were arrested and cited to the attorney general for trial.

The attempt at revolution was to have been made Jan. 1 in Queretaro and Guanajuato in combination with rebel groups operating in the state of Jalisco. Juan Delgado Luna, one of those arrested, charged, according to the government, that the conspiracy was directed by Alfredo Robles-Dominguez, at present in exile in the United States.

The arrests were made by José Mascorro, head of the Mexican secret service, and a group of operatives who went to Queretaro. At Ciudad Juarez, on the United States border, Ricardo Rangel was captured. He was engaged in smuggling arms and ammunition.

BULLETIN.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 4.—(AP)—One of the bodies recovered today from the sunken submarine S-4 has been identified as that of Lieut. Joseph A. McGinley of Norristown, Pa., members of his family said tonight. The widow of the lieutenant and his parents said they had received a telegram to this effect from officials in charge of the salvage operations at Provincetown, Mass.

Provincetown, Mass., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The sunken submarine S-4 today yielded the bodies of three of the forty men who lost their lives when the ship was rammed and sunk off Cape Cod eighteen days ago.

Divers, entering the hull this afternoon, carried the bodies from the engine room and from the ocean bottom they were raised slowly to the surface.

With no attempts at identification, the bodies were placed in baskets and put aboard the destroyer Maury which started tonight for the navy yard at Boston. There they will be transferred to the naval hospital at Chelsea where identification will be made.

One Is an Officer.

A naval academy class pin on one indicated the body was that of one of the five officers who were aboard. Another was a machinists' mate and the third apparently a chief petty officer.

Divers who recovered the bodies expressed the opinion there were no others in the engine room compartment. They did not succeed in completing their search of the compartment, however, before they were forced to stop operations for the day.

Although there was no opportunity for a thorough medical examination the appearance of the bodies indicated the three men were drowned rather than suffocated. All of the bodies were fully clothed.

Diver Finds Bodies.

Joseph L. Eiben was the first diver to enter the submarine and the one who found the bodies. For several days everything had been virtually ready for the divers to go into the hull through the hatch leading to the engine room and only weather conditions interfered. The sea was fairly calm this afternoon and C. L. Applegate was the first diver sent down. He opened the hatch but did not enter.

Eiben was then sent down with two other divers, R. C. Wilson and E. A. Mattox. While Wilson and Mattox remained on the deck beside the open hatch, Eiben slowly climbed down the ladder to the compartment. Almost immediately his foot struck the first body where it lay on the floor of the submarine. A moment later, on the opposite side of the compartment, he found the second body. The third was farther forward.

Raised to Surface.

Eiben then lifted each body up to the opening in the hull, where the other divers raised it to the deck of the submarine. Wilson then entered the hull and aided Eiben and after the three bodies had been taken from the compartment the divers signaled for a line to be lowered. The bodies were attached and raised to the surface.

Unfavorable weather tonight made it doubtful whether the divers could go down to the wreck again tomorrow in an attempt to remove additional bodies. When operations were suspended this afternoon a strong wind was blowing, the sea was rough, and the temperature was dropping.

MOVE FOR INQUIRY

The President transmitted to both houses a letter from Secretary of the Navy Wilbur proposing the appointment of a commission of experts to investigate the circumstances of the disaster and make recommendations looking toward the avoidance of similar disasters in the future.

Start Wheels Turning.

Senator Hale [Rep., Me.], chairman of the senate committee on naval affairs, and Representative Butler [Rep., Pa.], chairman of the house committee on naval affairs, introduced identical joint resolutions carrying out the administration recommendation. In the senate the resolution was referred to the committee on naval affairs and in the house to the committee on rules.

The resolution authorizes the appointment by the President of a commission of five members, three of whom shall be civilians and two retired naval officers. It carries an appropriation of $20,000 for the expenses of the commission.

President Coolidge's letter as read in both houses of congress was brief. It merely stated that he was transmitting a letter from Secretary Wilbur and added his endorsement.

Asks Complete Inquiry.

Secretary Wilbur in his letter to the President explained that a commission acting with congressional authority could conduct a more complete inquiry than the naval court already appointed.

"It is desirable that a commission of experts be assembled to consider the development of safety devices for our submarines and that such commission be empowered to call witnesses and to pay their expenses," Secretary Wilbur said. "In the opinion of such a board it may be desirable to secure expert testimony from those experts who developed submarines for other nations as well as our own.

"It is desirable also that such a commission be empowered to make such inquiry into the S-4 disaster as they may deem necessary to suplement investigation by the naval court of inquiry."

Hale Approves Measure.

Senator Hale in voicing his approval of the administration resolution asserted that no naval disaster since the blowing up of the Maine has so stirred up the public.

"That every possible measure was taken by the navy department to rescue these men the navy believes to be the case," said Senator Hale. "I, myself, believe it to be the case and so doubtless do many senators here, but it is not enough that such is our belief. It is not enough that a naval court of inquiry, the usual court to make investigation in cases of this kind, shall sit and report its findings pro and con.

"The fair name of the navy demands that the verdict for or against the navy shall be delivered by a commission that all men must know to be impartial."

COURT HEARS WITNESS

Boston, Mass., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The submarine S-4 had just completed her day's work of submerged trial runs when she was rammed and sunk by the coast guard destroyer, Paulding the naval court of inquiry investigating the loss of the vessel with her forty officers and men was informed today.

The witness, the first to be called in the hearing which opened at the Boston navy yard today, was Lieut. Frank L. Worden, commander of the submarine S-8, sister ship of the S-4. The witness went on record on several matters which have been much discussed since the S-4 disaster.

He said he did not believe it necessary to post a guard ship to warn surface craft when a submarine was operating submerged.

"It would be just one additional ship we would have to watch and keep clear of," he added.

Lived 86 Hours.

The six men who survived for several days after the disaster in the torpedo room of the S-4 belied the textbooks by their endurance, the witness declared. He said the "S" type of submarine with a complement of 40 men was believed to have sufficient air in its compartments to sustain the lives of the crew for 17 hours. The oxgyen bottle in the torpedo room would add an additional 37 hours to this span of life.

However, he said, tapping signals from the S-4 indicated that some of the men were alive after 86 hours and 43 minutes.

FLYER CHARGED WITH THEFT OF NONSTOP PLANE

Steve Lacey, aviator and instructor at the Hinckley School of Aviation at Hinckley, Ill., was named in a warrant issued yesterday by United States Commissioner James R. Glass, alleging interstate transportation of a stolen airplane. This is said to be the first warrant ever obtained for an alleged airplane theft.

Lacey, according to attendants at the Hinckley flying field, is now in New York City preparing for a nonstop flight over the gulf stream, to land somewhere in South America. He has participated in several aerial contests in this country.

The warrant alleges the airplane was stolen from the Waco Airplane company hangars at Richmond, Ind., and flown to Galena, Ill., on July 14, last.

Wife Finds His Lodge Meetings Are with Marie

Although her husband took his lodge regalia with him each night he went out, Mrs. Ella Paeth, 4403 South Albany avenue, became suspicious because of the frequency of his "meetings." She followed him and found his car parked in front of a house where lived one "Marie," she testified yesterday before Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch. Her attorney, Otto Baer, was instructed to prepare a divorce decree against Fred W. Paeth, lodgeman and electrician.

AGREE TO RESUME ARBITRATION ON CAR MEN'S WAGE

Negotiators Are Given Full Authority.

The prospective strike of the street car men faded to the dim background again yesterday.

The arbitration of the wage differences between the Surface Lines and the elevated roads, and their trainmen, will be resumed today, with Ald. O. F. Nelson again representing the car men and Guy Richardson, general manager of the Surface Lines, representing the companies.

These two arbitrators, who were appointed Dec. 12, reached a point Tuesday where they asked for a joint meeting of the board of operation of the Surface Lines and the union officials. That session was held yesterday morning. The result was an agreement that the arbitrators should continue their work this morning.

Settle Authority Question.

The men have asked for a raise of 15 cents an hour, making a total of 90 cents. The companies have replied that conditions warrant a decrease of 5 cents an hour. Ald. Nelson is said to have charged that Mr. Richardson lacked authority to consider any increase; and Mr. Richardson is reported to have charged that Ald. Nelson was prevented by the unions from considering any decrease in the present wages.

At the joint conference yesterday it is understood that both companies and unions agreed that the arbitrators have full authority to effect a settlement, not only in the amount of the wage but also for any period up to three years.

No change was made in the original written agreement to arbitrate signed by the representatives of the companies and men on Dec. 12. That agreement provided that Mr. Richardson and Ald. Nelson were to reach an agreement if possible. But if they failed, they were required to select an umpire, and the trio was bound to reach an agreement.

Celebrate Record Haul.

President Henry A. Blair and Vice President Richardson gave a luncheon yesterday noon at the Union League club to the operating officials to celebrate what is said to be a world's record of operation. In the three days before Christmas every one of the 3,639 cars were in operation.

In the six days before Christmas the Surface Lines carried 29,576,412 passengers, which is about 2,500,000 more than were hauled in the corresponding period of 1926.

Charge Father Sold His Girls, Stole Them Back

Atlanta, Ga., Jan. 4.—(AP)—A gypsy father who is alleged to have married his two daughters off for the sum of $5,000, and then to have stolen them from their husbands to sell them into marriage again, is being held in the Dublin, Ga., jail on charges of violating the Mann act, federal authorities here announced today.

Hewitt Tells Transit Benefits Without Unified Control

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

One of the transportation bills, being considered by the aldermen and companies, provides for a consolidated ownership of the street, elevated, and subway car lines and buses.

No one as yet has told convincingly why such ownership is an absolute prerequisite to appreciable improvement in the transit service for the benefit of the car riders.

Frequently the companies have said: "Let us have one ownership, one control and a unified operation, and a car rider may transfer from the surface to the elevated lines or vice versa thereby reaching his destination in the shortest possible time."

That is the principal benefit to the car riders which has been claimed for a consolidation of ownership.

Why, however, should that contribution to public convenience have to await consolidation? A public utility operator of national reputation has said it is not necessary to wait.

Cites Railroads' Practices.

This man has pointed out that a passenger gets the benefits of unified operation on the railroads without one ownership. A resident of Chicago may make the trip to Canada on two railroads and never change his car or seat. The only way he has of knowing that he is traveling in two different nations is the call of the customs inspector.

Similar operating agreements, east, west, north, and south, among steam railroads are evidence that it is practicable to interchange passengers between the elevated roads and surface lines in Chicago. That testimony lies in the fact that it was announced two years back by both the elevated and surface management that negotiations were in progress to exchange transfers at 121 different points of convenient interchange. Those negotiations were broken off, probably for the chief reason that no one in official position of influence urged that they should be continued to a successful consummation.

Rush Hours Big Obstacles.

Another reason was because such transfers are not physically possible during every hour of the day with the present facilities. During the rush hours, morning and evening, the elevated carries the maximum number of people it can transport through the loop. It is physically impossible to handle any considerably larger number by the present method of operation. But that applies only between 7:30 a. m. and 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. to 6:30 p. m.

Except during those periods there is no reason why there should not now be an interchange of passengers between the surface and elevated lines. During some 20½ hours of each day it should be possible for a resident of Avalon Park to take a surface car to the South Side elevated and then take an "L" train to the loop, the north side, or the west side.

For years and years a separate fare was charged on the Lake street "L," the alley "L," the Northwestern, and the Metropolitan lines. It then was argued by the managements that a through routing of cars and transfers from one to another "L" materially would eat into the profits. Finally it was agreed that the system would be tried for a limited period. There was some added expense, in theory at least, but the gain in public favor and in increased riding caused the experiment to be continued as a permanent policy.

Boosts Non-Rush Riding.

The reason of the later "weekly pass" on the elevated is for the purpose of increasing riding during the non-rush hours. The cash fare on the elevated is 10 cents and the tickets are three for 25 cents—an average of 8 1-3 cents. On the face of those figures it would appear that the average fare would be between 8 1-3 cents and 10 cents, but it was reported last year as 8¼ cents. It is pulled down by the "weekly pass," and yet the management sees an advantage in continuing its effort to increase the elevated riding during non-rush hours.

If an interchange of passengers during non-rush hours did not increase elevated traffic much, both the surface and the elevated still would get the benefit of the good will created. The surface lines see an advantage in permitting a passenger to travel an aggregate of 28 miles for one fare. Very few persons ever want to do it, and the companies are seldom called upon to perform such a service. But the fact they offer such a ride is good advertising and aids in creating favorable public sentiment.

Might Aid Surface Lines.

If the interchange of passengers between surface and elevated during nonrush hours caused the elevated to carry as many passengers during nonrush as now during rush hours, who would be the loser? Probably it would not then be necessary to operate so many surface cars into and out of the loop and the congestion would be relieved to that extent. Those surface cars could be used in outlying districts, but if unneeded there, could be run into the barn, and the capital expenditure for more cars longer delayed.

The companies financially would gain by the interchange. If that statement is not true, the interchange of passengers will be very limited, even if there is a consolidated ownership. The available facts indicate a financial advantage.

"L" Transit Is Cheaper.

The length of haul on the surface lines would be reduced and consequently the cost would be lowered. The operating cost of transporting passengers on the elevated is much lower per car mile than on the surface lines—and the car mile probably is the best unit of reckoning expense. The operating cost per car mile on the surface lines is 36 per cent higher than on the elevated, according to the final figures of 1926.

The costs were given as 25 cents per car mile on the elevated and 34 cents on the surface lines. New York subway operations are under 20 cents. Probably the Chicago elevated would attain as low or lower cost if it had the maximum traffic of its rush hours during nonrush hours. If there is some good reason why the chief public benefit claimed for consolidated ownership should not be given now, what is it?

AGAIN VOTES TO FREE CONGRESS OF 'LAME DUCKS'

Senate Renews Effort to Stop Short Sessions.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—For the fourth time in as many years the senate today recorded itself overwhelmingly in favor of a constitutional amendment to abolish the thirteen month interregnum between congressional elections and the assembling of a new congress.

Only six opposing votes were cast against the passage of the Norris joint resolution under which an amendment fixing the beginning of the terms of the President and the Vice President at noon on Jan. 15 and the terms of senators and representatives at noon on Jan. 2 following their election in the previous November would be submitted to the states.

Would End "Short Session."

The proposed amendment is designed primarily to end the so-called "short session" of congress in which "lame duck" members repudiated in November by their constituencies continue to vote on legislation for the four months following their defeat until the session automatically ends on March 4.

In addition, the amendment would operate, according to its sponsors, to prevent the organization of "filibusters" which frequently occur in the closing hours of a short session when a single senator, determined to defeat a single measure, and secure in the knowledge that congress must adjourn at a definite moment, may tie the senate in a hopeless knot until the hour of final adjournment on March 4.

Passed Senate in 1923.

In slightly different form, the Norris resolution first passed the senate in February, 1923. Leaders in the house, however, opposed the proposal, and although it was favorably reported by the house judiciary committee in each succeeding congress the resolution was never called up for passage in the house. The resolution as passed today is to be considered by a house committee on Friday.

The six votes against its passage today were cast by Senators Bingham [Rep., Conn.], Dale [Rep., Vt.], Greene [Rep., Vt.], Sackett [Rep., Ky.], Blease [Dem., S. C.], and King [Dem., Utah]. The last named asserted his sympathy with the proposed reform but declared he opposed "tinkering with the constitution" when the same end could be accomplished by an act of congress.

MIAMI, UNUSED TO WINTER, SHIVERS IN TEMPERATURE OF 42

Miami, Fla., Jan. 4.—(AP)—unprepared for cold blasts, Miami today looked hopefully toward the end of the week, when forecasts promised a cessation to the unaccustomed low temperatures that have thrown the city completely off its "June in January" program.

Because of the lack of heating facilities, a temperature that ranged between 42 and 49 degrees proved more upsetting than subzero readings did to sections more versed in the ways of winter. Schools were closed. Courts adjourned.

The Chicago weather bureau, in its report in Monday night, made a serious error in regard to temperature. It reported Miami temperature at 7 p. m. as 4 above instead of 52, and the highest of the day as 10 above instead of 58.

U. S. PUBLIC DEBT CUT A BILLION IN CALENDAR 1927

Treasury Report Affords the Estimate.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Reduction of the public debt by more than $1,000,000,000 during the calendar year 1927 was indicated by treasury figures made public today.

The gross debt on Dec. 31 was $18,036,352,451, compared with $19,074,665,337 on Dec. 31, 1926, a reduction of $1,038,312,886.

If the net balances in the general fund are deducted from the gross debt at the end of the years 1926 and 1927 the debt reduction during the year was $1,083,645,440.

Since the war debt was at its peak in 1919 there has been a reduction amounting to $8,560,349,107.

The reduction accomplished during the year 1927 means a saving in interest of approximately $40,000,000.

The debt outstanding Dec. 31 included $1,939,156,850 in First Liberty Loan bonds, $2,147,653,150 in Third Liberty Loan bonds, and $6,296,901,900 in Fourth Liberty Loan bonds. Also outstanding were long term treasury bonds aggregating $2,790,738,650 which were issued at different times in refinancing war bonds.

Other government securities outstanding Dec. 31 included $2,252,210,350 in treasury notes and $1,247,044,700 in treasury certificates.

There was outstanding at the end of the year $110,741,640 in matured obligations on which interest has ceased and which the holders have failed to redeem. These included $87,060,400 of Second Liberty Loan bonds, which were recently called for redemption, $11,000,700 in treasury notes, $7,6[illegible]250 in treasury savings certificates and $2,613,000 of Victory notes which matured in 1923.

SLAYS MOTHER-IN-LAW "AS TRIBAL CUSTOM"; GETS LIFE IN PRISON

Detroit Lakes, Minn., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Chippewa tribal custom of slaying the aged and infirm has failed as a murder defense in the paleface court. Alex Jourdan, a Chippewa, pleaded guilty in federal court to slaying his 90 year old mother-in-law with an ax last March and he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Jourdan pleaded that his mother-in-law was old, blind, and feeble, and that a custom of his tribe prescribed that such persons should be hurried on the journey to the happy hunting grounds.

Records revealed a previous imprisonment of Jourdan for the slaying fifteen years ago of his father. His sentence served then was four years.

COURTS SPEED UP DIVORCES, REDUCE ALIMONY IN 1927

Decrees Increase Nearly 50%, Wallace Says.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Circuit court of Cook county granted 44.45 per cent more divorces, handed them out with more speed, and gave them with less cost in alimony to husbands last year than in 1926. Those are a few of the bits of information on divorces which Thomas O. Wallace, clerk of the court, gave the Independent German-American Women's club at a meeting yesterday afternoon in the Morrison hotel.

"The alimony clubs, which frequently gain considerable publicity, cannot be highly prosperous organizations if all the women who receive alimony are members," said Mr. Wallace. "The alimony awarded by the Circuit court last year totals $478,952, as compared with $274,394 the year before. It might seem from this that alimony is going up, but the fact is exactly the opposite, because there were more divorces last year than the year before. The average yearly alimony awarded in 1926 was about 15 per cent higher than in 1925, but last year it was 9.7 per cent lower than in 1926.

Average Alimony Small.

"But the average alimony does not amount to much. In 1925 it was $717.32, in 1926 it was $830.06, and last year $749.13. That is an average of $59.77 a month in 1925, $69.17 in 1926, and $62.44 last year. That is not enough for the divorced women to live on. The average alimony receiver cannot have gay parties at the Alimony club."

Then Mr. Wallace discussed settlements in divorce cases where the court approves of the amount. These are sometimes made in addition to alimony, but more often take the place of it.

"My impressions in regard to the money involved in divorce settlements have changed materially since I have collected official information on that subject in the Circuit court," Mr. Wallace went on. "Only the largest settlements and the largest alimony are of sufficient news value to gain publicity, and I got the impression they were much higher than they really are.

"Last year the divorce settlements aside from alimony totaled $645,268, the year before $839,164, and in 1925 $231,124. These may seem large amounts, but when divided among the women involved they averaged $2,-196.65 last year, $4,195.80 in 1926, and $2,141.08 in 1925. If the recipients cared to spend their settlements in one year the average per month in 1927 was $178.05, in 1926 $349.65, and in 1925 $178.42.

"Out of the total of 3,301 persons who received divorces in the Circuit court last year 648 were allowed alimony and 302 obtained settlements, a total of 950, or a little less than 29 per cent.

Much the Same in 1926.

"In 1926 the Circuit court divorces numbered only 2,285. Of these 459 obtained alimony and 200 received settlements—a total of 659, or again less than 29 per cent. In 1925 the per cent was nearer 28 than 29.

"Sometimes you read in the newspapers about the remarkably short time in which a divorce was obtained, but those are the exceptions. It usually takes between four and five months from the time the bill is filed until the decree is granted or refused. In 1925 the average time in the Circuit court was four months and ten days. In 1926 it was four months and eleven days, while this year it has been cut down to four months and two days."

$150 and Watch Too Little, So Robbers Slug Victim

Alexander Katz, 830 Lakeside place, proprietor of a barber shop at 1036 Leland avenue, was robbed of $150 and his watch valued at $75, then slugged late last night. He was stopped by two men in front of his home.

"Take what I have but don't get rough with me," Katz pleaded, but one robber struck him with a revolver butt, cutting his head. They fled in an auto.

MUCH OF ENGLAND IS UNDER WATER; FACES NEW THAW

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Half of England is under water according to the latest survey of the flood areas. The Thames rose twenty-seven inches at certain points yesterday and sections of the river are completely closed to traffic. The upland snows have not yet melted, and a further thaw, with possible rain, would bring disastrous results.

Dartford in Kent was hit hard when the Darent river overflowed and swamped thoroughfares. Water swept through many houses.

The city of Guildford's water works are completely flooded, and the pumps will not function. Other districts, where the floods are subsiding, are covered with a layer of mud and wreckage.

DOG BITES THREE, FLAT DWELLERS FLEE TO STREET

A pet Airedale dog, suddenly gone mad, drove out the inmates of a flat last night after it had biten three persons. Until Patrolman Patrick O'Shea arrived from the Maxwell station and shot the dog to death it had complete possession of the place. Those injured were John Zelinski, 39, tenant in the flat; Alex Pedro, 49, a roomer, and Michael Borkowski, 42, all of 1432 South Sangamon street. Their wounds were treated by Dr. W. Simkin, 601 West Roosevelt road, who ordered them to undergo preventive treatment for rabies at the Iroquois hospital.

Albany Park police are anxious to have seven of ten people bitten by a dog in their district recently seek medical treatment at once. Sergt. James Burke, who shot the animal, had the head examined and it was learned yesterday that it had been affected with rabies. The other three who reported being bitten gave their names and they have been advised to take preventative steps against hydrophobia. They are Robert Gepner, 8, of 4045 School street; Ruth Christensen, 33, of 4109 North Kedvale avenue, and Robert Spokes, 24, of 4102 Irving Park boulevard.

Creamery Plant Bombed Second Time; Loss $3,000

For the second time within recent months the Independent Creamery company, 2158 West Grand avenue, was wrecked by a bomb when one was exploded early this morning in the front entrance. The damage to the one story structure and contents was estimated at about $3,000. According to Sergts. Louis Frank and George Leahey of the West North avenue station, the owners, Isaac Lebedow and Ben Margolin, disclaimed knowing any reason for the blast.

Gang Bullets Again Riddle the Aiello Brothers' Bakery

Two men, one with pistols and the other with a sawed-off shotgun, last evening again shot up the bakery of the Aiello brothers, gang leaders, at 473 West Division street, which was raked with 200 machine gun bullets last May 28, thereby presenting the police with a deep problem.

Whether it is the forerunner of a new outbreak of bitter gang warfare or the result of factional strife in the powerful Uniana Siciliana, which has cloaked in mystery the taking off of many of its ambitious members, were questions which puzzled police.

Gangsters "Out of Town."

Investigation elicited little information except that the chief gangsters all were reported to be out of town. Police, therefore, inclined to the opinion that it did not seem like a flareup of the bitter battle for privileges in booze, vice, and gambling which has been waged for months.

Scarface Al Capone, Chicago's king of gangsters, was out of town. So was his ally, Tony Lombardo, moving power in the Uniana Siciliana, former friend and now bitter enemy of the Aiellos.

The Aiellos—Dominic, Tony, Joseph, and several others—have lately been in hiding also. Police learned that Dominic was back at the bakery for the first time yesterday in several months, and that led to the conjecture that perhaps his return led to the shooting.

The duo who shot up the bakery walked in shortly after dark banging the door behind them, and it is supposed they came to see Dominic. But Dominic had not been at the bakery since 4 o'clock in the afternoon—and whether the two knew this or not, they started shooting as soon as they entered.

Empty Guns on Plaster.

The gunman with a brace of revolvers fired a dozen shots into the walls and ceiling. The one with the shotgun fired two charges in quick succession into the wall at a spot where Dominic usually stands when he is in his place of business.

As the shooting started, Tony Zangara, a baker who was in the rear of the place, had started toward the front to meet those whom he had heard enter. He dropped behind a counter in full sight of the two assailants, but no attempt was made to shoot him.

The men, after firing all the charges out of their guns, dropped the weapons and fled.

A Main 1313 call to the police at once brought several detective bureau squads to the scene, but they found only the holes in the walls and Zangara and Dominic Aiello's young wife, Grace, and their three little girls, frightened and bewildered.

Seen as Blow at Trade.

Deputy Chief of Detectives Michael Grady, who examined the place, said he believed the shooting was done by business enemies of Dominic bent on ruining his trade.

"If they wanted to shoot any one," Grady said, "they would have run behind the counter and fired at whoever was there."

A split between the Aiello brothers and Lombardo some time back saw the former allying themselves with the Bertsche-Zuta-Skidmore syndicate for whisky, vice, and gambling control on the west side. Lombardo threw his lot with the powerful enemy syndicate controlled by Capone—and a number of clashes followed.

Attacks on Strongholds.

Machine gun nests were found planted apparently to kill both Lombardo and Capone. This followed the machine gunning of the Aiello bakery in May. A stronghold of the Bertsche-Skidmore-Zuta-Aiello mob at 823 West Adams street was bombed, and more recently the Zuta syndicate's Newport hotel, on Madison street near Western avenue, was considerably damaged by a dynamite bomb.

CHIEF, O'CONNOR, SUED BY SALTIS, DEFY GANGSTERS

Will Continue Drive to Wipe Out Hoodlums.

Neither a $100,000 damage suit filed yesterday afternoon by Joe Saltis, gang leader, against Chief of Police Hughes, Chief of Detectives O'Connor and fourteen other members of the department, nor the fact that Municipal Judge Howard Hayes yesterday released several men with the comment that the police had no right to "arrest them on suspicion," will stop the police from "picking up" known criminals and gangsters on sight, the chief of detectives said last night.

Both Saltis' suit and Judge Hayes' statement met with defiance on the part of Chief O'Connor.

"Saltis and his suit be damned!" said the head of the detective bureau. "We'll pick him up every time we see him and give him plenty of chance to file some more suits."

Calls It Just Opinion.

"Judge Hayes' statement?" said Deputy Chief of Detectives Michael Grady. "Well, that's merely the judge's opinion—and that's all it means."

Saltis in his suit charged that the police kidnaped him on two recent occasions, holding him captive an aggregate of some sixty hours, and that they attempted to kidnap him several other times.

The gangster and beer runner gave the details of the alleged kidnapings and added that he is a business man and has assets totaling $150,000 above his debts.

Order Drive on Gangs.

"Business man, eh?" said Chief O'Connor, and then he at once ordered his 106 detective bureau squad leaders into meeting at the Desplaines street station and told them to go after the gangsters, Saltis included, all the harder.

Many Motorists Found Ignoring Traffic Light Signals in All Parts of City

A light truck, bearing Illinois license 120-093, 1927, approached the intersection of Sheridan road and Broadway at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. It was driven at a speed of about 30 miles an hour over the ice covered street. The green traffic light changed to amber, then red, while the truck was still 30 feet from the corner.

The driver did not diminish his speed. The truck skidded as it curved right into Broadway, narrowly missing a woman pushing a baby carriage who, after glancing at the traffic lights, had started to cross. A policeman, standing on the northwest corner, had his back turned.

This was only one example of a widespread disregard of stop and go lights shown by Chicago motorists yesterday. A TRIBUNE reporter and photographer toured the north, west, and south sides and observed a dozen traffic law violations, any one of which might have resulted in accidents.

Take License Number.

When a driver was seen violating a traffic rule the reporter noted his license number and the photographer endeavored to make a photograph of the license plate. No attention was paid to violators of the parking laws.

Various traffic laws were ignored, but beating the stop lights seemed to be the chief violation. This practice was made particularly dangerous because of the ice covered condition of the streets. Motorcycle policemen were unable to be abroad because of the ice. There were only a few motorcycles with side cars attached which could safely patrol the boulevards.

Traffic, except on the double lane drives leading to the south and north sides, moved along at a rate varying from twenty-five to thirty-five miles an hour, because of the slippery streets. On the new outer drives the speed was close to forty miles an hour. However, no speeding which could be termed reckless was noticed.

Mud on License Plates.

Notation of license numbers was handicaped because of the dirty condition of 1927 plates. On the tour of the west side a number of cars were observed cutting into Washington boulevard without stopping. One car, bearing Illinois license 1-030-349, 1927, drove across the boulevard in front of a number of cars without the semblance of stopping at the stop signs. License numbers of others who followed the same practice could not be clearly discerned.

At Ogden avenue and Washington boulevard the green lights were set for Washington boulevard traffic, but the clanging of a fire engine was heard. Most of the cars slowed down and pulled over to the side of the street. One automobile, bearing Illinois license 684-662, 1927, proceeded, without stopping, west in the boulevard, and cut across the front of the fire truck, narrowly avoiding a collision.

Other Violations Noted.

After noting the incident described in the first two paragraphs, the reporter and photographer parked their automobile at Sheridan road and Broadway and watched for five minutes. In that space of time approximately 100 automobiles in Sheridan road passed the intersection.

None of the cars slowed down to ten miles an hour, as required by law for automobiles crossing a street car line. A motor coach swept through the red stop lights. A Yellow cab driver applied his brakes after the light had changed to red and skidded into the middle of the street. He then backed up.

The peculiar behavior of an automobile driving north in Sheridan road near Wilson avenue attracted the attention of the observers. The driver would loaf along at a speed of 15 miles an hour, heedless of shrieking horns behind him, and then speed for short intervals. His license number, Illinois 1-109-075, 1927, was noted when he coolly drove through a red stop light at Wilson avenue.

Romance Is Halted.

In the 4900 block on Sheridan road, the driver stopped and waved to a young woman on the sidewalk. She approached the car and stepped in. Then the photographer was seen taking a picture of the license plate. Romance was suddenly dissipated and the young woman stepped out of the car and hurried away. The driver loafed no longer.

At Granville avenue and Broadway a woman driver stopped for a red light. After a moment, apparently impatient because there was no traffic flowing in the other direction, she started up and drove through the lights. Her automobile bore Illinois license 1-049-992, 1927.

At Leland avenue and Sheridan road another motor coach sped through the stop lights. The coaches, as a rule, attempted to beat the lights, it was noted, because there were usually passengers waiting on the opposite corner.

Traffic Fast on South Side.

In the drive to the south side traffic was swifter than on any other road in the city, it was observed. There seemed to be no danger, despite the slippery condition of the streets, because of the width of the roadway. A youth in a roadster with a young woman companion was noticed cutting in and out of traffic at a speed well above 40 miles an hour. His automobile bore Illinois license 568-601, 1927.

Another roadster, bearing Illinois license 5366, 1927, shot into the boulevard at 35th street just as the lights changed.

ARREST MOVIE SCHOOL HEAD; CHARGE FRAUDS

Harry Keaton, accused by Chicago victims of fraudulently obtaining $1,800 through promotion of a school for persons wishing to become movie actors, was arrested yesterday in Los Angeles, it was learned last night.

The complainants said Keaton's first question when they appeared at his studio, 20 East Huron street, was an inquiry about how much money they could obtain.

Fourth Day of Year Sees No Automobile Fatality

The fourth day of 1928 passed yesterday without an automobile fatality in Cook county. The toll for the first four days of 1928 remained at five.

U. S. MARINES IN NICARAGUA FORT WATCH WILY FOE

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 4.—(AP)—American marines and Nicaraguan national guardsmen holding the town of Quilali, won at the cost of six American lives, with many other Yankees wounded, are on the lookout for an attack by the rebel general Augustino Sandino, who is believed to be awaiting a favorable opportunity.

Particular care is being taken to prevent a surprise attack on marine patrols, pack trains, and reinforcements which are being sent daily from Ocotal, which is the distribution center supplying Quilali and the rest of the embattled region.

The very quiet of the situation has put the marines on guard since there have been no indications of rebel movement since the marines lost one man killed and five wounded in a counter attack Sunday.

Sandino Forms Republic.

Gen. Sandino is understood to have established a republic in Nueva Segovia after other liberal generals laid down their arms in compliance with an agreement negotiated by Col. Henry L. Stimson, President Coolidge's personal envoy. He is said to have changed the name of San Fernando to Sandino, coined some money, and established prohibition in territory under his control. The penalty for selling liquor was prescribed as death for a man and burning of her property for a woman.

Gen. Sandino refused to accept the Stimson pact at the time Gen. Jose Maria Moncada, liberal leader, and others laid down their arms, as he maintained the liberals had been forced by the United States to sign it. He fled to Nueva Segovia and began committing depredations which won for him the name of bandit and assassin even from members of his own party.

He has, however, a following among the uneducated peons, who consider him a hero for defying the Nicaraguan government and the United States forces. Among these sympathizers there is secret rejoicing when Gen. Sandino is reported to have killed any marine or government troops.

U. S. Forces Rushed South.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—(AP)—As plans went forward with dispatch today for rushing 1,000 additional marines to Nicaragua to reinforce the 1,400 now on the ground, the navy department announced that 200 more marines and several hundred bluejackets either were on the scene or proceeding to the troubled country to be used if the need arose.

The cruiser Rochester, flagship of Rear Admiral Sellers, commanding the American fleet in Central American waters, and the Tulsa are on the way from Balboa, Canal Zone, to Corinto with reinforcements. The Denver is already at Puerto Cabezas, former seat of the Sacasa Liberal government, with fourteen officers, 280 bluejackets, and fifty-eight marines.

The Rochester carries forty-three officers, 500 bluejackets, and ninety-eight marines. In addition she is carrying fifty-two marines from the Galveston, which is remaining at Balboa. The Tulsa carries eleven officers, 154 enlisted men, and twenty-six marines.

More Marines Sail Monday.

The navy department ordered all ships to proceed to ports of embarkation today, while marine forces were ordered to make ready to sail by Jan. 9.

In addition to the ships already in Central American waters, the mine sweeper Oglala, formerly the Shawmut, has been ordered to Hampton Roads, Va., where it will embark about 425 marines and 20 officers. The light cruisers Trenton, Milwaukee, and Raleigh will sail from Charleston, S. C., carrying 250 men and 10 officers.

The submarine tender Argonne will sail from San Diego with a battalion of marines. Ammunition and supplies for the detachment will be sent from the same port on the ammunition ship Nitro.

Organize West Coast Battalion.

San Diego, Cal., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Orders to organize three infantry companies, a machine gun and howitzer company, and a battalion headquarters, and to dispatch this battalion to Nicaragua from San Diego on the submarine tender Argonne not later than Jan. 9, were received from Washington today by Col. Charles Lyman, commander of the marine base.

Original orders for a marine corps detachment of 100 men to sail next Saturday on the transport Henderson for Hawaii, were canceled and instead it will go to Nicaragua on the Argonne. Orders sending eight marine corps officers to China on the Henderson also were revoked and the officers were ordered to Central America.

Col. Lyman said the marines who have been ordered to sail for China on the Henderson next Saturday will carry out their original instructions. These men, about 400 in number, will go to Shanghai and Tientsin.

8,000 U. S. SOLDIERS GUARD HOLDINGS OF AMERICANS IN CHINA

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—(AP)—American investments in troublous China now total approximately $150,000,000, and to protect them seventeen naval vessels and 8,527 men are stationed along the coast and in principal cities.

This state department information was made public today by a house subcommittee, which reported the department's appropriations bill and published recent hearings, including testimony by Assistant Secretary Carr. The assistant secretary said stable conditions were not yet in sight, but that, despite present conditions, American trade is "surprisingly holding its own." For the first nine months of 1927, American exports to China totaled $82,500,000, a loss of $8,000,000 from the 1926 figure, while Chinese exports to this country gained $22,500,000.

Hit Administration in House, Senate.

Nicaragua which would have warranted the sending of the marines there.

"No one has ever yet cited an instance, so far as I know, when the life of any American citizen was in danger or when the property of any citizen situated in Nicaragua was threatened with destruction," Mr. Garrett said.

Wants Public Informed.

"In view of the turn which affairs have taken in Nicaragua within the last few days, it seems to me it is highly important that the administration, upon whose initiative the action has been taken and war has been waged—because it is war—ought at least to make known to the American people when an American life was in danger or when any item of property which it is or was the duty of the American government to protect, was threatened. If this can be done, perhaps we can get a different perspective upon this question."

Representative Boylan said that the administration policy in Mexico and Central America has been "a series of blunders from start to finish."

"The killing of marines in Nicaragua and the administration's evident intention of carrying on a good sized war without congressional authorization climax a year of administration of foreign affairs that will stand as a stain on our record," he declared.

Calls Policies Inconsistent.

"One year ago President Coolidge and Secretary Kellogg told us that Calles and the Mexican government were fomenting bolshevism below the Rio Grande, inspiring Nicaraguans to jeopardize American interests and American honor.

"But today what do we find? We find Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Kellogg taking Calles to their bosom, though he has shown no sign of repentance for the acts for which Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Kellogg condemned him only a year ago."

STUDY 3 HOURS A DAY AT HOME, IS ADVICE TO PUPILS

A schedule of the amount of home work expected of the average pupil was made public yesterday by William J. Bogan, assistant superintendent of schools, in answer to parents who complained that their children were overburdened with school tasks outside of school hours.

Assignment of school work, after taking into consideration individual differences and capacities, is the work of the teacher, Mr. Bogan pointed out. For that reason, he said, he has asked that high school principals in their next meeting discuss the matter, in an effort to keep home work within reasonable limits.

"In order to make a good record the average student in the last two years of high school should devote at least three hours daily to his work outside school," Mr. Bogan asserted. "The bright student can do the required work in less time."

HONDURAS SHUTS UP SHOP TO HONOR COL. LINDBERGH

Yankee Flyer Will Go to Nicaragua Today.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, Jan. 4.—(AP)—A presidential reception planned for Col. Charles A. Lindbergh today had to be postponed at the last moment because a gold medal intended for the American flyer had not arrived from the United States.

Nevertheless the flying colonel had a full day going from one reception and entertainment to another. Enthusiastic crowds greeted him everywhere. All the stores in Tegucigalpa were closed for the first time in history in order to make the holiday for the Yankee flyer complete.

A reception was held for Col. Lindbergh in the halls of congress in the morning. He was met at the entrance by cabinet members and then sat with Gen. Tiburcio Carias, former minister of the interior; President Miguel Paz Barahona, the president of congress, and Dr. Valladares, president of the Supreme court, while a band played the American national anthem.

Crowned with Laurel Wreath.

Gen. Carias crowned Lindbergh with a laurel wreath in behalf of congress and read a speech to him. Then, accompanied by the three presidents, and other high personages of the diplomatic and official world, the flyer went to the Hondureno club where President Coolidge, President Barahona, and Lindbergh were toasted with champagne.

Afterward there was a reception at the city hall where girls fought each other at the entrance for the privilege of shaking hands with the flyer.

Flies to Managua Today.

The American minister, George T. Summerlin, at a dinner last night, which he gave in honor of Col. Lindbergh, and at which the president of Hondras and the members of his cabinet were present, gave a toast to the president and the country. Foreign Minister Dr. Davilla responded with a toast to the President of the United States. Col. Lindbergh also was toasted and replied with a brief speech.

A torchlight parade, postponed on the first night of the airman's visit on account of rain, took place tonight.

Col. Lindbergh will leave tomorrow morning for his flight to Managua, to pay his respects to the people of Nicaragua, the fifth Central American republic on his list of engagements. The distance to Managua is about 150 miles.

Awaited in Nicaragua.

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Nicaragua awaits the arrival of Col. Lindbergh expectantly. He will reach the capital, it is believed, tomorrow from Tegucigalpa. Days ago houses and streets were decorated lavishly with flags and bunting. Banners are flying bearing all kinds of inscriptions in tribute to the daring aviator.

There will be thousands at the field to welcome the flyer and many more thousands will cry his praises as he proceeds through the thoroughfares of Managua to meet President Diaz and later as he proceeds to the national palace. The school children of Nicaragua are prepared to give their favorite hero as enthusiastic a welcome as he has had in any of the other republics. They will gather at the flying field and sing for him — "The Star Spangled Banner" and their own national anthem. Bands will blare forth their music in unison and flowers will carpet the way as he passes through the lines of children in company with the reception committee.

Urges Lindy Air Beacon on Heightened City Hall

Location of the proposed aircraft beacon light, a memorial to Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, on the roof of the city-county building when it is remodeled, was proposed yesterday by Building Commissioner Christian Paschen. Mr. Paschen is a member of a special commission appointed by Mayor Thompson to study the advisability of making a skyscraper of the building and renting out store and office space on the lower floors.

McAndrew Is Accused of Playing Politics; Trial Goes On Though His Term Nears End

Although an avowed enemy of politics in the schools, William McAndrew, suspended superintendent now on trial before the school board, himself played a little politics with the school machinery, it was stated yesterday by witnesses at the trial.

The testimony indicated that during the recent mayoralty campaign when William E. Dever and William Hale Thompson were in battle, Mr. McAndrew caused a pamphlet praising Dever to be written, printed, and distributed, all at school expense.

Principals Condemn Him.

The day's hearing was also featured by a procession of school principals to the witness stand. Most of them condemned the methods of their former superintendent. A few accused him of dishonesty in attempting by false methods to establish the Chicago schools under a high rating. One principal, Miss Olga M. Riggs of the Knickerbocker school, said Mr. McAndrew was rude, profane, boisterous, slangy, undignified, and injudicial.

During the session Trustee Helen Hefferan made an attempt to end the trial by moving that the board proceed to a vote on the charges against Mr. McAndrew. President J. Lewis Coath overruled the motion.

"This trial will continue until all the evidence is heard," Mr. Coath said. "We want to be courteous to everybody."

With the end of yesterday's session the trial becomes more than ever a useless proceeding, it was pointed out for Mr. McAndrew's term expires next Monday and there will be no further hearing until Tuesday. President Coath declared the ousted superintendent's successor will be appointed at once, and so the school board will be conducting the trial of a superintendent who is in fact already out of office.

Report Trial to Be Dropped.

Despite Mr. Coath's statement that the trial will continue until all witnesses have been heard, rumors persisted that it will be abandoned; that Mr. McAndrew will be paid the $5,000 salary due him and then bade goodby. It would be a cheaper procedure, observers pointed out, than to fight the matter through the courts, as McAndrew's attorneys have announced they intend to do. But some said that by dropping the trial Coath and the other pro-Thompson and anti-King George members of the board would be conceding their cause was a lost one, and that they had triumphed by trickery.

Efforts were made at yesterday's hearing to obtain testimony from Allen B. Pond and Mrs. John D. McCune, members of the English Speaking union and leaders in citizens' committees, which have been formed to investigate school affairs and to defend McAndrew.

Coath Waxes Sarcastic.

Both were notified by Frank S. Righeimer, school board counsel, to appear, but neither was present. President Coath, who on a previous occasion expressed a desire to "pull Old Lady Pond's whiskers and pour milk down his shirt," waxed sarcastic on the absence of Mr. Pond.

Several times during the proceedings Mr. Coath asked in a slow drawl, "Is Mr. Allen B. Pond in the room?" And finally he added, "Won't the ground hog come out of his hole?"

Mr. Pond had declared that he would not dignify the farcical school board trial with his presence.

Former Secretary Testifies.

Attorney Righeimer started the testimony on Mr. McAndrew's alleged playing of politics by putting the latter's former secretary, Miss Mae McDermott, on the witness stand. She was shown a typewritten statement, and identified it as having been written by herself after the contents were dictated by Supt. McAndrew.

"Are you sure Mr. McAndrew dictated all of it?" Mr. Righeimer asked.

"Yes, sir."

Then the lawyer turned to the end of the statement, which was a long song of praises of the Dever régime on the school board, and a criticism of the previous—Thompson—administration, and notified the trustees that the document was signed as having been written by Mrs. McCune. Mrs. McCune was not even present when Mr. McAndrew dictated the statement, Miss McDermott testified.

The witness said she had made six copies of the document, and sent one each to Mr. Pond, to Francis X. Busch, then corporation counsel, and to Charles M. Moderwell, former president of the school board. They were to give their approval, Miss McDermott said.

"Who is this McCune person who was supposed to have written this political pamphlet?" President Coath asked.

"She was chairman of the educational committee of the Women's City club during the campaign, and she is now a member of the committees which have appointed themselves to investigate the school board," Attorney Righeimer declared.

School Printer on Stand.

Then Julius Plum, head of the school printing department, testified he had been ordered to print 450 of the pamphlets and that he delivered them to the superintendent's office. Charles E. Gilbert, secretary of the school board, testified he had sent the pamphlet to all principals of Chicago schools. Enclosed with the pamphlet, Attorney Righeimer brought out, was a letter signed by Supt. McAndrew in which he pointed out how a "distinguished outsider" had shown appreciation "of our efforts."

James E. Armstrong, retired principal and former assistant superintendent of schools, testified that not in the forty-three years he was associated with the Chicago system did he ever hear "of political activity such as this by a superintendent of schools."

Then began the procession of school principals. Those who were questioned on the subject of the "100 per cent tests" conducted by Supt. McAndrew declared they were worthless from an educational standpoint and that they brought unrest and worries to students and teachers.

HEARST MEXICAN PAPERS FORGED, EXPERTS TESTIFY

Plot Charges Discredited by Senate Inquiry.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—The senate's investigation into the authenticity of the Mexican documents recently published in Hearst newspapers and purporting to show, among other things, a Calles administration scheme to bribe United States senators, came to a climax today when handwriting experts employed by William Randolph Hearst himself pronounced the papers spurious.

The submission of the experts' reports, the sweeping denial of James R. Sheffield, former ambassador to Mexico, that the embassy had purchased or considered purchasing similar documents, and the conflicting testimony of Miguel Avila, the half-breed Mexican who procured the papers for Hearst, practically concluded the commission's investigation. A report of its findings probably will be made when the committee meets again on Friday.

Ordered Not to Buy.

Mr. Sheffield asserted that his embassy staff had positive orders against purchasing any documents and that when John Page, the Hearst reporter, under whose name the documents were published, appeared at the embassy with papers alleged to be ledger sheets extracted from Mexican government records, he was told the embassy was not interested.

The former ambassador declared he told Page that the sheets purporting to show the transfer of $1,200,000 from the Mexican treasury to New York for distribution to Senators Borah, La Follette, Norris, and Heflin were undoubtedly forgeries and that it was unthinkable that any United States senator would accept money from any foreign government.

Tells of La Follette eLtter.

David E. Smiley, general manager of the North American Newspaper Alliance and former editor in chief of the Philadelphia Public Ledger, said that Page, then working for the Ledger, produced a copy of a letter supposed to have been written by Senator La Follette to President Calles assuring the latter that a small group in the senate would prevent any move toward American interference in Mexican affairs.

"Where did you get that letter?" Senator Johnson [Rep., Cal.], acting chairman of the committee, demanded of Page, who was sitting nearby.

Mexican Is Grilled.

Avila, recalled to the witness stand, was severely grilled by Senators Johnson and Robinson [Dem., Ark.], who indicated by their questions that they were in possession of new information concerning the man's past. Senator Johnson produced a photostatic copy of a Mexican passport issued to Avila, but the latter insisted that he is an American citizen, born in Texas, and that the Mexican passport was used for protection when he operated in Mexico as a civilian agent of the American military intelligence unit.

"Do you know Robert Kuhn?" asked the senator. "No," answered Avila.

Ordered to Return.

"Didn't you sell some documents to the Mexican consul there, the documents purporting to have been executed by American officials?" asked Senator Robinson. "No," answered Avila, who was finally excused with a warning that he must return before the committee on Friday.

Elbridge W. Stein and J. Fordyce Wood, handwriting experts, who were employed by Hearst to test the validity of the documents, agreed in their reports that the papers were obviously forgeries. Many of the papers, they asserted, although they purported to have come from widely separated offices, were undoubtedly written on the same typewriter.

There can be no doubt, after a comparison of the signatures of President Calles on file in the state department with those on the Hearst documents purporting to be his, that the latter are forgeries, according to the experts.

GETS DIVORCE

Mrs. Wilma Childers of the Rogers Park hotel told Superior Judge Joseph Sabath yesterday that she lost her heart to the army uniform worn by her husband, Fred A. Childers, a salesman, while he courted her shortly after the world war, but she was disillusioned when he donned civilian clothes. Their romance broken, he was cruel to her, she testified, responding to questions by her attorney, Benjamin Piser. She was granted a divorce.

Acquit Five Youths on Charge of Attacking Girl

Five young men charged with attacking a 20 year old girl were acquitted by a jury yesterday in Judge Harry B. Miller's Criminal court. The girl charged that she was picked up on Sept. 28 by Joseph Papa, alias Pape, and taken by him in his machine to a deserted barn and attacked by Pape, John Truppa, Frank La Mont, Dominick Valentino and George Lawrie. Attorney W. W. O'Brien for the defense disputed the story told by the girl and showed that she had given several different versions of the affair to various officials.

MEXICO TO SELL RAILROAD, BANK TO WALL ST. MEN

Plans Vast Deal to Aid Finances of Nation.

BY JOHN CORNYN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 4.—The international bankers in New York have accepted in general the propositions made by Mexico regarding the readjustment of payment of interest on the national foreign debt, according to wires sent to the government by two Mexican financial agents in New York who are treating with the bankers.

By the new agreement, it was stated semi-officially, Mexico's yearly debt payment will be reduced from 117,000,000 pesos ($58,500,000) to 20,000,000 pesos ($10,000,000). The most interesting part of the statement is that this reduction will be made by separating the Mexican National railway obligations from the national debt.

This can be done, apparently, only by the government unloading the railways, which have been a load on the back of the "old man of the sea" since 1912, when the revolution disrupted the whole railway system of the nation. Even during the latter days of the Diaz régime the railways, with all the financial genius of Finance Minister Limantour behind them, scarcely paid expenses.

Canadians Bid for Lines.

The foreshadowed disposal by the government of its 51 per cent interest in the 13,000 miles of national railways brings to the fore again the oft repeated statement that the Canadian National lines, backed by Wall street capital, had made a bid for control of the Mexican National lines with a view to linking them with the Canadian lines and with the great American systems, thus making a Canadian-American controlled system for the three countries.

What gives color to the story of the prospective disposal of the national railways of Mexico is the statement that the Mexican government, though in financial straits, will make the final payment on last year's foreign debt this month. In order to effect this payment it was necessary to make retrenchments in government expenses all along the line and dismiss many hundreds of government employés.

It was asserted today that the Bank of Mexico, government owned, figures in the deal being made in New York for the readjustment of Mexico's international debts. New York capitalists will be given control of the bank.

Demand Protection Against Reds.

The government is anxious to finance railways, agricultural lands and irrigation, and, incidentally, strengthen Mexico's credit at home and abroad. Bankers today maintained this could best be done by giving control of the Bank of Mexico to New York banking interests and unloading the railways.

It was asserted that the international bankers have demanded assurances of protection against the irresponsible labor organization which has been making trouble for the Mexican government and railways simultaneously for ten years, and also guarantees that if the red labor crew was ousted from control of the labor organization of the railways the Mexican Federation of Labor would not oppose extensive and radical reorganization of the national lines.

Incidentally, it was stated today, but not confirmed, that Luis Morones, minister of industry, commerce and labor, would resign from the Calles cabinet and go to Europe on an important mission for the government before the end of the month.

Bruce Lets Bottle of Madeira Plead for Modified Dry Law

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—A memorial following the constitutional form prescribed for petitions to congress and in the name of "bottle of fine old Madeira," praying for modification of the Volstead act to legalize beer and light wines, was submitted to the senate today by Senator William C. Bruce [Dem., Md.].

In the language of a citizen complaining of a wrong and demanding redress from congress, the petition denounced prohibition as a damnable policy "ratified in an hour of hysteria, brought about by the overstrained feelings of the world war and of political fears and hopes produced by the enormous sums of money expended by the Anti-Saloon league in browbeating or bribing legislators and other candidates."

Alluring Even to a Dry.

Pleading its own case, "a bottle of fine old Madeira," asserted "your memorialist respectfully represents: That it is wine of high repute, derived from an ancient vintage . . . and even that rare individual, a sincere and consistent prohibitionist, could not be safely trusted to resist its alurements."

The petition continued that "your memorialist" is "conscious of no wrongdoing with which it can be justly reproached," and pointed out that "wine has been drunk form time immemorial" and that "nothing in the whole range of physical enjoyment has a larger share of innocent human happiness to its credit than wine."

An Eloquent Bottle.

"A bottle of fine old Madeira" disavowed the excesses of "the vulgarian or beast who is so ungrateful as to forget the benefit that it bestows upon "human beings when not abused" and continued that "the number of persons who cannot drink wine, except immoderately, is but a small percentage of the whole . . . that is the grossest absurdity and injustice for such weakness to be made the occasion for depriving millions of human beings, who can use wine moderately, of a legitimate privilege which they highly prize."

"Wherefore, your memorialist prays," the petition concludes, "that this honorable body unite with the house of representatives in taking such steps as will speedily bring to an end the vile tyranny that seeks to work its utter ruin and will restore it to the honored place that it had in the social life of the United States before national prohibition established its odious régime of hypocrisy, perfidy, general disrespect for law, political corruption, and bloodshed."

Chronic Alcoholism Kills 770 in New York in 1927

New York, Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Dr. Louis I. Harris, health commissioner, made public figures today showing that 770 persons had died of chronic alcoholism in 1927, the highest figure since prohibition came into effect.

READ 'EM AND WEEP.

Arthur E. Gorman has been suspended from his position as chief sanitary engineer for Chicago. At this writing the charges against him have not been revealed. Presumably he has been dismissed because the water throughout the city and particularly on the south side last week was not as palatable as usual. Hundreds and perhaps thousands of complaints were received at the city hall and Mr. Gorman has been thrown to the lions.

Mr. Gorman came to the city from the United States public health service, where he had made a distinguished record. He arrived four years ago, after an outbreak of typhoid fever on the south side. The epidemic resulted from a contaminated water supply. Mr. Gorman was retained to prevent a repetition of the epidemic. There has been no repetition. Chicago's typhoid rate is now the lowest in the world. Last June, in recognition of "the most distinguished contribution of the year to sanitary and waterworks engineering," Mr. Gorman was awarded the John M. Diven memorial medal by the American Waterworks association. The association speaks the judgment of waterworks engineers in some 10,000 American communities on Mr. Gorman's character and attainments.

Mr. Gorman is just 35 years old. His career is before him. Not he but Chicago is the principal loser by his suspension. He follows McAndrew, an educator of national repute, and Bundesen, who in October was honored with the presidency of the American Public Health association. Bundesen remained health commissioner only two months longer. Gorman got his medal six months ago. If there is logic in events, these three dismissals can mean only that the present administration does not recognize competence even in the education of the children and the protection of health.

The circumstances which immediately preceded Mr. Gorman's removal are illuminating. For several days there had been a southeast gale. Less than four miles from the intakes for almost all the south side's water is the mouth of the Calumet river. This river empties into Lake Michigan. Its waters bear industrial and domestic wastes from several of the Calumet towns. Farther down the shore are other industrial towns which likewise empty their sewage into the lake.

The industrial wastes give the water an evil flavor. They contain, among other chemicals, carbolic acid, which tastes bad, even though it is not present in quantity sufficient to injure health. Far more dangerous, though tasteless, are the disease bacteria. To kill them, Mr. Gorman ordered a considerable increase in the amount of chlorine dissolved in the water, which rendered it even less palatable. If the chlorine content had not been increased the water might have tasted better, but it would have carried the danger of typhoid into every home. Accordingly, the indignation of the householders had about it a touch of the ridiculous. They were enraged at the water department because it was taking the only means at its disposal, with present equipment, to save these same householders and their children from typhoid fever and associated ailments.

The householders had a just cause for complaint, to be sure. The Calumet towns should have been obliged years ago to dispose of their wastes without endangering the health and comfort of Chicago's millions. As a matter of fact, progress has been made in that direction since Mr. Gorman entered the city's service. Most of the towns to the south and east of Chicago have now agreed, in principle, to cease polluting Lake Michigan and they have been hastened in their decisions by the orders of the state department of health in Indiana. Presumably, within a few years, some progress will be made. Meanwhile, every southeast gale is a menace to be met only by dumping chlorine into the water in extraordinary amounts.

Most of the complaints appear to have been directed to Dr. Kegel, the new and hitherto untried commissioner of health. They swept him off his feet. Though Mr. Gorman is an employé of the department of public works and not the health department, it was Dr. Kegel who announced the suspension on Saturday. Mr. Gorman's superior, Commissioner Wolfe of the department of public works, blew alternately hot and cold until Tuesday, when, instead of backing up his own man, who was obviously in the right, he yielded and ordered a dismissal dictated by the head of another department.

A straight-shooting city administration and a health commissioner who realized that no small part of his task is educational would have seized the occasion to drive home the facts regarding the Calumet wastes and at the same time demonstrate the need for filtration plants. Present equipment removes from the water nothing but the fish. In stormy weather the water is frequently murky, as unpleasant to the eye as chlorine and phenol are to the palate. Filtration plants are needed to remove sediment which is unsightly and bacteria which are menacing. With filtration plants in operation the drinking supply would be crystal clear and the amount of chlorine required as a safeguard could be materially reduced, regardless of wind and weather. The filtration plants will be costly and one job of the health commissioner is to create a public opinion which will not only approve, but demand, the expenditure. Dr. Kegel allowed a brilliant opportunity for constructive education to elude him.

THE CANDIDACY OF AL SMITH.

Al Smith's candidacy for the Democratic nomination for President has its own particular and peculiar interest not so much because he is a wet but because he is a Roman Catholic. It disturbs a great many people to consider the fact that in this country in which religious tolerance is supposed to be a basic principle there can be an issue of disqualification on the score of religion. There is a more general agreement that this ought not to be than there is a general denial that it will not be.

People know that if Smith were nominated the issue would be there and some of the voting would have motives which it is agreed should not enter political action and which nevertheless do enter it. But the situation has its other side. It is not a certainty that Smith is barred out as the possible Democratic nominee because of his religion. He may be nominated. He is regarded at this time as the most likely candidate. His party managers see certain state and sectional benefits regardless of whether he could be elected. He would strengthen party tickets in many places and there give the party the enjoyment of offices and control.

Religion is less a bar to Al Smith's attainment of high place and preëminence in government here than it would be in other countries. Conformity to the religion of the majority is mandatory in some and hardly avoidable in others. The succession to the British throne must be Protestant. Jews have had cabinet place and a great prime minister was a Jew and a lord chief justice was a Jew, but Al Smith as a Roman Catholic can put wider bounds to his political ambition in the United States than he could in Great Britain. He would have more chance of being elected President than he would have of being the British prime minister.

States in which the population is predominately Protestant have elected Roman Catholic governors. Illinois did when Dunne was elected. Metropolitan electorates seldom make religion a turning point. There is a tolerance in political action. It is not perfect. The issue can be aggravated, but there are as many notable displays of tolerance as there are of prejudice.

ANDORRA IS ANGRY.

Another national minority is in distress. Spain has sent a Castilian postal administrator to the republic of Andorra. It is, say the Andorrans, the climax to a train of bullying and nagging by their big neighbor. They have sent delegates to ask France to step in and say something at Madrid that will make Spain behave, but not make Spain so angry that it will stop a bit of smuggling over the Andorran-Spanish border.

On the map Andorra is a dot of color among the Pyrenees about eighty miles west of the Mediterranean and lying between the French department of Ariege and the Spanish province of Lerida. It is one of the famous midget nations of the world. In population it is the smallest, numbering some 5,200 souls. In area it is fourth smallest, containing 191 square miles, Monaco, Liechtenstein, and San Marino alone being smaller. And next to San Marino, which claims to have been founded in the fourth century, Andorra is the world's oldest republic, for it received its independence from Charlemagne in return for helping him against the Moors.

Although under the protection of France and the Spanish bishop of Urgel, Andorra rules itself through a council of twenty-four members, which in turn elects two syndics. France receives an annual tribute of 920 francs and the bishop of Urgel a tribute of 920 pesetas, as well as certain gifts in kind from the six Andorran communes. The raising of cattle, sheep, and mules is the principal industry, but a tobacco factory and a match factory are operated at the capital city, Andorra (pop. 1,000), and these, it is hinted, supply the commerce which crosses the boundary line very unofficially.

France has been sympathetic in maintaining the independent state of Andorra. In looking after its end of the Andorran postal business France always made a point of hiring Andorran mailmen. But Spain went and looked up a forgotten treaty, 300 years old, and on the strength of it sent the haughty uniformed official.

Andorra is angry. Andorra is not a member of the league. And Spain had better watch out.

NOBODY WANTS 'EM.

[The Argus, Rock Island, Ill.]

No country seems to want the trouble makers who represent the Russian soviet.

China's Nationalist government is chasing them out at the point of the bayonet for the part they played in fomenting revolution, and in this process has taken many lives.

In Sweden the Russian propagandists had to apologize for interference. England and France turned the cold shoulder.

Peaceful Switzerland, which always minds its own business, and which is not at all militaristic, has been invaded by these bolshevists who seek to destroy order wherever it reigns. The Russian emissaries are attempting to disintegrate the Swiss national guard.

The preparatory commission of the international disarmament conference at Geneva very properly spurned the fantastic scheme of Russia for total disarmament.

One would think the bolshevists would have let little Switzerland alone as that country has for years followed the policy of arbitrating disputes. The Russian Reds demonstrate their insincerity by tampering with Switzerland.

We grow impatient at our kind as we reflect that Americans of supposed intelligence can be found who are so gullible as to put their faith in the Russian proposals. The soviet is to be judged by its record. That record is full of bloodstained pages. It is a record of deceit and double dealing and hypocrisy.

As long as the majority of the Russian people are willing to tolerate the rule of a minority they must take the consequences. If they want that sort of thing it is their right, we suppose, to have it. But other countries have an equal right to keep it out.

REVERSE EVOLUTION.

The motorist had had an accident with his light car on the Brighton road. He limped painfully to a telephone box and called up the nearest garage.

"Hello," he said, "I've turned turtle. Can you do anything for me?"

"I'm afraid not," came the sweet feminine reply. "You've got the wrong number. What you want is the zoo."—Sporting and Dramatic Yarns.

SLIGHT RESEMBLANCE.

"My boy," said the patronizing man as he handed around the Flor de Toofas, "that's something like a cigar."

ADVICE FOR THOSE WHO GO RABBIT HUNTING.

THE United States public health service has some advice for the boys who go rabbit hunting during this season. They say:

"The hunter should not shoot his rabbits at the point of his gun. Let him be a sportsman and shoot them on the run at 75 yards, say, and the chances will be lessened that the rabbits he bagged will be sick with tularemia.

"Finally, beware of the wild rabbit which the dog or cat has caught, or which a boy has killed with a club—it is probably a sick rabbit."

This advice is based on the wide distribution of tularemia. This disease has been found in every section of the United States except New England, New York, and the contiguous territory. It is probable that it will eventually be found to be present all over the United States and Canada. It seems that wherever rabbits are there tularemia is also.

Furthermore, because of peculiarities of rabbits, ticks and flies, humans are endangered from March of one year until February of the next. It is contracted by handling rabbits and through being bitten by ticks or flies, and when the ticks are not biting, the skinning of rabbits is a popular indoor sport; and when rabbit hunting is no longer in order, the ticks are biting.

Theoretically, the way to pick out a tularemia rabbit is to find white spots scattered throughout the liver. But, unfortunately, market rabbits are likely to be cleaned and dressed and devoid of livers when they are hung up in the markets. In fact, one reason for the frequency of tularemia among market men is the somewhat general practice of cleaning rabbits before placing them on sale.

There are some customers who protect themselves, or think they do, by buying nothing but domestic rabbits.

This story must not cause any one to think that all wild rabbits have tularemia. In examinations of the animals in the markets in several places it was found that more than 99 per cent of the specimens were healthy.

A few words about methods of protection:

"Rabbit dressers can protect themselves by wearing rubber gloves. Most persons who become infected get their infection through wounds and scratches, principally on the hands.

"One attack of the disease confers a lifetime immunity. Therefore, the advisability of having immune persons act as rabbit dressers.

"The cooking temperature kills germs of tularemia. So do the ordinary disinfectants. So does pasteurization. In fact, these germs are killed by temperatures ten degrees lower than those used in pasteurization."

MILK SHAKES NOT FOR BABIES.

L. G. writes: I have been a letter carrier for the last seven years and meet the women folk most of the time, the majority of them young mothers with infants in their baby carriages. There is something I see very often. When the young mother is feeding the baby with a milk bottle she shakes the carriage so much that the baby vomits up the feeding. Many times I have asked a mother if she would enjoy her meal if some one would shake her that way. She felt embarrassed after thinking the matter over.

I am the father of three healthy babies, so I am speaking from past experiences.

REPLY.

When a baby has a mild colic, jolting him mildly while he is held against the shoulder and in some other positions sometimes gives relief. That is the exception. The rule is as stated.

BLISTERS UNDER FEET.

Mrs. G. writes: I am 27 years old and have been suffering for a few months with blisters under my feet. Is it from standing on my feet too long, or some sickness?

REPLY.

The condition is known as pompholyx.

There seem to be two varieties of this disorder. One is a form of ringworm. This is due to infection and is treated somewhat like ringworm elsewhere is treated.

The other variety generally appears in hot weather as the result of overheating. The shoe is a contributing factor.

LEGAL DODGING.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 31.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am a resident of Wisconsin at present, but am desirous of taking up an Illinois residence.

On account of a new position I am to take shortly after the new year I will spend half of my time in Wisconsin and half in Illinois.

It is my intention to legally avoid the Wisconsin income tax and to fulfill all conditions for a legal residence in Illinois. I have a home in Milwaukee which has been turned over to heirs through a quitclaim deed, but the property taxes are still being paid in my name. Will it be necessary to change this?

To determine which state is your state of residence we would have to ascertain many additional facts bearing upon your intention. If a substantial amount is involved we advise you to go over all of the facts in a personal interview with an attorney.

Chicago, Dec. 22.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Three weeks ago I bought a car from a local dealer. He promised to give me the keys for the car later, but he has not done so yet. They also promised to do some repairing on the car, which they have not done. I take it down as they request, but they will bring it back at night saying they were too busy to get at it. I have a thirty day clause in my contract. I am supposed to pay certain amounts to a finance company. Can I refuse to pay them?

Richard: I await with deep interest an explanation from the Old Soak and Oswald. Neither one of these "so-called" gentlemen kept his appointment. In fact, one more similar performance along these lines and I'll propose to somebody else.

OUR LADY OF THE SNOWS

Steadily colder outside—a blue wind shrilling down across the corner of Mount Royal; and all the people in scarlet sweaters, coming back with skis, are frosty-purple around their noses; the public sleighs waggle drunkenly as they round corners, while the drivers sit like stuffed grizzly bears in their heavy brown coats. Up Peel street comes the early tinkle of a hundred gay brass bells, laughing beneath the throats of good, mild horses that pull the little carts on runners.

Maybe you wondered, Dick, where all the horses went—good old Dobbin and Bess and Mollie and Prince, that used to chew hay in the dusty-sour stables of Illinois. And did they go to the horse-heaven? Perhaps. Quite possibly Montreal is a horse-heaven. . . . They are all here.

Sam Reichback gave a party last night. . . . They called it the Nightingale room, but one can count as many crystal ibises on the heavy curtains as there are nightingales, and every single ibis lifts his spangled foot when Jack Denny herds his orchestra into view. No wonder the ibises want to dance. Just think, Dick—there is a great pail of chipped ice right beside your chair, and the waiter draws out a huge pole of a bottle, and it says "Piper Heidsieck" on the label, and the cork suicides in a welter of smoking foam, and then it's all puffing bubbles, weltering up to the rim of a slender stemmed glass and—

COBB HALL.

ED KEEN, whom we knew best if not last in the Philippines, writes us from London that "Surprising as it may seem for a foreigner, I actually got every wheeze in the Linebook except the one on page 26 re the little boy who fell into the water with his hat on. Diagram solicited." Ed, we'll send you no diagram. There's one thing you can't do, and that's explain a joke to an Englishman. If you were listening in over W-G-N the other night, you heard what happened when the story about the threatened shortage in American sirup was explained to one of you. The reason for the threatened shortage was that "the Vermont sap would not run," but after this merry jest had been explained to the Englishman, he told the story to some of his friends the next day, and his version was "Because President Coolidge will not again stand for office." No, no, Ed, we'll send you no diagram of that story on page 26 of the Linebook.

TESTIMONIAL

Of all the world's delusions,
This is the very worst,
That man can go to Heaven
Only if he has a thirst.

It seems the angels revel
In a soul redeemed from sin,
But lift patrician noses
At a whiff of bootleg gin.

THE PHANTOM LOVER.

IT IS a trifle early, yes, but at the same time we've got around the corner, and—oh, well, where are you going on your vacation this year?

MY MOST EMBARRASSING MOMENT

R. H. L.: Two burglars came to Sparta last summer, looked over the situation, and decided upon the fine home of a garage man as a likely place to enter. At 2:45 the lookout stationed himself beside a large elm tree in a park across the street, while the second-story man climbed up the front porch and into a window. He was gone for what seemed to the lookout an interminable period, and finally returned through the window and to the ground, crossed the street, and joined the lookout. "'Ja get anything?" inquired the lookout. "Naw," said the burglar. "Who lives there?" asked the lookout. "Oh, gosh!" answered the burglar, "he's one of these garage men. My dear, I was so embarrassed. Fancy me, a mere burglar, trying to get money out of such. Really, you could have knocked me over with a feather. Oh, quick, dearie, my smelling salts!"

ZELOTUS.

CHIEF OF POLICE HUGHES says very proudly that last year in Chicago 639 arrests were made for every 10,000 of population, while Cleveland made only 620, Pittsburgh 569, Detroit 549, Philadelphia 531, and New York 354. We are pleased, indeed, that more of our citizens are pinched per the 10,000 than any of our rival commonwealths, and let us all look forward when the arrests in Chicago will reach the perfect score, 10,000 of every 10,000 population.

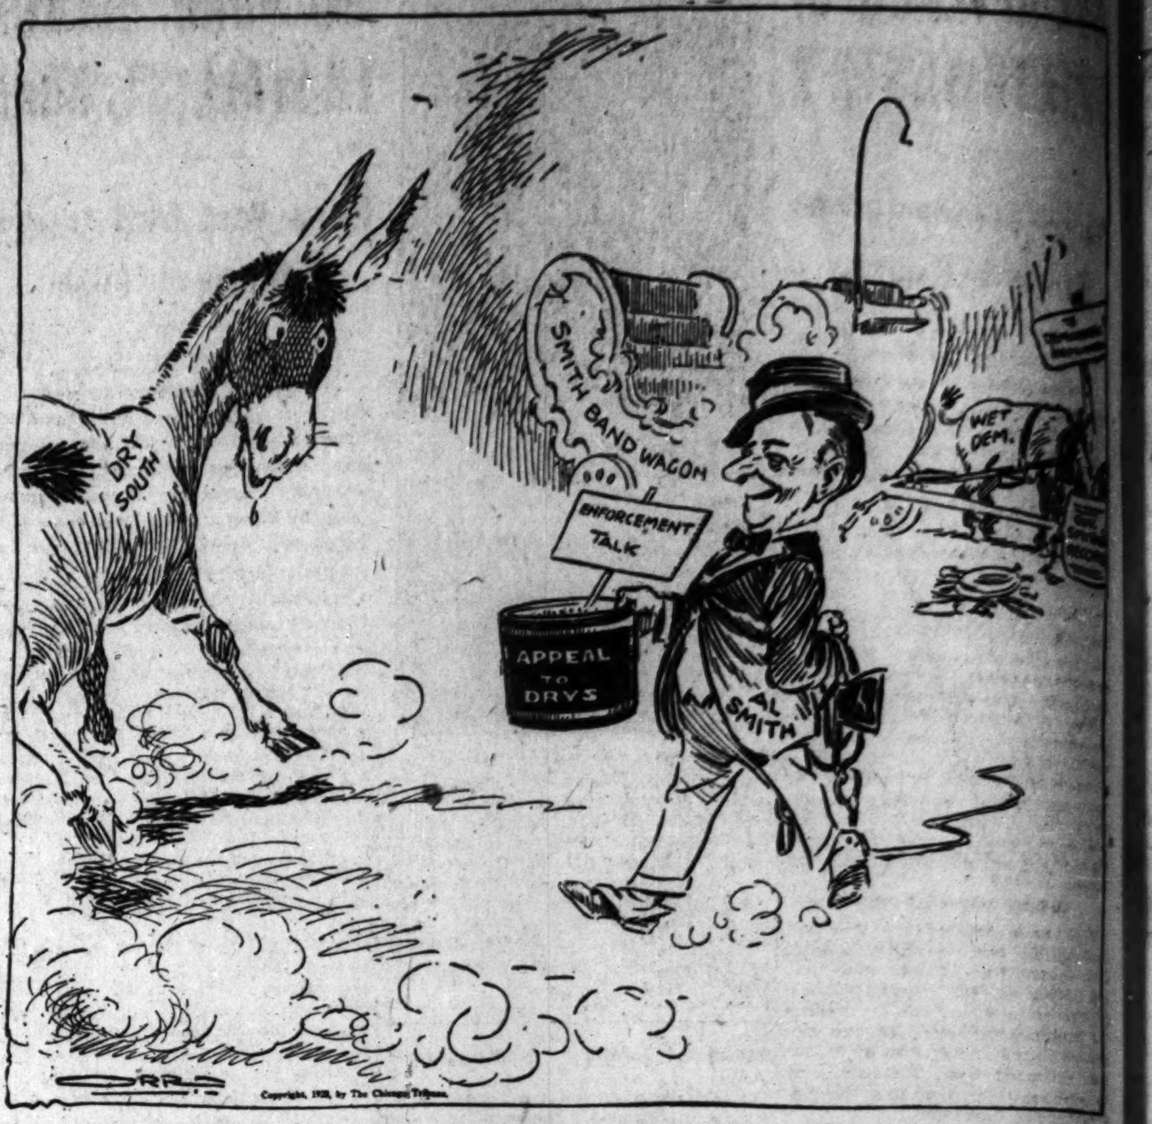
HITCHING UP



FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

65 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 5, 1863.

BATTLEFIELD OF STONE RIVER, Tenn., Jan. 2.—The terrific battle of Stone River, near Murfreesboro, between Rosecrans and Bragg, is not yet decided. It has continued three days. Old soldiers pronounce it the gamest conflict ever fought on this continent. After the great battle of the 31st, the rebels moved upon our right which was thrown out to Osterman's Creek. On Jan. 1 finding our right too strong they suddenly rushed upon our center but were repulsed with heavy losses by the corps of Thomas and Crittenden. During the night the rebels appeared to be concentrating again upon our right, but, suspecting a ruse, Gen. Rosecrans threw Bentley's brigade across the river on our left. This afternoon a tremendous force of the enemy was thrown against Bentley, and drove him back across the river. Negley's superb division and Jeff C. Davis' division were thrown in and the most desperate contest of the battle ensued. Negley at last ordered his men to charge and the enemy sullenly gave way. Gen. Rosecrans, in the midst of fire and carnage, ordered an advance of the whole line and at dark it was pressing forward with wild enthusiasm. Our loss since Wednesday morning is about 4,000 killed and wounded, and in prisoners is several thousand. The rebel loss, as estimated by themselves, is between 4,000 and 5,000 killed and wounded, and we have taken about 1,000 prisoners.

CAIRO.—The Memphis Bulletin just received contains news from Vicksburg, brought by the steamer Rattler. Fighting, commencing Wednesday, had been going on for five days. On Monday Gen. Sherman had captured three lines of the enemy's work, and firing on the fourth and last line had ceased, indicating that it had surrendered. Between it and Vicksburg there was nothing but a trestle and officers of the Rattler believe Vicksburg is now in Sherman's hands. On Sunday night he received a reinforcement of 9,000 from Gen. Grant and our whole force now at Vicksburg is 40,000.

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

CHICAGO.—Englewood citizens uttered another protest against granting any further franchises to the South Side Elevated road unless the company agreed to extend its line to 69th street, between Loomis and Wood.

VIENNA.—Reports have been received here from sources closely connected with the Saxony court of a possible reconciliation between the crown princess of Saxony and her husband. The family of the crown prince is especially concerned with the future of the princess' unborn child, desiring its birth to take place under conditions permitting of proper identification. The crown prince is reported as even now unwilling to abandon the belief that the unborn child may be his own.

CHICAGO.—Official batting averages of the National league, made public in Washington, show Beaumont of Pittsburgh in the lead with a percentage of .357. Cy Seymour of Cincinnati is second and Willie Keeler third.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JANUARY 5, 1918.

LONDON.—An Amsterdam dispatch says: "The kaiser again held a crown council in Berlin yesterday when Dr. Von Kuehlmann reported to the all highest, the chancellor, Hindenburg, Ludendorff and Count Roedern what had been achieved at Brest-Litovsk. It is admitted semiofficially that the only question debated was that of peace terms, not only to Russia, but also to all the allies.

LONDON.—Mrs. Patrick Campbell has received news that her son, Lieutenant Commander Alan Campbell, who married Miss Helen Bull of Chicago, April 29, 1909, has been killed in action in France.

CHICAGO.—A. Blauvelt, associate manager of the Western Factory Insurance association, who lived at 6558 Yale avenue, committed suicide by jumping off a bridge over the Cumberland river near Nashville, Tenn., with a rope around his neck made fast to the bridge. The rope broke and his body was not recovered.

CHICAGO.—Doris Keane, Evanston girl who left that city to become a theatrical star of the first magnitude, has been married in London to Basil Sydney, English actor.

Writers should confine themselves to 200 to 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Address Voice of the People, The Tribune.

STREET NAMES.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—I note with interest your editorial, "Street Names and Traditions," referring to the change of name, Robey street to Damen avenue. I agree with you that street names used for years have a value and should not be changed. It is true as you state, "Merchants in the street accustomed for years to have their places of business identified by the street name feel injured and aggrieved."

A department store on 12th street, named the "12th Street Store" is so well known by that name that it retains the name, although the street name was changed to Roosevelt road. There are numerous similar cases throughout Chicago. It is not only unjust to change street names but also unnecessary as new names may be given to new streets in new subdivisions, etc. However, it is unfair to make an exception in the case of Damen avenue and restore the name Robey street unless the original names of other streets be likewise restored. This controversy may be easily settled. Advocates of the name Damen avenue object to unfair discrimination. I suggest an ordinance to restore the original names of all Chicago streets with the exception of the change of names given in order to avoid duplicate names and to prohibit thereafter the change of name of any street, thus restoring the names 12th street, 39th street, Evanston avenue, South Water street, Robey street, Forest avenue, etc.

A. F. R.

VAIN PROTEST.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—Your editorial, "Street Names and Traditions," is one of the most sensible articles I have ever read. People say: "Protest if you don't like it." Well, that's exactly what we did, but it doesn't mean a thing. If this street changing mania continues the next generation won't even know who the real pioneers of Chicago were.

M. I. RODIN.

AND TOUPAY.

Chicago, Dec. 30.—I have not been teaching English for forty years but I have been one of Chicago's notorious active jay walkers for the last two decades. During my leisurely strolls about the city where women murder husbands and don't give a hang (or should I say, don't get a hang?) I have had many a hair raising moment. The recent announcement that thousands of new high speed lenas and chevys are about to fill our streets gives cause for alarm. What the barbers' tonics have not taken off my pate will probably be sacrificed in the coming hair lifting days. This suggests toupe. I offer toupay as a belated Christmas gift to those who have not already received a coupay or cafay.

ARCOL.

NEWS BY RADIO.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—I have never written an open letter before, but such an unjust, narrow expression of one person's prejudice as that in the letter in today's issue of THE TRIBUNE headed "News by Radio" should be answered with equal frankness.

The consensus of opinions of the many radio fans of my acquaintance regarding types of announcers is that the favorites are the ones who do not indulge in formal, cut and dried speech, but who speak extemporaneously, adopting the friendly, informal manner as of one pal to another, with bits of wit and clever comment interspersed with their news items. Such an announcer is Quin Ryan, as all W-G-N listeners-in know and equally clever, witty, and lovable is Sally, the girl friend with whom Quin discusses the paper.

No matter how fine the programs for the day and evening may be, we look forward to the reading of THE TRIBUNE and always tune in on it with much pleasurable anticipation every evening. While Sally has been vacationing this past week we have missed her so sorely that it almost spoils the reading of the paper for us.

A SALLY FAN.

ANOTHER.

Chicago, Jan. 2.—As a radio listener who gets considerable enjoyment out of Sally's participation in the W-G-N feature known as "Tomorrow's TRIBUNE" may I protest against the ill-natured and unreasonable protest?

MARY G. McGAUN.

LINDY'S MA.

Winnetka, Ill., Dec. 17.—"Lindy's Ma Lands in Drifts" is the height of attention-getting in streamers, I will admit, but it lacks the fair amount of dignity usually practiced by THE TRIBUNE in its make-up.

It seems most incongruous to apply the back-country colloquialism of "Ma" to the dignified mother of Col. Lindbergh whom the nation is endeavoring to set up as a hero in the eyes of the youth of this country and as an official diplomat in the eyes of other countries. Why use the diction of yellow journalism that suggests so strongly the Daddy Browning case?

As practical journalists you probably razz the students in schools of journalism, but I know of no school of journalism, no university, nor college newspaper which would stand for either the attitude of mind or the workmanship behind such a streamer.

SOUTH CHINA TO ASK REVISION OF TREATY WITH U. S.

Names Special Envoy to Handle Negotiations.

BY JOHN POWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

SHANGHAI, Jan. 4.—Dr. C. C. Wu, former foreign minister of the nationalist government of South China, who was appointed special envoy to America in order to discuss the question of Sino-American treaty revision, today said he has not decided whether he would accept the post. He fears the time is not opportune, owing to the fact that China is not yet unified and he is uncertain as to how the suggestion would be received in America.

However, he expressed pleasure over the prospects of visiting Washington again, where he spent his boyhood when his father, Wu Ting-fang, served there as Chinese minister for many years. Dr. Wu attended Washington public schools and the Atlantic City high school, later graduating from London university.

Chiang Goes to Nanking.

T. V. Soong was named finance minister in the new nationalist cabinet. Quo Tai-chi, who was appointed acting foreign minister, began his duties by lodging a strong protest against the British seizure and destruction by gunfire of the Chinese steamer Irene last October when a British submarine in Bias bay near Hongkong sank the steamer, which had been pirated.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, accompanied by his bride, formerly Mei Ling Soong, and accompanied by a guard of 300 men, proceeded to Nanking this morning for the purpose of assuming his duties. He will urge all factions to forget and forgive petty differences of the past, unite in the interest of the party and nation, and declare their intention to insure the success of the fourth plenary conference of the Komintang central executive committee.

U. S. Missionaries Return.

Declaring American missionary work was "far from knocked out" of China, various United States missionary groups here said today that approximately 2,500 American missionaries have returned to their posts in the interior of China, constituting about half the normal number. More missionaries constantly are returning from vacations at home, which they took during the disturbed period last spring.

The report stated, "the anti-Christian movement has abated considerably and better understanding is developing between the Chinese missionaries. There has been a decided slowing up of the aggressive evangelism and in some cases the churches show a decrease in membership, but only in a few places has the work stopped entirely.

"We do not deny the charge that some missionaries in the past followed imperialistic tactics when dealing with the Chinese, but from a general standpoint the modern missionaries are not mixed up with economic imperialism."

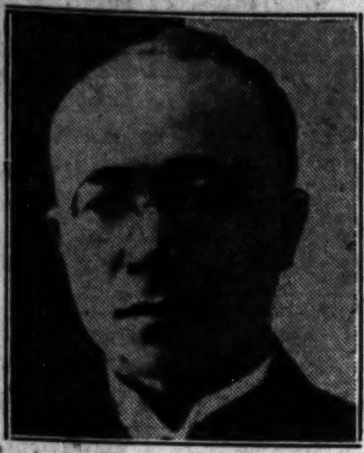
10 Missionary Colleges Open.

The report lists ten missionary colleges under American or joint Anglo-American auspices operating as follows: Yenching university, Peking; Shantung Christian university, Tsinan; Soochow university; University of Nanking and Ginling college, Nanking; Shanghai Baptist college; Foochow Christian university; Hwa Nan college, Foochow; Lingnan university, Canton; West China Union university, Chengtu, Szechwan province. The schools which have been unable to reopen include Central China university, Wuchang; Yale-in-China college; Huping college, Yochow, Hunan province, and the Lutheran college, all located in central China, as well as St. John's university of Shanghai.

Practically all the schools which are operating will be modified by regulations granting the Chinese a large measure of control, the administration in some cases electing Chinese presidents," the report continues. In practically all cases arrangements were made to comply with the government regulations respecting registration.

"The foregoing report constitutes a reply to the charges which have recently appeared in London papers, particularly the Daily Telegraph, that missionary work was wiped out by the revolution, the paper's report charging that the American missionaries are enemies of British trade in China and largely responsible for the anti-foreignism in China."

SPECIAL ENVOY



Dr. C. C. Wu appointed to negotiate treaties between Nanking national government and the United States.

STUDENTS ADMIT THEY ROBBED TEN HOMES FOR THRILL

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—[U. P.]—Two University of Minnesota students and two younger boys admitted to police today that they had robbed homes of wealthy St. Paul and Minneapolis residents "for a thrill."

They obtained less than $1,000 in loot, and none of them needed money badly. They simply became "bored" Christmas week and turned to robbery for excitement, Howard Wandrei, 18 year old sophomore, told police.

Wendell Whaley, Minneapolis, a university freshman; Paul Huber, 15, and Roy Odenwalds, 16, were Wandrei's companions in the expeditions. Police believe they entered ten houses, including a judge's home.

ADVISES MAYOR TO PUSH ATTACK AGAINST SMOKE

H. W. Evans Says City Is Losing in Fight.

Removal of smoke abatement from city hall politics and immediate ceration of a powerful new and independent anti-smoke organization was recommended to Mayor Thompson yesterday by H. W. Evans, chairman of the citizens' smoke abatement commission.

In a letter to the mayor Mr. Evans declared that all which has been gained in past years toward abolition of the soot pall is now slipping away. Instead of greeting world's fair visitors in 1933 as a clean city, Chicago, at that time, will be disgracefull dirty, he predicted, unless drastic action is taken now.

Says Efforts Decline.

Transfer of the city's anti-smoke forces from the health department to the department of boiler inspection last July, Mr. Evans asserts, was an ill advised step, particularly because of the attitude of Mr. George W. Nye, head of the latter department.

"For the last few months a noticeable retrogression has been evident in the enforcement of the anti-smoke ordinance and I can attribute it only to the published statements of the present boiler inspector who is reported as saying there would be no fires drawn (summary abatement, a penalty provided by the ordinance) or prosecution started on smoke violations," the letter charged.

"Hence it is quite evident that Mr. Nye is not only not in sympathy with the past methods of enforcement, but flagrantly ignores his duty by not enforcing the ordinance, and voices the fact that he will not. If allowed to continue this policy, the anti-smoke ordinance soon will be a dead letter and we will find Chicago smoky, dirty and hopelessly behind the nationwide fight for clean air.

"Surely, Mr. Mayor, you do not want to have this condition brought about to the everlasting detriment of your administration."

Gives Plan for Department.

Mr. Evans outlines his plan for a new smoke department as follows:

1. Form a new commission of three, charged with enforcing the smoke ordinance, and given full power by ordinance. Nominations to be made by engineering societies and appointments by the mayor.
2. Create the offices of smoke inspector and deputy smoke inspector, to be filled by civil service examinations.
3. Employ ten to twenty combustion engineers, also civil service.
4. Allow the commission to select fifty (one per ward) volunteer citizen smoke observers, preferably engineers.
5. By executive order, policemen shall report smoke violations in their territory.

"This is a brief summary of a program which would bring results at a figure the city could well afford," Mr. Evans' letter concludes. "I trust, Mr. Mayor, that my suggestions will meet with your hearty approval and that I may have the pleasure of an interview at your very earliest convenience. Let us anticipate the new world's fair and clean up Chicago."

GILLIOM ASKS COURTS TO OUST INDIANA KLAN

Climaxes Fight on Invisible Empire.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Banishment from Indiana of the Ku Klux Klan is asked in a suit filed in Circuit court today by Attorney General Arthur L. Gilliom in behalf of the state.

Gilliom asks that the certificate of admission of the Klan, a foreign corporation, into Indiana be cancelled. It was granted when Ed Jackson, later elected governor on the Klan ticket, was secretary of state. Gilliom also asks that the organization and its officers be enjoined permanently from exercising any authority under the certificate and that a receiver be named to impound all assets of the corporation. Hiram W. Evans of Atlanta, Ga., imperial wizard, and Joseph Huffington of Evansville, grand dragon of the state klan, are named as co-defendants.

Admitted by Fraud.

Gilliom argues that the Klan was admitted into the state under "false and fraudulent representations by its officers" as to the character, activities and business of the organization.

Gilliom's action climaxed attacks he has made on the organization for more than a year in addresses throughout the state.

During the county grand jury investigations here of charges of political corruption in Indiana which resulted in the returning of ten indictments, evidence was introduced to show that the Klan exercised great power in state politics in the last five or six years. It was said to be at the height of its affluence during the reign of D. C. Stephenson as grand dragon, who for two years has been a life term prisoner in state prison for the murder of a young woman.

To Control Politics.

"The true intention of said corporation and its officers in seeking admission into Indiana," the complaint said, "was to secretly gain control of politics and government and to utilize constituted offices occupied by members of said organization to conduct government in violation of constitutional guarantees applicable to citizens who are ineligible to its membership, and in accordance with intolerant laws enacted by legislative officers controlled by said corporation and its officers."

Gilliom also alleged that the organization and its officers sought admission for the purpose of "setting themselves above the government of the state of Indiana and to conduct government in accordance with its un-American and intolerant principles and in denial of the constitutional rights of nonmember citizens.

STEPHENSON ASKED IN PRISON ABOUT BANK TROUBLES AT KOKOMO

Michigan City, Ind., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—D. C. Stephenson, former klan dragon and political czar, was questioned in his lifer's cell at state prison here this afternoon by Homer R. Miller, Howard county prosecutor, and Grover Bishop, one of the receivers of the defunct American Trust company at Kokomo, Ind., which has been the subject of several grand jury indictments.

They asked him if it did not have considerable klan support and if he did not draw more than $30,000 by unexplained checks at the bank between October, 1922, and March, 1923. Among those indicted at Kokomo are Ora Davies, former state treasurer, and Luther Symons, present state bank examiner, and his assistant, Thomas Barr, both of whom continue to hold office.

DROWNS HER 2 GRANDCHILDREN AND SELF IN TUB

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 4.—[U.P.]—Becoming suddenly insane, Mrs. Letta Irwin, 67, drowned her two grandchildren in a bathtub today and committed suicide by putting her head under the water.

The bodies of all three were found in the bathroom by Mrs. Irwin's daughter, Mrs. Horace A. Schonle, wife of a well-to-do chemist and mother of the children. The youngest child, Elizabeth, 18 months old, was lying dead on a table. The grandmother and Irene Schonle, 5, were submerged in water in the bath tub.

Mrs. Schonle had left the children with her mother for three hours while she was shopping. There was no one else in the house, which is located in one of the best residential districts of Indianapolis. Since there was no apparent motive for the act, police believed Mrs. Irwin must have become suddenly insane.

ARREST WALB AND WEAVER ON BANK CHARGES

La Grange, Ind., Jan. 4.—[Special.] Warrants were served here today on Clyde A. Walb, chairman of the Indiana state Republican committee, and Valentine Weaver, both former officers of the First National bank of La Grange. John Voegtlin, U. S. deputy marshal, came from Fort Wayne with the capias writs for their arrest.

Walb and Weaver, who were named in the federal grand jury indictment charging irregularities in connection with the bank's affairs, each gave $5,000 bond.

RELIGIOUS CONFERENCE TODAY.

The second triennial meeting of the conference of church workers in colleges and universities of the United States will take place in Chicago today and tomorrow at the Edgewater Beach hotel, it was announced yesterday.

INDIANA LABOR, FARMERS JOIN FOR POLITICAL ACTION

Call for Passage of McNary-Haugen Bill.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 4.—[Special.] "After years of rivalry and misunderstanding, Indiana's organized farmers and laborers today are united for legislative and political action."

This was the statement today of T. N. Taylor, president of the state federation of labor, following a dinner at which the farmer-labor alliance was further consummated by the adoption of joint resolutions on political and legislative subjects.

More than fifty representatives of the two groups, representing approximately 200,000 men, and an equal number of wives and children of voting age, attended the conference.

Resolutions favoring the following were adopted:

1. Enactment of legislation restricting equity courts in issuance of injunctions in industrial disputes.
2. Passage of the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure.
3. Opposition to repeal of federal estate tax.

Both Settle and Earl Crawford, former members of the state highway commission, bitterly criticized President Coolidge for his stand on the McNary-Haugen farm relief measure.

"The day has arrived when everything is done by legislation and everything is controlled by legislation," Settle said. "Naturally, we are forced to take a stand in politics. Not from our own choice, but we are forced to do it to look after our own interests."

"We are friendly to Lowden because he is friendly to us," Settle said. "Dawes is one of our strongest fighters and one of the strongest advocates of the legislation sought by the farmers, so naturally we also are friendly to him. We have frequently been disappointed by Hoover."

Held on Bigamy Charge Made by His Second Wife

Walter Webb, alias William Vernon, was held to the grand jury yesterday by Judge Howard Hayes in the South Clark street court in bonds of $5,000 on charges of bigamy. Webb was arrested in the Sherman hotel Dec. 17, after his wife, Virginia Williams, 19, of 6213 Langley avenue, received some of his mail and discovered, she said, that he had previously been married to Anna Lambert of Detroit, and that they have two children.

SMOKE, DRINK, BUT DO IT MODERATELY, MISS ROYDON SAYS

New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Smoking and drinking in moderation have nothing to do with religion, in the opinion of Miss A. Maude Roydon, English woman preacher, who arrived today to learn that lectures she had planned to give in Chicago and Boston had been canceled because of reports about her views.

Both cancellations were for lectures to be given under auspices of branches of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church. The one in Chicago was canceled when it was reported Miss Roydon smoked cigarets and the one in Boston when it was said she believed in companionate marriage.

Miss Roydon acknowledged that she smoked, but said she had always opposed any form of impermanent marriage.

"Smoking and drinking in moderation," she said, "have nothing to do with religion. I myself smoke occasionally."

MOVIE OWNERS AND OPERATORS OFFER PAY PLANS

Chicago motion picture exhibitors and representatives of the Motion Picture Operators' union will meet again Saturday to discuss demands of the union for a 25 per cent wage increase and establishment of a six day work week. The operators and exhibitors met yesterday at the Stevens hotel, and each side submitted a counter proposal. The operators suggested that the exhibitors give them a raise in pay equal to one day's wages, from which they could hire a substitute.

The exhibitors countered with a proposal to grant the operators an increase of $2 a week. It was intimated that no strike will result from the outcome of this year's negotiations.

Spain Arrests Wife of Unamuno, Exiled Writer

PARIS, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Journal's correspondent at Hendaye, on the Spanish border, says that Señora Miguel de Unamuno, who had been spending New Year's with her husband, famous exiled writer, was arrested by Spanish police as she reëntered Spain.

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity.

Druggists say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

FRANCO-U.S. DEAL SLAP AT LEAGUE, EUROPE THINKS

Kellogg's Treaty Scheme Assailed in Rome.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Jan. 4.—The disillusionment felt in official circles here folowing Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's demand for a multi-lateral treaty to outlaw war, instead of a bi-lateral accord between the United States and France, as proposed originally by Foreign Minister Aristide Briand, increased tonight when a report became current that Washington dispatched simultaneously to London and Tokio the identical plan which the United States offered the French.

A reliable authority says there is a slim chance of Quai d'Orsay agreeing to a pact between all the great powers. It is pointed out that M. Briand did not dream of extending the idea to include other powers than France and the United States. Government circles feel that Mr. Kellogg does not realize fully the complications such action would involve. It is emphasized that such a pact would be likely to compete with the league of nations.

If the United States does not desire anything but a multi-lateral agreement, Paris probably will ask that the whole matter be reduced to a simple renewal of the arbitration treaty between France and America, which expires next month.

"AIMING AT LEAGUE"

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

ROME, Jan. 4.—Washington is trying to become the center of world politics and put the league of nations out of business, isolating England if the latter does not choose to come into the multi-lateral anti-war pact proposed by Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, according to semi-official Italian organs tonight.

The pact is opposed to the new Italian conception of a Latin bloc and and the whole idea is dismissed generally in Italian opinion with ironic jeers as further vaporings of Democratic idealism comparable with such things as the league of nations and the Russian disarmament proposals.

The foreign office officially is silent about the Kellogg plan, but the semi-official paper, the Tribuna, says that, having announced its intentions on naval parity with Great Britain, the United States now "has the evident purpose of isolating England if the latter does not accept a pact like the one offered to France, of putting aside the league of nations and making Washington the center of world politics."

London Press Surprised.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Jan. 4.—Considerable surprise was manifested in the London press over Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg's reply regarding the Franco-American arbitration treaty.

"Why not the league?" is the heading over a Westminster Gazette editorial, which points out that Mr. Kellogg's plan for condemnation and renunciation of war is fine, but is already the basis of the formal resolution which was passed unanimously by the last assembly of the league of nations.

League Studies Plan.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Negotiations between France and the United States for a pact to outlaw war are being followed closely in league of nations circles, where it is felt that the treaty proposed by Secretary of State Kellogg follows the basic idea of a Polish resolution adopted at the last assembly meeting. The American proposal goes further in that it creates a formal treaty.

Germany Disappointed.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—America's reply to the French proposal for an anti-war pact caused disappointment in the German foreign office, where the result was interpreted as a reverse for Foreign Minister Aristide Briand of France. This is regretted here. As far as the main question is concerned, Germany welcomes any step in the direction of outlawing war.

Small O. K.'s U. of I. Plan for New Nurses' Home Here

Announcement was made to the trustees of the University of Illinois meeting yesterday in the Blackstone hotel that Gov. Small will authorize the construction of a new nurses' home near the Illinois Medical school in Chicago. The building, to cost approximately $250,000, will make room for 30 additional patients in the university's research hospital, which now houses the nurses. Construction is expected to start this spring.

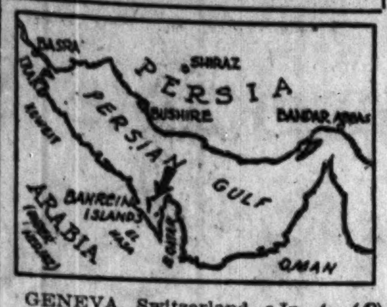
TERRITORY ROW



GENEVA, Switzerland, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Persia has protested to the league of nations against the treaty between Great Britain and the king of the Hedjaz concerning the Bahrein islands, which lie on the Arabian side of the Persian gulf, and has invoked article X of the league covenant. This is the article whereby members of the league undertake to respect and preserve as against external agression the territorial integrity and existing political independence of all countries affiliated with the league, and whereby the council is authorized to examine means for the fulfillment of this obligation.

The Teheran government asserts that the treaty in question, which was signed at Jeddah on May 20, last, between Sultan Abdul Aziz Ibn Saoud and Great Britain, declares that the Hedjaz undertakes to maintain friendly and peaceful relations with the territories of Bahrein and Koweit and with the sheiks of Qatar and the Oman coast, who, it is added, "are in special treaty relations with Great Britain."

Persia insists that the Bahrein islands are incontestably Persian, explaining that when Persia protested as far back as 1869 against the special agreement between Great Britain and the sheik of Bahrein, Lord Clarendon recignized the justice of that protest.

PROCTER GIVES $2,500,000 FUND FOR PEDIATRICS

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—A gift of $2,500,000 to establish an endowment fund for pediatric research and to build a building to house the research work has been given the Children's hospital by Col. William Cooper Procter, it was announced today.

Col. Procter had made previous contributions totaling more than $1,250,000 to the institution in three years.

The research is to be carried out in coöperation with the medical college of the University of Cincinnati.

The endowment will provide an assured income for the employment of fellows who will be nominated by Dr. A. Graeme Mitchell, Dr. B. K. Rachford, professor of pediatrics in the medical college, and chief of staff and medical director of the Children's hospital, and appointed by the board of trustees of the hospital.

HEAR FINAL PLEA FOR MRS. SNYDER AND GRAY TODAY

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Gov. Smith tomorrow will hear the pleas for clemency made by the attorneys for Ruth Snyder and Judd Gray, awaiting execution in Sing Sing for the murder of the woman's husband. The execution date is set for a week from tomorrow.

Gov. Smith is facing a situation similar to the one that confronted Gov. Theodore Roosevelt in 1899. Martha Place, convicted of the murder of her step-daughter, was the first woman condemned to death in the electric chair. The pressure brought to bear upon Gov. Roosevelt was nation-wide. There were threats that if he sent a woman to the chair, when his signature would commute her sentence, it would be the end of his public life. Gov. Roosevelt, however, refused to extend clemency.

Steals Socks, Serves Three Months; Then Does It Again

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 4.—(AP)—Last spring Lloyd Casey was sentenced to 90 days in the workhouse when he pleaded guilty to the theft of nine pairs of socks. He was brought into Municipal court again today on a similar charge and got the same sentence to the same place.

Fears Husband, Brings Her 5 Children to Police Station

Afraid to go home, she said, for fear her husband would harm her and their five children, Mrs. Helen Rusetas, 37, of 2224 West Chicago avenue, sought shelter last night at the Racine avenue station. In her arms she carried her three weeks old baby. Close at her heels trouped the other children, Georgia, 14; John, 12; Leo, 9, and Constance, aged 6. She said her husband, Samuel, 42, owner of an ice cream parlor, had been drinking heavily.

WARD POLITICS EXTRA SESSION BATTLE GROUND

With Presidential Primary Also an Issue.

BY PARKE BROWN.

Legislators milling around about the special session that opens next Tuesday began to predict yesterday that there may be considerable fight for continued use of the ward committeeman system instead of shifting to the precinct committeeman basis as provided in the 1927 primary law, now regarded as being on its last legs.

Candidates for office in most instances are opposed to the precinct idea. They say it will reduce the amount of work done for the main ticket. The big ward bosses don't like it because they feel it will make them responsible to the precinct committeemen of their ward during their two year term of office.

Small Factions for It.

On the other hand, leaders of what at this time are the lesser factions, the Deneen, Small-Lundin, and the Brundage Republican groups, and the old Harrison-O'Connell Democratic faction want the precinct leader system because they think that in many wards where they might not be able to total a majority they could elect enough precinct leaders to be given an organization.

One of the hardest knots in writing a primary law to withstand court attack has been the question of equality of representation. A Supreme court decision last June invalidated the 1910 law because the changing of precinct lines created inequalities. The same grounds were cited by Circuit Judge Harry M. Fisher in the attack on the 1927 law still pending before him.

Works for Compromise.

Attorney W. W. Schroeder, Gov. Small's personal legal adviser, has been working several weeks on a number of bills on the subject of the primary, and one of the alternatives he has been working with is a proposal that precinct committeemen be elected, meeting in ward convention, to elect a ward committeeman, ending their duties and legal existence at that point.

One question is whether delegates-at-large to the national conventions shall run on the ballot, as formerly was the custom, or shall be elected by the state convention. Lowden enthusiasts already are advocating the ballot method, requiring candidates for these posts to run throughout the state instead of permitting them to receive their credentials from what may be a hand controlled convention.

Involves Convention System.

Another, still large in its scope, is whether Illinois, instead of sticking to the direct primary system, should try the effect of the old delegate primary system. Under the former system the voter marks his ballot for the candidates themselves. Under the latter he votes only for a delegate from his own district, who will participate in a convention and help formulate the ticket.

SMITH'S BID FOR 1928 MIRRORED IN HIS MESSAGE

Advice to State Is Appeal to Nation.

peatedly promised that, so far as it lies within my power, I will remove from office, upon proper proof being presented, any public official charged with laxity in enforcement of the law.

"Uniform enforcement, uniform obedience is necessary to preserve the majesty and dignity of the law.

"Inasmuch as the federal government leaves the state free in its choice of approval or disapproval of amendments to the constitution, I would suggest an amendment to our state constitution to the end that no future amendments to the federal constitution be acted upon by the legislature before a referendum by the people.

Fair Deal for Farmers.

To the Democrats of the agricultural middle west, the message offered a picture of New York as the leader in beneficial farm legislation and presented a demand that "both national and state policies" be molded to insure a fair deal to the agricultural interests.

"Since 1918," the governor said, "this state has put into effect a far-reaching program to cheapen marketing costs, to decrease marketing risks, to improve marketing methods, and, in general, to facilitate the distribution and sale of New York farm products for the ultimate benefit of its farmer-producers and its city consumers as well. The functioning of this program has been an important factor in modifying in this state the severity of the agricultural depression which affected some of our sister states so calamitously."

To the Democrats in every state where there are undeveloped water power resources the message shouted the dangers of giant private water combines and directed attention to his power authority plan.

For the special attention of students of government, the message eulogized the "budget reform" and department organization, which has been put into effect during his administrations and which he characterized as "the most progressive and thorough reform in the structure of state government undertaken by any state in the Union."

Appeals to Liberals.

To the more liberal minded Democrats and to the Socialist party, he issued a reminder that he considered the ousting of five duly elected Socialists from the New York state assembly in 1921 "a great mistake."

To organized labor he held up in full view all the labor legislation and welfare bills that have been passed in the last ten years.

To the middle westerners, seeking a water route to the sea, he suggested the transformation of the barge canal into the all-American waterway that is being widely demanded.

GERMANY HAILS $400,000 U. S. GIFT FOR HEIDELBERG

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Jan. 4.—American Ambassador Jacob Gould Schurman's announcement that he had collected $400,000 for the restoration of the old buildings of Heidelberg university has cheered Germany as the first "ray of sunshine in the new year and new proof of the generosity of Americans in the service of science and education." (The announcement was made by Mr. Schurman in New York yesterday before the Steuben society, which gave him a farewell banquet on the eve of his departure for Germany.)

"The gratitude of Americans to their alma mater, Heidelberg, is only surpassed by the gratitude of Heidelberg to her students, who remember her," Dean Rupprecht Karls said. He chided Germany's captains of industry for their lack of interest in the university's welfare.

The dean says that $400,000 is insufficient for a complete restoration, but he is preparing to appeal to former Heidelberg students throughout Germany to shoulder the rest of the financial burden. Ambassador Schurman once studied at Heidelberg.

WORK INDORSES SWING BOULDER DAM MEASURE

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Swing-Johnson Boulder canyon dam bill was indorsed today by Secretary of the Interior Work. He said he had been advised by Director Lord of the budget bureau that the proposed $125,000,000 expenditure would be in harmony with President Coolidge's fiscal plans unless tax reduction exceeded materially what the treasury regards as a safe cut in revenue.

Writing Chairman Smith of the house irrigation committee, which has jurisdiction over the proposal, the interior secretary said that engineers had estimated that $125,000,000 would cover the construction cost and operating expenses of the project and "there is no reason to question the ultimate solvency of this undertaking if carried out along lines proposed," he said.

COLDS THAT DEVELOP INTO PNEUMONIA

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

Don't Discard Your Old Furniture...... Sell It!

"I had some household goods I wanted to sell, and had tried different methods without much success, when a friend advised me to try a Tribune Want Ad. The results were gratifying. By the next day we had sold out, getting more for a rug alone than a second-hand man would have given us for the whole lot."

JOHN WEAVE,
5517 Broadway, Chicago.

WHEN furniture has outlived its desirability, but not its usefulness, don't relegate it to the attic, or sacrifice it to a second-hand man at a fraction of its value! Some family in Chicago is in need of the very article you wish to sell and would gladly pay you a fair price for it. The most economical and certain way of getting in touch with this family is through a Tribune Want Ad.

So Mr. John Weave of 5517 Broadway found when he cast about for a way to sell most profitably his discarded household goods. After experimenting with different methods he wisely placed an ad describing these goods in The Tribune Want Ad Section. By noon the next day he had sold every article at a good price!

Day in and day out The Tribune Want Ad Section performs this service . . . bringing together buyers and sellers in every type of deal. No matter how limited or how wide is the appeal of the article you wish to sell, somewhere in the vast Chicago market you will find people interested in buying it . . . if you call—

104 WAYS TO MAKE MONEY

FULLER ADVISES CHANGING TRIAL OF HIGH CRIMES

Governor Alludes to Experience in Sacco Case.

Boston, Mass., Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Sacco-Vanzetti agitation of last summer and the depression in the textile industry were reflected today in the annual message of Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, in which he recommended changed procedure to allow the Supreme court greater latitude in reviewing capital cases, and made a plea for strict governmental economy and tax reduction.

Relieving Strain on Governor.

Referring to the celebrated case in which he declined to intervene after an exhaustive personal investigation assisted by three eminent citizens, the governor said:

"A plan that will place our courts in the position to take and hold control of capital cases, from their beginning to their ultimate conclusion, and which will make certain that the governor will not be compelled to encounter the difficulties which were forced upon him in the year 1927 by the zealous defenders of persons convicted of first degree murder, should be formulated and made effective by appropriate legislation."

Warns of Outside Interference.

"In this connection," said the governor, "I repeat that for the prevention of crime generaly we have to rely principally on justice, swift and sure, and that the criminally inclined must be made to understand that it is well nigh certain that any criminal acts on their part are sure to be found out and quickly punished, and that no politics, nor money, nor influence, nor organized demonstration can help them to avoid the consequences of their crimes."

The governor praised the work of the men who assisted him in the review of the case.

Sees Industrial Danger.

Turning to the industrial situation, the executive said:

"It is an open question whether we have not traveled so far in the protection we give labor and in the advantages—both state and municipal—that we give our citizens in good roads, education, and other facilities, that, between the expenditures we have imposed on industry and the taxes that we and the cities and towns exact from them our industries have now reached a position where there is nothing for a good many of them to do but quit.

"We cannot have our industries operated so that the employés work fewer hours and earn more money and the employers pay more taxes and at the same time have the products compete in price with those of other states where the women and children work longer hours, where wages are low, and where taxes are much less."

4 JURORS SWORN FOR HILL TRIAL; COURT RECESSES

Ottawa, Ill., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—A recess until Friday was granted in the Harry Hill trial today to give Sheriff Floyd Clark an opportunity to summon fifty more persons for jury service. The recess was taken after the first venire of 64 men was exhausted.

Hill has pleaded not guilty to charges of shooting his mother and burying her body in the basement of her home at Streator.

After a week of preliminary motions and arguments a panel of four jurors, three farmers and a business man, have been accepted and sworn in for service. They were H. V. Weeks, 38, Millington lumber and coal dealer; Mike Conness, 44, farmer; Arthur Walter, 28, farmer, and Anton Piller, 59, farmer.

Today Hill's father, Dr. H. C. Hill, prominent Streator specialist, placed a $10,000 trust deed on the palatial Streator home in which Mrs. Eliza Hill was slain and buried, admittedly to obtain funds with which to aid his son's defense. The trust deed was given to Lawrence Sowden, cashier of the Union National bank of Streator, as trustee.

DOROTHY DONNELLY, ACTRESS-PLAYWRIGHT, DIES OF PNEUMONIA

DOROTHY DONNELLY.

New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Miss Dorothy Donnelly, actress and playwright, who probably was best known for her adaptations of "Blossom Time" and "The Student Prince," died early today. She was 48 years old.

Death was due to pneumonia and nephritis and occurred at her mid town apartment.

Miss Donnelly, a daughter of Thomas Lester Donnelly, manager of the old Grand Opera house in New York, and Sarah Williams Donnelly, an actress, had a successful stage career before she devoted herself to writing.

At 18 she was leading woman in the Murray Hill Stock company and from then on started a steady climb which culminated in her appearance in the part of Jacqueline in "Madame X." Her last appearance on the stage was in 1915.

During the world war Miss Donnelly served overseas as an entertainer and after the armistice directed the Third Army Stock company at Coblentz. For the last twelve years she devoted her time to playwriting and the staging and management of plays.

WISCONSIN NOW HAS PATRONAGE CHIEF IN CAPITAL

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—George Vits, the new Republican national committeeman from Wisconsin, has been given recognition as the official dispenser of federal patronage in that state.

Mr. Vits, it was made known at the White House, approved the recess reappointment given to John J. Esch of Wisconsin as a member of the interstate commerce commission, and will be consulted on all patronage matters hereafter.

Since March 4, when Irvine L. Lenroot retired as a member of the senate from Wisconsin, the White House has lacked an official patronage adviser in that state.

President Coolidge at no time has given recognition to the La Follette Republicans in the selection of federal officials in Wisconsin. Former Senator Lenroot was in control of all the state patronage, being the only regular Republican in congress from Wisconsin. The late Senator La Follette and the present Senator La Follette both were on the White House black list. The younger La Follette, it is understood, has never entered the White House doors since he became a senator. All the Republican representatives from Wisconsin for several years have been La Follette radicals and have not enjoyed the usual recognition in the naming of postmasters, which is accorded to congressmen in other states.

Senator Blaine, who now occupies the Lenroot seat, will get no patronage because of his affiliation with the La Follette group.

ALWAYS DEAD TIRED?

How sad! Sallow complexion, coated tongue, poor appetite, bad breath, pimply skin and always tired. What's wrong? You are poisoned. The bowels are clogged and liver inactive. Take this famous prescription used constantly in place of calomel by men and women for 20 years—Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. They are harmless yet very effective. A compound of vegetable ingredients and olive oil. They act easily upon the bowels, free the system of poison caused by faulty elimination and tone up liver.

Be beautiful. Have rosy cheeks, clear eyes and youthful energy that make a success of life. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, nightly. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

Dr. Edwards OLIVE TABLETS

WANTED

by large manufacturer of a nationally advertised product with a world reputation for past 20 years—a high-grade sales executive who has the proven ability to supervise salesmen, can intelligently analyze territorial sales conditions, is a producer, hard worker and can close a deal in face of keen competition.

The product is kindred to the automobile industry and while experience in this line is not essential, an acquaintance with the automobile accessory business would be an advantage.

The position will pay a good salary for a start, and will advance on future results shown. If you are at present employed in an executive sales capacity and are desirous of improving your position, your application will be given more consideration.

Don't apply if you are a floater—we want a high-grade man who is willing to permanently connect himself with one of the largest manufacturers of its kind in the country.

Address in your own handwriting, giving full experience, age, married or single, present salary; also include a photograph.

ADDRESS B E 287, TRIBUNE

OVERCOATS AND SUITS

Substantially Reduced

Here and there in the extensive stocks of this Men's Store are overcoats, suits and sports apparel upon which substantial reductions in price have been made.

This, of course, because the size assortments are incomplete—not because there is any deviation from the fine standard of workmanship and materials of our regular stocks.

In all, there are several hundreds of these garments, every one of which constitutes a very definite money savings.

Fur Coats Reduced

Dogs, fox-raccoons, and the finer raccoons are included.

HICKMAN'S TRIAL IS FORECAST AS LONG, TECHNICAL

Plea of Insanity Offers Many Delays.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—A long and technically intricate trial for William Edward Hickman, kidnaper and murderer of Marian Parker, was forecast today, both by counsel for the defense and the district attorney's staff.

The Hickman case may develop into three separate trials. The first trial begins on Jan. 25. It will result in submitting to a jury the question of whether Marian Parker's killer was sane or insane at the time he kidnaped and dismembered the schoolgirl. If judged sane, Hickman will become defendant on the charge of kidnaping and murder. If the jury finds him insane, Hickman will be sent to a California asylum, in which, under existing law, there is no legal bar to prevent his future liberation in case a subsequent sanity hearing finds that he has returned to sanity.

If Hickman is found sane and subsequently found guilty of the kidnaping and murder, his lawyers will ask a third jury decision as to whether or not he is sane or insane at the time he is tried. If found insane in the second sanity trial, regardless of the verdict in the first sanity trial, Hickman cannot be executed.

WIFE, IN COURT, FAINTS AS MATE ASSAILS RIVAL

Arraigned yesterday morning in the South Clark street court on charges of disorderly conduct, Mrs. Mary Mulkern, storm center of a scene at the Oriental theater Tuesday night, when her husband fired a shot at her chauffeur companion, created another near panic when she slumped to the floor in a faint as her husband glared across at his alleged rival and growled:

"You dirty rat!"

Neither Mulkern nor Albert Solomon, the chauffeur, offered to assist as bailiffs carried Mrs. Mulkern into an anteroom, where, on regaining consciousness, she shrieked out reproaches against her husband. He had made her life miserable for the last eight years, yet had refused her a divorce, she declared.

Innocent Buggy Ride Led to Her Arrest, Ruth Elder Says

New York, Jan. 4.—[Special.]—A denial of charges of misconduct made against her was contained in a letter sent by Ruth Elder, trans-Atlantic aviatrix, to her New York agent, Harry Reichenbach.

A harmless buggy ride with an evangelist, the Rev. Hubert Jenkins, was the incident which gave rise to village gossip, and ultimately to the warrant which was served on her, Reichenbach quoted Miss Elder as saying.

"The incident occurred when Miss Elder was a girl of seventeen," Reichenbach said. "She was married and living with her husband in Clayton, Ga., a town of about three hundred persons, when the evangelist came to conduct a revival meeting.

"Miss Elder and her husband invited him to visit them for a week. On week days when her husband was at work they had friendly chats together and one day took a ride out into the country.

"They had stopped and were sitting on a hillock at the side of the road, viewing the scenery, when they saw a man approaching, driving some cattle. The evangelist, fearing to be seen alone with the girl, left her and ran into a patch of trees."

Miss Elder then drove back to her home, Reichenbach said. A few days later she began to be snubbed by the citizens of the town.

"Ugly rumors began to float about," Reichenbach continued. "To a girl of 17, such misconstrued stories, coupled with rapidly growing social ostracism, began to make life miserable. Miss Elder left her home and went to her mother at Anniston. Later her mother succeeded in having her marriage annulled on the ground of her extreme youth.

"With that she thought the incident closed. She heard no more of it until on Dec. 20, alighting from her train at Atlanta, she was approached by a man whom she recognized as the sheriff.

"'My dear girl,' he told her. 'I don't want to embarrass you. I've been sent here from Clayton with a paper. It would be better for you to give me a short interview privately.'"

Reichenbach quoted Miss Elder as saying there was not an atom of truth in the charges of misconduct.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT HALTS CONTEMPT OF COURT ACTION

Louis B. Hart, 1249 North Long avenue, failed to appear yesterday before Superior Judge Joseph Sabath on a contempt citation issued on petition of his estranged wife, Mrs. Minnie Hart, 1413 North Karlov avenue. He was in the county hospital suffering from the affects of poison he drank Tuesday night after being notified of the citation.

If Hart recovers, Judge Sabath ruled, he will have to appear in court and show cause why he should not be sent to jail for failing to pay $185 temporary alimony due his wife, who is suing for separate maintenance. She charges her husband abandoned her and their seven children last July.

MAC NIDER QUITS WAR POST; IOWAN IS HIS SUCCESSOR

Tells President His Job Is Finished.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—President Coolidge today accepted the resignation of Assistant Secretary of War Hanford MacNider and announced the appointment of Col. Charles Burton Robbins of Cedar Rapids, Ia., as his successor.

Mr. MacNider will sever his connection with the war department on Jan. 15 and return to Mason City, Ia., to resume private business affairs.

In his letter of resignation MacNider told the President that, as his assigned task of mobilizing American industry for national defense had been completed, he felt he could retire.

Efficient, Says Coolidge.

In accepting the resignation, President Coolidge expressed his appreciation of the efficient service Mr. MacNider had given.

One of the last acts of Col. MacNider was to send a recommendation to Secretary of War Davis urging the selection of a special munitions board by President Coolidge for the purpose of studying the present shortage in ammunition and war material.

Col. Robbins is a close personal friend of MacNider and a former commander of the Iowa department of the American Legion. He served in both the Spanish-American and the world wars, and is now enrolled in the reserves. He was cited for gallantry in action in the Spanish-American war. When the United States entered the world war he entered as major of the Iowa National guard.

Plans in Doubt.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Friends of Hanford MacNider were divided today regarding his future plans. One group of close friends of MacNider thinks he resigned in order to take steps that may lead either to his nomination as the Republican candidate for the vice presidency at Kansas City next year or may lead to the United States senate in the 1930 election here.

It was pointed out here that MacNider is a strong administration man, is from the farm state of Iowa, and is popular with the American Legion. It is likely that the plans will be made known when MacNider attends the state conference of American Legion officials here on Feb. 22.

MORE EVIDENCE IN STONE STREET CASE IS HEARD

Further evidence that Stone street between Goethe and Banks street has never been improved was introduced at the hearing yesterday on John Holabird's bill to quiet title against the city of Chicago. This and similar testimony is expected to constitute the basis for arguments by Holabird's counsel that title to this roadway should pass to their client without further outlay.

Photographs were introduced showing the physical conditions of the two blocks bounded by Goethe street, Ritchie court, Banks street, and Lake Shore drive. Holabird and members of a syndicate have secured possesison of the entire two blocks except for the intervening street from the Potter Palmer estate.

Two witnesses, Graham H. Harris, former president of the board of education, and Philip Huguenin, of Wilmette, testified that the stretch of Stone street in litigation is unimproved. The hearing, which is being conducted before Master in Chancery William H. Dollenback, was continued.

TRAIN VICTIM IS IDENTIFIED.

The body of the man killed by a Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train at Ogden avenue and Kinzie street late Tuesday, was identified as Walter Wjazsa, 48, of 858 North ... street, yesterday by his roommate, ... Janik.

Skinny, "Lifeless" Women Gain Weight

Gain Pounds of Weight with New YEAST and IRON in 3 Weeks — or Pay Nothing

If we could only show you the wonders that Ironized Yeast has done for thousands of men and women. The bony hollows that have been filled up with firm flesh, stringy necks and bony limbs given rounded beauty! Pimples, boils and blotches have disappeared for good.

How Yeast and Iron Builds Quick Weight

Ironized Yeast is two tonics in one — weight-building Yeast and strengthening Iron. The yeast is the same used in making malt, and which makes malt so beneficial. It is specially cultured yeast, concentrated, to give the utmost in flesh-producing value.

This Yeast is treated with pure, vegetable iron, the same as in spinach, lettuce and celery. In this form Iron is easily assimilated by the body, making rich, red blood and building up nerves and muscles.

Only when Yeast is Ironized in this way is it more effective—for Iron is needed to bring out the weight-building, strengthening values of Yeast. By this special formula Ironized Yeast gives you results in half the time required by yeast or iron taken separately.

Go to your druggist and get a handy bottle of these tasty tablets today. Just a single course treatment will prove that you can be attractive and healthy. Safe for everybody. They do not upset the stomach nor cause gas or bloating.

Try It on "Money-Back" Offer

Just ask your druggist for a full size treatment. If you are not delighted with the quick results, get your money back. It will be refunded immediately. If inconvenient to buy from druggist, send $1.00 to the IRONIZED YEAST CO., Atlanta, Ga., Desk 146-H.

CAUTION! While the amazing health-building value of IRONIZED YEAST tablets has been clearly and positively demonstrated in cases of lack of energy, indigestion, constipation, skin eruptions, poor complexion, and a generally weakened physical and mental condition, IRONIZED YEAST should not be used by anyone who OBJECTS to having weight increased to normal. © 1927—I. NORRIS PROPOSES TO RESUME OIL SCANDAL INQUIRY

Seek to Trace Profits in Teapot Deal.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Resumption of the senate's investigation into the Teapot Dome oil scandal, where it was dropped three years ago, when Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate, refused to tell the inside story of the $3,000,000 Continental Trading Company, Ltd., deal, was proposed today by Senator George W. Norris [Rep., Neb.].

What is known of the Continental transaction forms the vital part of the government's conspiracy case against Sinclair and Albert B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, who is accused of receiving $230,500 of the profits of the deal soon after he leased the navy's Teapot Dome oil reserve to Sinclair.

The purpose of the Norris resolution is to authorize the senate public lands committee, which conducted the original Teapot Dome probe, to investigate the distribution of the balance of the profits of the Continental deal. Rumors current in Washington ever since the scandal first broke are that a substantial portion of the profits found their way into the hands of the Republican national committe to make up the 1920 campaign deficit.

Counsel for Sinclair, Burns, and the other defendants in the Teapot jury fixing contempt case declared today that "serious civil action" is contemplated against members of the district grand jury which returned a presentment charging conspiracy to obstruct justice against the seven men.

Widow of McSwiggin Case Victim Free on Rum Charge

Mrs. Margaret Duffy, widow of Thomas Duffy, who was murdered in Cicero two years ago during the ambuscade that killed Assistant State's Attorney William McSwiggin and John Daugherty, was freed yesterday on charges of violating the prohibition law by United States Commissioner James R. Glass. Thomas McClelland and Charles S. Sullivan, bartenders in a soft drink parlor at 4701 West Harrison, downstairs of the flat occupied by Mrs. Duffy, were held in bonds of $1,000 each.

MEN FOUND IN RESORTS FACE MEDICAL TESTS

Boys and men who enter questionable resorts after today will do so at the same risk of arrest and compulsory medical treatment as the women they are visiting, Health Commissioner A. H. Kegel announced last night.

Dr. Kegel's announcement followed a conference in his office of police, court, and civic club officials at which the "single standard" idea, proposed by the commissioner several days ago, was argued pro and con for two hours. In the end it was decided that the plan should be given an immediate trial.

After a fair trial, Dr. Kegel said, the new procedure will be abandoned if it is found for any reason impractical, but, if successful, will be carried out in the fullest degree.

Present at the conference were Municipal Judge J. L. McCarthy, assigned to the Morals court; Deputy Thomas Wolfe, representing Commissioner of Police Hughes; Kate J. Adams, Committee of Fifteen; Bertha Bidwell, League of Women Voters; Dr. Rose M. Redding, Juvenile court; Dr. Rachelle S. Yarros, Chicago Council of Social Hygeine; and Mrs. B. F. Langworthy, Women's City Club.

Chop Out Window Frame to Save Woman From Fire

When it was discovered yesterday that Mrs. Anna Leach, 50 years old, weighing 250 pounds, was too large to be rescued from a window of her burning home at 3746 Ward street, firemen chopped away the window frame and carried her down ladders to the ground. There she was revived from the effect of smoke fumes that had made her unconscious. The fire caused an estimated damage of $3,000 to the three story building.

Announcing

The VICTORY SIX

BY DODGE BROTHERS

Simple fairness to this remarkable new product calls for words that would seem extravagant were they not so obviously and accurately truthful.

From an engineering standpoint The Victory is radically new, radically different and thoroughly original—is literally years ahead of its time in many vital features.

Subjected to long and peculiarly gruelling tests over every kind of primitive road, it has emerged completely the victor—fit and ready to serve the advanced and exacting needs of today and tomorrow.

In a very real sense, too, it compares with no other car or class, because NO car, either here or abroad, provides features that are comparable.

Revolutionary New Principles of Design

Two revolutionary new principles differentiate The Victory from all other motor cars:

1. For the first time since the invention of the automobile, the chassis and body of The Victory are a single integral unit—the wide, deep Victory chassis frame, flush with the lines of the body, replaces the customary body sills. (Heretofore, the body was mounted on a sill and both in turn mounted on the chassis.)

2. For the first time in history, battleship construction (i.e., double steel walls) is applied to the motor car.

The results of these, and other basic innovations are astonishing in their effect on every phase of motor car value: beauty, comfort, safety, strength and most impressive and important of all—performance itself.

Spectacular Performance

With chassis and body a single unit, there are 330 fewer parts—175 pounds less weight—and an extremely low center of gravity.

The results are greater motor efficiency—increased power in relation to load—quicker pick-up—greater stability and flexibility—an easier car to handle—a faster car to drive!

21 miles to the gallon at 25 miles per hour is precisely what you can expect—with sustained high speed all day long at instant call.

Drive over cobbles and await the usual discomfort—it will never occur! The Victory is the smoothest riding car, for its type, ever built.

Safe, Strong and Stable

Because the chassis frame conforms precisely with the body lines—with no body overhang—and because of the car's low center of gravity (weight close to the ground) The Victory is remarkably stable—tipping, skidding and swaying are reduced to a point positively negligible!

Turn a sharp corner and you will understand!

And the double steel walls mean double protection in case of accident—double the safety of any type yet known. A staunch body, with doors that close with a substantial and non-metallic snap.

Internal-expanding Lockheed-Hydraulic brakes, a rigid, 8-inch chassis frame, wide windows, full-vision windshield and thin steel corner posts are further vital factors of greater safety.

Quiet and Comfortable

The aim of all engineering is simplicity, for simplicity means economy—strength—SILENCE.

There are only 8 major parts in The Victory body—and they are welded into a single unit. Not a joint to squeak or rattle. Body and chassis act together, mutually flexing, mutually supporting, without stress or strain. A SILENT body.

And Dodge Brothers powerful new six-cylinder motor—specially engineered for The Victory—preserves this luxurious quietness at all speeds.

A Car of Striking Beauty

Body and chassis built as a single unit—without the customary body sill—permits lower over-all height with liberal head-room and road-clearance.

Splash shields, a constant source of noise and annoyance are replaced by the wide, deep Victory chassis frame; wide heavy-gauge one-piece fenders and drum-type head-lamps are provided. Upholstery, hardware, instruments, color combinations and other appointments satisfy the most exacting demands of style and good taste.

Indeed, you have a distinct and thrilling impression that the car in which you are riding is long, low, swift and safe—a car of surpassing originality and smartness down to the smallest detail.

And you are equally conscious that in the production of this car, Dodge Brothers have adhered strictly to the standards of dependability and long life which have distinguished their product for more than thirteen years.

Proceeding on this solid foundation, they have achieved a result as original and striking by comparison as was the first Dodge Brothers motor car displayed to the public on January 1st, 1915.

PREHN ASSAILS JACK DEMPSEY'S BOXING TRAITS

JACK DEMPSEY.

Urbana, Ill., Jan. 4.—(AP)—A startling tirade against Jack Dempsey for his "unethical" boxing traits was unleashed tonight before the Illinois Society of Engineers when they called upon Paul Prehn, newly appointed chairman of the Illinois boxing commission, for an intimate explanation of the widely disputed "long count" in the Dempsey-Tunney fight in Chicago last September.

Commissioner Prehn was in the midst of presenting a series of boxing and wrestling bouts for the entertainment of the engineers at their annual meeting when a request for an explanation of the count by a member of the society exploded the verbal bombshell.

Calls Dempsey Tricky.

"Dempsey has been known throughout the game as one of the trickiest fighters," Prehn said. "This matter of a long count is a mighty sensitive subject with me, for I know the facts. On the other hand, Tunney is one of the cleanest boxers that ever lived. He is an inspiration to American youth."

Prehn said that both Dempsey and Tunney were well acquainted with the Illinois boxing rules and proceeded to cite the rules in question to the members.

"Dempsey is a terrific puncher and a hard fighter," Prehn said, "but he does not know the true meaning of sportsmanship. In my opinion, Dempsey never won the Sharkey fight. Sharkey was licking him and Dempsey had repeatedly fouled him in the groin. Sharkey was never out when he went down and Tunney was never out when he was down.

Wide Awake at Six.

"After the official count of three Tunney could have gotten up, and at six or seven he was wide awake. If Dempsey had been allowed to remain in the near corner he would have attempted to hit Tunney as he came off the floor, just as he had done in bouts with Firpo and others.

"He had gotten away with it before and thought he could get away with it again."

Prehn also said Leo Flynn was not Dempsey's manager, but merely his representative, and appeared before the commission with a "long count" protest merely for the additional publicity it would get.

Lewis Institute Defeats N. W. Dentists, 30 to 26

Lewis Institute basket five won its fourth game of the season last night by handing Northwestern Dental College quintet a 30 to 26 trimming on the winners' floor. Lepschitz' twelve points featured.

600 Millionaires Pay Tribute to Sportsmanship

BABE RUTH.

The six hundred millionaires who put up the $5,000,000 necessary to build the new Madison Square Garden, were hosts to the seven sport champions who were heroes of the biggest sport thrills of 1927.

Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, who held the distinction of being the only champion who could qualify as a millionaire and vice versa, was one of the principal speakers. As usual, Gene praised boxing as the greatest sport of all.

Bobby Jones, the greatest golfer the world has ever known, was the leading representative of the amateur sport world present. Bobby shared speaking honors with Tunney. Johnny Weissmuller, who holds the world's swimming record of :49 3-5 for the 100 yard dash; Devereux Milburn, the dashing polo player, and William T. Tilden, the tennis player, were the other amateur sport champions there.

But none of them drew as much attention as Babe Ruth, the home run king, whose infectious grin made him the favorite with the millionaires, even as with the knot hole gang. Bill Cook, the professional hockey star of the New York Rangers, and the six day bicycle champions, Charley Winter and Freddy Spencer, also were seated on the dais.

FIGHTING CHAMP

TOMMY LOUGHRAN.

Mullen Jabs Tex in Talk of Title Bout

James Mullen yesterday voiced his side of the oral battle for the next heavyweight fight championship, in which were some veiled hints that he wasn't exactly sure Tex Rickard had done right by our fans. Speaking in the manner of James Joseph Tunney, "Mr. Mullen, instigator of fisticuffs, registered annoyance at the press reports emanating from the City of New York to the effect that Mr. Mullen would not finance and merchandize a heavyweight championship spectacle in 1928."

In the course of his remarks Mullen revealed who his backers were, which is of more casual interest to Chicagoans than the arguments over who will fight for whom and for how much this summer. Mullen said they were Edward J. Kelly, president of the south park board; Richard J. Nash Jr., Pat Joyce, Richard Greiner, Joseph Lundquist, Ben Lindheimer, Abe Psailer, and others.

Mullen said he held a promise from Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, for a fight in Chicago next summer if a leading contender developed, but Mullen added he had no intention of putting on a bout which would be merely a pushover for the champion.

"The present crop of heavyweights are such bums that none shows any promise of becoming a contender," Mullen said. "I can't name a possible opponent for Tunney within months, and I won't promote Tunney into a fight with a 'has been' or 'never was' just to get money from the public."

Anton J. Cermak, president of the county board, who arranged the recent dinner in Chicago for Gene Tunney, also is said to be interested in the proposition to bring the champion's next fight to Chicago. Mr. Cermak and other prominent Democratic party leaders in Cook county, who are seeking the Democratic national convention for Chicago in June, believe that a Tunney fight on Soldiers' field at that time might be used as a drawing card to secure the convention. However, unless Tex Rickard's contract with Tunney will permit the champion to fight for another promoter or unless Gene is willing to break the contract, it is not believed that the bout could be arranged for such an early summer date.

REST AND YOU RUST, LOUGHRAN'S BOXING THEORY

Risks His Ribs Against Lomski Tomorrow.

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 4.—The next prize fight of any interest in New York will be the one between Tommy Loughran, the pretty one, and Leo Lomski Friday night at Mr. Rickard's big house. In this case the term big house refers to the new Garden, not to the castle at Ossining, which is known as the big house, too. It is just a pretty little expression of alumni sentiment to call the new Garden the big house.

TEX RICKARD.

Mr. Loughran, the pretty one, holds the light heavyweight championship of the world and in his gallop with the robust Mr. Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., he will be defending the title over the fifteen round distance at the weight for the class for the second time since he won it from Old Iron Mike McTigue only a few months ago.

Turn to Thinking.

This stamps him as an eccentric character and you might be justified in assuming that he had been punched about the head enough to cause mental fatigue if it were not for the fact that he is one of the least punched prize fighters in the ring with a leaning toward intelligence.

When the pretty one was gallivanting through the thickets during the three or four years preceding his first chance at the light heavyweight title, he whiled away many hours in the Pullmans at the unconventional pastime of thinking. He would think about champions who had been good money makers up to the time they won their titles, but who then became afraid of being licked and therefore ceased to fight and simultaneously ceased to make money.

Without any coaching he thought out a theory in his own head to the effect that if he ever won a championship he would go along fighting all challengers and convert the title into a business asset.

Of course, when he announced this plan just after he beat McTigue many people laughed because that was what Jess Willard, Jack Dempsey, Jack Delaney, Gene Tunney, and numerous other new champions had said and it was taken for granted that Mr. Loughran meant it in a joking way, too.

Saves Sport from Intelligence.

But apparently he didn't mean it as polite humor, because he hadn't had the championship long enough to get himself measured for the regulation new champion's equipment of one dozen double-breasted blue serge extra pants suits before he signed a contract to fight Jimmy Slattery and as soon as Mr. Rickard could get around to putting them in the ring, Mr. Loughran gave Slattery a jolly good slapping.

For a time the members of the prize fight industry were alarmed by the pretty one's occasional outbursts of intelligence and fears were openly expressed that he was developing into another Merton of the Cauliflowers, which would have made two and would have been a terrible thing. One Merton of the Cauliflowers bouncing around the country remarking that honesty is the best policy is pretty bad, but another one would have made the industry topheavy with refinement and ideals.

So it was reassuring when Mr. Loughran announced a short time ago that he did not intend to carry intelligence to annoying extremes and, above all, was determined not to be any more like Gene Tunney than any man would have to be being a man.

In his campaign to be otherwise he might even go in for a little helling and damning, although anything of this nature would be a mere demonstration, as he is inclined to restraint and sanitary speech.

Bruins Beat Washington in Pro Tilt, 28-21

Johnny Beckman, once a member of the New York Celtics, world champion basketball team, joined the Bruins yesterday, and last night at the Broadway armory the new combination defeated Washington, 28 to 21, in an American league game.

The Bruins played class A basketball last night. There was no doubt as to their superiority after the first few minutes of play and they led, 11 to 8, at half time, and then ran up a 28 to 16 score before Beckman and Wickhorst retired in favor of Stonebraker and Mahoney in the final five minutes.

Beckman didn't pile up the Bruins' score. That was a team proposition, but his passing and defensive work provided the balance to a basketball team that has been sputtering along all season in a hit or miss fashion. Mike Wickhorst, paired with Beckman at forward, provided the speed for the club, while Honey Russell, Sullivan, and Grimsted kept the ball moving accurately and at the right moment.

If the Bruins had connected with half of their under the basket attempts they would have swamped the Palaces, who one week ago drubbed the Bruins in two games played in Washington. Russell handled Rusty Saunders, leading scorer of the league last year, so that the best the Washington ace could do was three free throws and one field goal.

At one time early in the second half the Palaces crawled up within a point of the Bruins, making the count 15 to 14, but, after a breathing spell, Chicago went to bat in earnest, and in the next ten minutes scored 13 points through the scoring efforts of Russell, Sullivan, and Wickhorst, while Saunders was getting his one basket. Princeton Is Victor Over Ohio, 28 to 27

Columbus, O., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Princeton's basket team, stung by defeats at Notre Dame and Cincinnati, tonight nosed out Ohio State in a thrilling game, 28 to 27.

The Tigers walked away with the Ohioans during the first half and when the gun sounded were leading, 20 to 7.

With only one minute to go and the score 25 to 27, with the easterners leading, Freddie Grim, Ohio forward, fouled Dickovicz, diminutive Tiger forward, who sank what proved to be the winning point. An Ohio basket made by Eby brought the score to 27. Whitsett and Dickovicz were high scorers with nine points each. Lineup:

IN AND OUTERS BAFFLE FANS AT JAI ALAI GAMES

Urizar Stars in Two Events.

BY FRENCH LANE.

It is beginning to look as if little Jeff Santiago is the most consistent player of jai-alai performing at the Rainbo fronton.

Little Jeff started in three games last night and finished out of the money three times. He didn't even come close to sharing in any part of the purses.

Contrast little Jeff with Joaquin. Few champions ever performed more brilliantly with their cesta than Joaquin did in the third game, an elimination single affair at 8 points. He won just as the money indicated he might win, the favorite in the field of eight, paying $5.10 for each $2.00 worth of encouragement invested.

Slips in Doubles.

Then he came back in the fourth game, the night's feature, a 15 point doubles match, paired with the big shot, Trecet. The big shot wielded a wicked cesta, but Joaquin, playing as if it was the first time he ever took part in the Spanish game, missed shot after shot. He was too much of a handicap even for Trecet, and Urizar and Margurequi triumphed, 15 to 9, over the odds on favorites.

Urizar was the star of the night, for after he and Maguregui had won the feature match, the little fellow came back in an 8 points single elimination struggle and triumphed handily on his dazzling "double corner" hits which baffled his seven rivals so badly that they didn't even afford interesting competition.

Urizar Wins Again.

Urizar was again the outsider in this contest, the mutuel price against him being $10.70 to win. He won so easily that it looked as if the dopesters were away off form when they overlooked him in the speculation.

Favorites were in eclipse almost all evening, the real long shot play of the night coming in the sixth game, when Lizarralde-Basauri rolled up 8 points in a thrilling match and rewarded those who encouraged them at the rate of $16.40 for each two dollars invested. Summaries:

FIRST GAME—limination double, 6 points:

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE ADOPTS MODIFIED DRAFT

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 5.—(AP)—Directors of the Pacific Coast league have voted unanimously to adopt the system of modified draft between the majors and the minors as outlined recently in the major-minor agreement. This system, which has been in vogue since 1921 on the coast, gives the big leagues a claim on each major league player that is sent back to the minors and permits them to buy him at the draft price of $5,000.

The league directors at the meeting yesterday also agreed to adopt the split season. Under this system the season will begin April 3 and run for thirteen weeks. The second half of the season will begin immediately afterward, following which there will be a playoff between the winners of the two divisions.

Cage Fans Hail Meanwell's Removal as Dribble Victory

The change in the personnel of the national basketball rules committee at the annual conclave of the National Collegiate association held in New York last week resulted in the Western conference losing one of its representatives, Dr. Walter E. Meanwell of Wisconsin. The change was effected under the new geographical arrangement by which the committee is selected. It is generally regarded as a triumph for the dribble by those favoring the retention of this feature, since the crafty Badger mentor was one of the leaders in the movement to eliminate this feature of the sport.

DR. W. MEANWELL.

Now that Dr. Meanwell is no longer a member of the rules committee, adherents of the dribble feel less uneasy about it, since Craig Ruby of Illinois and Meanwell were the only coaches in the Big Ten conference who wished to eliminate the dribble at the December meeting. Nels Norgen, Chicago's basketball coach, is open-minded on the proposition and declared at that time that he could see some merits in both sides of the case. The other seven coaches went on record as opposed to any change in the dribble rule.

Smart Teams Can Stall.

The proposal to eliminate the dribble in basketball, one of the most spectacular and prettiest features of the game, was brought about by the introduction of a so-called stalling type of offense which has become quite prevalent in this section of the country and which many consider a serious menace to the game.

While fans do not question that it takes a smart team to stall, it is a dangerous practice and often brings the wrath of the rooters. The rules are clear on the matter. It is legal, but rules are sometimes like laws—unpopular. It usually depends on what side of the fence the fan is sitting on when the stalling game comes up. If it's his team, fine. If it's the opposition, it's poor sportsmanship.

Dribble Is Retained.

In many places, those in charge of basketball have said this type of offense is hurting the game, and it was along these lines that Dr. Meanwell and other friends of basketball were working, because they honestly believed that the elimination of the dribble would stop this style of play. However, the instant that the rule was adopted a storm of protest sprang up in all parts of the country, and the rules committee, by a wire vote, later voted to rescind their action and the dribble is still very much part of the game this year.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

POT-POURRI.

CONFERENCE basketball opens Saturday night with all ten teams in action. Pre-season estimates of floor strength are even more hazardous than those in football because with only five men engaged at one time, addition of a sophomore star or two may change the entire caliber of a quintet.

Preliminary contests indicate that several of last year's weaker teams are strengthened so the schedule promises another of those hectic finishes for which Big Ten basket seasons are noted. Michigan, champion in 1927, naturally will command attention. Northwestern and Iowa in early games showed better form than a year ago. Purdue, Indiana, and Wisconsin are pretty consistently among the topnotchers. It ought to be a great year for the increasingly popular indoor sport.

There are rumors of trouble among local race tracks over allotment of dates for 1928. With some parts of the season better than other parts and with five tracks in the field, it would not be unnatural to find differences of opinion. The Wake believes, however, that all wrinkles will be ironed out in a spirit of compromise to give Chicago its biggest turf season. Racing and pugilism are two sports which do not thrive on quarrels among promoters.

There must be a winter leisure class even greater than we realized or else there are some over-sanguine promoters of golf courses in northern Florida and along the gulf coast in Mississippi. We have received six invitations to join clubs catering to Chicago patronage, all of them already built or under construction. There must be many to which we have received no invitation. Well, it's good sport (even if one does shoot well over the century mark) and we wish success to all of them.

The Love of Sport.

Yes, I play golf. What's that you say?
"I play because the others play;
The host of fools, I imitate."
Now, listen, sir, I'll tell you straight—
I like to see the world forget
Its troubles in a mixed quartet,
Fighting it out with ups and downs
Where skill alone the victor crowns.
Of course the world is full of those
Who golf to dress in golfing clothes,
And those who play for "business' sake,"
A part in the world of give and take;
But there are those who play for fun,
As others, because it is done,
But as for me I do not care
If others seek their fun elsewhere
So long as there's a happy three
To make a foursome at the tee.
I play and I will always play
Until my strength shall ebb away,
But know, so let me here explain,
I play because I love the game.

Referees—Dave Ritchie [Montreal] and Bobby Hewitson [Toronto].

BY HARLAND ROHM.

As a demonstration of how swift and how smooth a game hockey can be, Les Canadiens' half [or three-quarters] of the match with Chicago's Blackhawks at the Coliseum last night was mighty pretty, but from the home folks' standpoint it was not so hot, for they had to take their comfort from watching a crippled team putting up a game battle. Montreal won, 3 to 1, and if they had cared to carry their speed of the second period into the other two, the score might have been six or nine to one.

TEDDY GRAHAM.

Les Canadiens proved that a Flying Frenchman can fly faster than a hawk, especially when the hawk has both wings on crutches, so to speak. Even the goalkeepers' stops don't indicate the wide variation in the strength of the teams' attacks, for most of Hainsworth's nonchalant saves were on long shots while Gardiner managed to toss himself in the way of a lot of short ones.

Six Penalties in First Period.

In justice to the Hawks, however, they held the speedy Frenchmen even in the first period, twenty minutes of dazzling speed. Man for man Les Canadiens were faster, but by frequent substitutions the Hawks kept up the sizzling pace, and the puck was pushed back and forth from one goal to the other with the speed of a jai alai ball.

It was speed, not heavy body checking or deliberate fouls, which kept the penalty box occupied most of that period. Six penalties were handed out, but none of them was a savage foul and most of them infractions of the rules unavoidable at the speed with which both teams were traveling.

It took the Montreal crew just four minutes of the second period to salt the game away among the collection of victories that put them in the lead of the league by half a dozen games. The first goal came in two and a half minutes. The midget Joliat, who added two points to his lead in the league scoring during the game, slipped down the south side of the ice, flipped the puck to Morenz ten feet in front of the goal, and the speedy Howie put a high shot into the net.

The second goal came just a minute and a half later. Gagne drove through, again on the south side of the ice, and passed to a knot of players in front of the net. Several stabbed for it and Gardiner dove full length to intercept it, but the puck slid off directly in front of Joliat. He gave it a tentative poke, but it didn't go into the net, so he tapped it again and Les Canadiens led, 2 to 0.

Frenchmen Outspeed Hawks.

Leduc, who rates as a spare, but who played good enough hockey last night to be on any club's starting string, made the third goal without aid near the end of the period. Taking the puck in his own territory he sped through the Hawks' forwards, snaked between the defense men, faked Gardiner to one side and shot.

The Hawks began to drive harder than before but it was hopeless against the superior speed and teamwork of the Frenchmen. MacKay in particular had his troubles, for three times he tore down the ice with the puck in the last minutes and passed to the side to give some one else a shot, but no one was there to take the pass.

The Chicago fans got their first chance to yell in the third period and that was a third over before the Hawks got their first and only score by the finest single shot of the night. Little Teddy Graham, youthful defense man, took the puck on the rebound from a Montreal shot on the south side of the ice and slipped along the boards, outside the forwards and defense men. When nearly opposite the goal he tried a shot from an amazingly sharp angle, where the entrance to the goal couldn't have been more than inches wide, and the puck flew true between the posts.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR PLAYGROUND SKATE DERBIES

First Tournaments to Be Held This Week.

Want a Rink?

WANT an ice skating pond? Boys and girls who desire to build a rink for skating can get aid from Mayor Thompson's ice skating committee.

First find the owner of the lot you wish flooded and get his written permission to use the ground. This permission should be granted by use of a special application blank which can be secured from the offices of the ice skating committee in room 1004 city hall. After getting the owner's permission to use the lot, bank the sides sufficiently to eliminate possibility of overflowing and damage to other people's property and then take the blank back to room 1004 city hall.

An inspector will be sent out to see that the rink is O. K., and the fire department will be notified to flood the rink. There is no charge for this service.

HERMAN FISCHER.

Plans for the city-wide playground ice skating championship tournament and the selection of the Chicago schoolboy team have been completed, Herman J. Fischer and Theodore A. Gross, directors in charge of the board of education playgrounds and the municipal playgrounds, respectively, announced yesterday. The city-wide tournament is being sponsored by the Chicago playground council and the schoolboy championship team is being fostered by the board of education and Mayor Thompson's executive ice skating committee.

In 1922 Mayor Thompson organized a committee to sponsor ice skating and a team of schoolboy skaters was picked. Intercity competition between the Chicago team and school teams of New York, Pittsburgh, Detroit, Milwaukee, and Cleveland was held, and in each meet during the two years' existance of the Chicago team, 1922 and 1923, the Chicago boys were the champions.

Mayor Names Committee.

At the start of his present team Mayor Thompson again appointed an ice skating committee, and plans to further the competition started back in 1922 are being pushed rapidly. Members of the new committee appointed by the mayor follow:

J. Lewis Coath, chairman, Walter Wright, vice chairman; Herman J. Fischer, secretary; Frank M. Kalteux, director of sports; George K. Schmidt, treasurer; V. K. Brown, Harry Berz, Edward H. Blohm, Roy E. Davis, John A. English, Roy H. Fink, Charles H. Groll, A. W. Goodrich, Theodore A. Gross, Henry A. Kaiser, William C. Larson, James P. McWhirter, Edward A. Mahlke, Nicholas M. Malloy, N. C. Moegaard, Frank J. Reilly, Herbert G. Reynolds, Fred Schwind, Walter P. Sonnenleiter, Edward L. Wheeler, Richard W. Wolfe, and Jay Wyatt.

The playgrounds systems of the city involved in the city-wide championship meet include those of the Board of Education, Municipal playgrounds, West parks, South Parks, Lincoln Park, and the ten smaller park districts. There are 165 public playground ponds scattered throughout the city.

Hold District Meets.

Each playground pond will hold its own championship meet and the winners in these races will compete in the eight district championships. The individual championship tourneys of the playgrounds probably will be completed by the end of this week or early next week. The West Parks will hold their district tournament on Jan. 7, while the remainder of the district meets will be held Jan. 14. On Jan. 28 the city-wide Championship tournament will be run off at Lincoln Park.

The playground council expects to bring more than 10,000 boys and girls into competition with this series of tournaments. The children will compete in groups according to their ages, competition being scheduled in three divisions for the boys—junior, intermediate, and senior—and in two divisions—junior and senior—for the girls.

The selection of the schoolboy team will be made on the basis of the showing the skaters in the city wide championship tourney at Lincoln park. In the playground and city wide meets all boys and girls who attend a playground are eligible for competition, while membership in the schoolboy team is limited to skaters who are attending a public school and are in good scholastic standing.

Directors Fischer and Gross are attempting to schedule tournaments for the schoolboy team with teams from Pittsburgh, Detroit and Cleveland. In the event an inter-city meet is carded it will be held in February.

Sleipner Ice Skating Meet On Tonight

The thirty-fourth annual ice skating Derby of the Sleipner A. C. will be held tonight at Humboldt park. The tournament, which was postponed from last Sunday because of the poor condition of the ice, will start at 7:30 o'clock and the meet is sanctioned by the Western Skating association.

The same list of events carded for last Sunday will be run off and the same field of skaters, including all of the speediest racers of the city, will compete. The list of officials is headed by Edward A. Mahlke, president of the Western association, who will referee. J. M. Backer of the Sleipner club will be clerk of the course and director of the racing.

Nettlehorst playground skaters will stage an ice carnival tonight. H. C. Waterhouse, director of the playground, will be in charge of the carnival, and five speed races for senior men and three events for girls are scheduled. Following the races a costume parade will be held.

The Chicago championship tournament will be held by the Opal A. A. in connection with its annual ice Derby at Douglas park Sunday afternoon. An unusually large field of entries has been received by the Opal club and a record meet is predicted. The championship events are for senior men and senior girls. Racers for other class skaters also are carded.

Entry blanks are out for the Western Championship tournament, which will be held by the Western Skating association and the Northwest S. C. at Humboldt park on Jan. 15. Three races for senior men and two for senior girls are carded, along with the usual number of races for skaters of other classes.

Sharp Eyes Needed When Hunting Hares

BY BOB BECKER.

Hunters, trappers, and other outdoors men who spend much time in the north country at this time of the year have to look sharply to detect the snowshoe rabbit or hare as it pauses in or on the snow, because this animal is a good example of what the nature students call protective coloration.

The possessor of a dark coat of fur during the summer months, the snowshoe rabbit [it's really a hare] is given a white coat during the winter so that it is a less conspicuous object as it sits on the crust of the snow. If this animal would ever learn to keep his long ears down and if he could grow white eyes in the winter one would have even a more difficult time to find him in the snow.

We saw quite a few snowshoe hares when we were hunting in Ontario several weeks ago so we had an opportunity to "key" our eyes to a high pitch as the animals would "flush" before we observed them, run a few yards through the brush and then pause. The problem was, find the white animal against an expanse of white snow. It's not an easy trick and that's just as nature intended when this protective coloration idea was developed way back in the remote past.

One afternoon when Jack, our guide, was leading us to a new camp in the woods we jumped a snowshoe hare close to the trail. We saw it run to the left through a growth of young poplars. Inasmuch as we had no fresh meat we wanted that rabbit so both of us started a game of peek-a-boo through the brush with the idea of finding our supper and shooting it. The hare's long ears wig-wagged just enough for us to see the animal in the fading light of afternoon as its body was almost a perfect blend against the snow.

Fenger Heavies Win at Blue Island; Lights Lose

Fenger and Blue Island High school basketball teams divided honors in a double bill at Blue Island yesterday. The Fenger heavies won their ninth straight game, 26 to 9, while Blue Island lightweights were victors, 21 to 18. Heavyweight lineup:

Father of Calumet Golf Pro Dies in Scotland

Francis Knox, father of George Knox, professional at the Calumet Country club, is dead in Scotland at the age of 78. The father of the Chicago pro also was connected with golf and for years was professional and greens keeper and later manager of the Leith links, one of the oldest courses in Scotland. He was manager of a club at Seafield, near Edinburgh, before he retired.

Ruane Wins Hyams Purse at N. O. Oval

New Orleans, La., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Ruane, with Jockey Bowden up, won the Hyams purse, the feature race on this afternoon's program at the Fair grounds.

It was a gallop at a mile and a sixteenth, and Ruane came from behind after being outpaced for six furlongs, to score his triumph by a game run down the stretch.

Nets Backers $10.10.

Bowden, like all apprentice riders here, was denied the use of a whip, but he quickly forgot this handicap and began beating Ruane with his hand. Ruane responded to his desperate drive and in the stretch closed up on the leaders. Coming on the outside, Ruane finished in brilliant style and beat Marconi by a nose. The old campaigner, Fly Hawk, which seems to run every other day here, was third.

Ruane paid $10.60 in the mutuels. Marconi, with Jockey R. Workman on his back, was the favorite, and he flattered his backers as he stepped to the front as the barrier lifted, and continued to make the pace until Ruane came along with his mighty rush in the last furlong.

Big Sweep Wins.

Big Sweep won the six furlong secondary feature without much trouble from Dr. Street and Old Slip, which divided up the rest of the purse. The Lewis racer was backed so stoutly that he was the odds-on favorite at post time, rewarding his followers at only 41 cents for each dollar invested. He was in front nearly all the way.

Carpenters Start Work on Bike Track

Three hundred carpenters under Pat Mulvey, the veteran bicycle track builder, swarmed into the Coliseum last night after the hockey game was over and just as soon as the ice was removed work was started on the bicycle saucer for the six day race which starts Sunday night, with the sprint meet carded for Saturday night. The task of having the track ready is a big one but Mulvey who has been putting up tracks for years said it will be ready.

The track is made of pine and will contain 40,000 square feet. The strips are two inches wide and if placed end on end would stretch for a distance of sixteen miles. The turns are banked on an angle of forty-five degrees and the stretches are banked on an angle of 27 degrees. Mulvey says he will use a ton of nails in the bowl, but not a single nail will be driven into the riding surface of the saucer. The 300 carpenters expect to finish the track by Saturday noon so that the riders can have a workout in the afternoon.

Riders Arrive Today.

The six day stars along with John M. Chapman who with Paddy Harmon promotes the race, are due to arrive here today. The eastern stars were able to train on the roads up until the day they left New York and all will be in condition.

The races Saturday will be featured by a five mile motor paced match race between Bobby Walthour Jr. and Otto Petri, the German star. Goosens and McNamara will meet in a pursuit race. Fred Spencer, Stockholm, Winter, and Beckman are down for a four cornered match. Jimmy Walthour, the amateur champion of America, will meet Augie Benson, and Ted Becker in a mile match the best two in three heats.

Amateurs to Race.

Representatives of Chicago's cycling clubs—thirty-five in number—completed arrangements last night for the Western Indoor Bike championship meet to be held at the Coliseum Saturday night. Paddy Harmon, promoter of the six day bicycle race, and Frank M. Kalteux, president of the Barrett Athletic club, accepted the suggestion of the representatives that the title races be over a half mile and one mile distances.

Approximately 37 star amateur riders, including a number from Milwaukee and Detroit, will take part in the races. Among the most prominent are Gregory Flatow, Stanley Wesolowski, Augie Benson, Peter Smessaert, Al Vetrenten, Mike Rodack, and Ted Becker, winner of the junior outdoor championship at Louisville last season for the Star Cycle club. A silver trophy donated by Charles V. Barrett will be presented to the winner of the largest number of points.

Paris Sporting Club Ordered to Vacate Premises

PARIS, Jan. 4.—(AP)—The Sporting Club of Paris—France's national sporting club—has been ordered to vacate its premises, which are situated within the shadow of the Elysee Presidential palace. The French civil tribunal issued the order, ruling that an athletic club is "a commercial, industrial establishment."

The Sporting club's swimming pool, private boxing arena, gymnasium, restaurant, and laundry, are construed by the French law as infringing the municipal decree of 1847, which provides that the Rue d. L'Elysee shall contain only the private residences of families. The 1847 decree reads: "The Rue de L'Elysee must be occupied 'Bourgeoisement.'"

Failure to remove from number 10 Rue de L'Elysee will cost the Sporting club 500 francs daily. The restrictive laws originated when the Paris city limits were fixed.

Belle Plaine A. C. Holds Amateur Show Tonight

The next regular amateur boxing show of the Belle Plaine A. C. will be held tonight at their clubrooms, 3943 Lincoln avenue. Ten bouts comprise the card, all weights being represented. Matchmaker Marme has promised some new talent for this show and some lively bouts are expected.

Taylor Fights Ruth Tuesday; Title Not Up

Babe Ruth, who has been campaigning successfully among the bantams and featherweights, gets the biggest test of his ring career when he fights Bud Taylor Tuesday night at the north hall, Coliseum.

The weight for Tuesday's encounter is 126 pounds, which will give Babe an advantage of about five pounds over the bantamweight champion.

Ruth's first name is Roy and he was born in Pocatello, Idaho, the same town from which Spug Myers came. Ruth lived in Louisville during his boyhood. He has been in Chicago under the direction of Eddie McGovern of the south side for a year and now makes Chicago his home. He will be 22 years old Feb. 8.

Taylor came through the Canzoneri battle in great shape. Although Canzoneri won the judges' decision, newspaper men were divided in their opinion of the winner.

Radio Program by Four Stars Pleases Elmer

Jolson, Stones, Rogers Offer Selections.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

A four star, coast to coast, program was broadcast, 9:30 to 10:30, over WEBH last night.

Will Rogers, as impromptu soap box orator and sane but irresponsible master of ceremonies at the microphone at Beverley, Cal., carried off the honors of this particular occasion, as well as the stellar honors for the entire evening. He is "There," as we used to say, and he has "it," as we say it now. Incidentally, his Cal Coolidge take-off speech, entitled "Report on the condition of the country," must have made the hearers admire his nerve and at the same time wonder if President Coolidge was hearing it from his radio set.

Fred and Dorothy Stone, speaking and singing from Chicago, were excellent in their part of the circus. Paul Whiteman and his orchestra emblazoned a rich toned background in music. Fourth and last was Al Jolson, speaking and singing from New Orleans, and I judge he was fourth in point of interest.

The outpourings by the flute trio on the air from W-G-N, 9:30 to 10, were glorious. Here's urging a repeat of the same selections at a later date.

Among the several other programs of more than passing interest last evening was a Russian music program, W-G-N, 7:30 to 8:30, with Mark Love, one of the best of our Chicago bassos, and fittingly, a balalaika orchestra—this latter not only because that instrument speaks for Russia historically but because I noted with keen surprise that a combination of balalaikas of different size produces a tone remarkably like that from a harpischord. If the listener takes the trouble to note the frequent shifts from the minor to the major key when Russian vocal and orchestral music is on the air a new sense of enjoyment will be had out of it.

The special "Twelfth Night" program by the University of Chicago choir, through WLS, 9 to 9:25, held one's ear and attention, partly because of the unfamiliarity of several of the carols that were sung, and further because the selections were sung without accompaniment, a difficult performance for several reasons, as any one who has had choir experience well knows.

Two celebrities were on the New York 9 to 10 hour, through WMAQ, Barbara Maurel, soprano, and Felix Salmond, a noted English cellist. Playing on words, Miss Maurel is a marvel of lovable voice and singing manner.

At this moment the tones from a vibraphone at W-G-N, 10:30 to 11, are ringing, vibrating through this room. As between a balalaika and a vibraphone we would choose the latter.

AGREE ON PLAN FOR NEW WEST SIDE BOULEVARD

Plans to make Augusta street a 66 foot boulevard from Elston to Austin avenues, furnishing a new high speed artery through the west side, were agreed upon yesterday at a meeting of the city and west park board officials.

Dr. John Dill Robertson, president, said he believed the park board would be willing to issue $3,000,000 in bonds to finance the project providing control of the new boulevard were turned over to it by the city. The improvement would involve the removal of a 5 foot parkway on each side of the street, new pavement, signs and signals.

The following city councilmen were present and agreeable to the plan: Stanley Adamkewicz [31st], George Seif [35th], E. J. Kaindl [34], John S. Clark [30th], and Wiley W. Mills [37th].

Orange Crush Officials Freed in Blue Sky Case

Clayton J. Howel, president of the Orange Crush company, and W. D. Bost, 181 Lake Shore drive, second vice president of the same company, were dismissed yesterday on motion of Assistant State's Attorney Harold Levy when arraigned before Judge William E. Helander on a technical charge of violating the blue sky law. The prosecutor informed the judge that inasmuch as the charge appeared merely to be a technical one, he would agree.

Charles J. Webb Dies on Liner Bound for Honolulu

Charles J. Webb, former president of the Illinois Athletic club, died on Tuesday while on board a liner bound for Honolulu, according to word received in Chicago yesterday. Mr. Webb had left Chicago recently on a vacation trip. He was vice president of the International Seal and Lock company.

CITY'S BUSINESS LEADERS HONOR KITTLE AT RITES

"The career of Charles M. Kittle was a glorious thing to those who seek to express themselves in industry and commerce," the Rev. H. A. Balzell said yesterday afternoon in his sermon at the funeral of the late president of Sears, Roebuck & Co. in the Fourth Presbyterian church. Mr. Kittle died Sunday morning following an operation. He was 47 years old.

The ideals which Mr. Kittle realized in his comparatively brief career as an executive, Dr. Balzell commended to Mr. Kittle's associates in the mail order house, to his former associates in the Illinois Central railroad, of which three years ago he was senior vice president, and to the leaders in the business life of the city who filled the church.

"He fell in the prime of life standing on the threshold of even greater achievement," the minister said.

At the order of Julius Rosenwald, chairman of the board, the main plant and four retail stores of Sears, Roebuck & Co. were closed at 1 o'clock for the funeral. Many of the 10,000 employés attended the services.

Charles H. Markham, chairman of the Illinois Central, was among those at the funeral. He came from California to attend the services. Mr. Kittle's only child, Charles Markham Kittle, is a namesake of the railroad chief.

J. F. CLEVELAND, FORMER C. & N. W. OFFICIAL, IS DEAD

Josiah F. Cleveland, for many years land commissioner for the Northwestern railroad until his retirement in 1925, died yesterday at his home, 910 Michigan avenue, Evanston. He was 81 years old.

Mr. Cleveland came to Chicago in 1870 and became a member of an abstracting company. In 1880 he went to the Northwestern railroad where he advanced from the position of right of way agent to land commissioner. He served in the 153d Illinois Infantry during the civil war. For forty-three years he resided in Oak Park.

COBDEN GRAY, 65 years old, of 3164 North Clark street, retired policeman, died yesterday at the Illinois Masonic hospital of a heart attack. Before he retired in 1922 Gray was attached to the Sheffield avenue station. For years he had been on traffic duty at Clark street and Belmont avenue.

KIMBALL PIANOS

Within Reach of All Music Lovers

SO much has been said by musical authorities on the tonal beauty of the Kimball piano that the contrast between the price of the instrument and its outstanding merit tends to be overlooked.

Yet a great part of the achievement of the Kimball house lies in bringing unexcelled piano value within reach of all who appreciate faultless tone and graceful appearance.

It is for this purpose that all manufacturing processes are carried out within the Kimball factories—requiring immense production resources and organization to complete them.

Come and hear the Kimball—see the artistic period grands designed to celebrate our 70th anniversary. See the classic-modern styles, the reproducing grands, the uprights and the players. Whenever you call for a demonstration we shall be glad to see you.

The Kimball "One-Price" policy assures the same full, generous value to every purchaser

DEATH IN SUNSHINE

by securing space for yourself and loved ones in SLEEPY HOLLOW ABBEY, a community Mausoleum.

Entombment in the ABBEY takes away the awful sting of death, eliminates the thought that you have left your loved one out—far away in the cold, and gives you a heartfelt satisfaction that your loved one lies sleeping within the beautiful marble-lined building where the damp wintry blasts can never reach.

The uncertainties of life suggest immediate reservation. We should provide for ourselves and not depend upon others to do it for us.

Rockwell Kent 1927

Drawn by Rockwell Kent for the Chicago Tribune

Northern winds stirring Tribune trees in the Canadian wilderness . . . . Tribune ships throbbing under the burden of Tribune pulp wood bound for Tribune paper mills . . . . the roar of trains carrying Tribune newsprint to Tribune Tower, where batteries of presses whir through the night, spinning the news of the world

IN a little town deep in a Canadian timberland wilderness, the Chicago Tribune is born. A thousand miles from nowhere, the World's Greatest Newspaper takes its life from Tribune trees. The flashing axe of a mackinawed French-Canadian woodsman is the first step in the intricate process of newspaper-making which is only concluded when The Tribune is placed beside the coffee cup.

For each issue of The Chicago Sunday Tribune a square mile of virgin pulpwood is logged from Tribune land, made into paper in Tribune mills, carried in Tribune steamers to the Tribune Tower, printed on Tribune presses and delivered to Tribune readers.

Think of the news-gathering machinery, the production facilities, necessary to produce six million complete units each week!

Think of a distributing system geared up to make six million separate deliveries every seven days! Such is the titan task of The Tribune with its daily circulation of 775,044 and Sunday circulation of 1,152,481. By the economies of mass production, by control of its raw materials, The Tribune has met the constant problem of increasing costs—held its leadership among newspapers as the foremost producer of a quality publication at a quantity price. So successfully has The Tribune fought against rising costs that today it sells a full page in its Sunday issue for less than one-third of a cent per copy—a smashing full page in the World's Greatest Newspaper in the world's richest market! Each day's Tribune is not only a great achievement of mass manufacturing but of creative production as well. The Tribune's circulation is greater than any other standard size newspaper because famous journalists, cartoonists, authors and artists have made it the world's most interesting newspaper.

Tribune circulation marches on to new victories each month. On September 30th, 1927, the average circulation of The Sunday Tribune for the preceding half-year was 1,125,721—a gain of 75,000 over the same period a year ago. For November of 1927, The Sunday Tribune's average was 1,186,487—nearly 200,000 in excess of the circulation upon which its present rates are based! Such an overage of circulation without rate increase is unprecedented in newspaper history.

Sunday Tribune space is the focal point of buying for well-advised advertisers today. They are saving advertising dollars against the future by contracting at present rates. To buy this surplus circulation on a rising market—act TODAY!

IRON AND STEEL INDUSTRY LOOKS FOR BIGGER TRADE

BY O. A. MATHER.

The iron and steel industry starts the new year with the prospect of decided expansion, according to the midweek reviews. While price uncertainties still remain, there also is the prospect of a more stable market this year than prevailed in 1927.

"The last month of 1927 was like December, 1926, in being the lowest of the year in steel production," the Iron Age says. "But January operations now promise a larger rate of gain over December than the 8 per cent of a year ago. There was the difference, however, that 1926 had a definite autumn upturn, whereas last year there was a practically uninterrupted decline in output, beginning with April. Good specifications in the last ten days of December have started mills at a fair January rate, many now having orders that will keep them going through the month.

Drop in Pig Iron Output.

"Pig iron production in December was 96,960 tons a day, against 68,279 tons a day in November. In December, 1926, the daily rate was 99,712 tons, or nearly 15 per cent more than last month's output. For 1927 production was about 36,400,000 tons, compared with 39,373,000 tons in 1926.

"In production of steel 1927 was fifth among the leading years. The estimate of 43,250,000 tons of ingots shows a drop of 3,700,000 tons from 1926, the high year, but 1927 exceeded the average of the four years preceding it. Exports of iron and steel products from the United States in 1927 were about 2,190,000 tons. This was the largest total in six years, exceeding 1926 by 1 per cent. Imports fell off 33 per cent from 1926. Europe added close to 10,000,000 tons each of pig iron and steel production compared with 1926."

New High Mark in Loans.

The specter that the huge amount of the country's credit now being devoted to speculation may lead the federal reserve board to impose a check on such trading by increasing rediscount rates was raised again yesterday.

The New York stock exchange reported that its members on Dec. 31 were borrowing $4,432,907,321 to finance their customers' speculations in securities. This amount establishes a new high record and marks an increase of $341,011,018 during December. It also is an increase of $1,294,120,983 over a year ago. Such loans also have expanded $1,665,506,811 since May, 1926, when they have dropped to $2,767,400,510 following the collapse of the stock market.

As the result of the flow of gold abroad the net loss of gold to the United States last year is placed at $151,000,000 by the New York Federal Reserve bank. The net loss in December was about $67,000,000.

Birtman Electric Co. Doubles Its Dividend

Directors of the Birtman Electric company yesterday declared a quarterly payment of 50 cents a share, placing the stock on a $2 annual basis as compared with $1 previously. American Water Works directors raised the annual cash rate from 80 cents to $1 a share. The company also declared 1-40 a share in stock.

The Mortgage Clearing corporation declared a dividend of 20 per cent on the common stock. An extra payment of 25 cents was authorized by the Intertype corporation. The Power and Light Securities Trust declared an extra payment of three-one hundredths of a share of beneficial interest.

The Acme Steel company's first dividend under the new $5 rate is payable April 1 to stock of record March 30. The Chicago brokerage house sponsoring the company's stock erroneously announced Tuesday night that the new rate would also be paid on a dividend payable yesterday. This dividend is on the old $4 basis.

FINANCIAL NOTES

Sales of McClellan stores in 1927 rose to $11,942,188 from $9,486,549 in 1926. Neisner Brothers, Inc., had sales of $6,452,159 for the year, against $4,421,100 the year before.

Paine, Webber & Co. and MacRubin, Goodrich & Co. of Baltimore will offer today a new issue of $4,500,000 first mortgage 5½% sinking fund gold bonds of the James River Bridge corporation, dated Jan. 1, 1928, and due Jan. 1, 1958. The price is 100 and interest to yield 6.50%.

Offering of $3,000,000 Guantanamo and Western railroad first mortgage 6 per cent gold bonds, series A, due Jan. 1, 1958, is to be made today by Hemphill, Noyes & Co. The price is 97 and accrued interest, to yield about 6.22 per cent.

Pratt & Whitney Aircraft corporation shipped 263 aviation engines during 1927, its first production year, which with spare parts, involved $3,000,000. Orders of books with contracts negotiated and pending amount to almost $6,000,000.

Assets and stations of the Independent Wireless Telegraph company have been purchased by the Radio Corporation of America. Modern tube transmitters will be installed at the company's stations at New York, New London, and East Moriches, L. I.

Sears-Roebuck Acquires Detroit Retail Store Site

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Sears, Roebuck & Co., Chicago mail order house, announced today it had purchased a site six miles from the retail district of the city for the immediate construction of a two story retail department store and warehouse. Officials of the company said they expected to have the store operating next summer. The store will be devoted entirely to the retail trade and will carry a complete department store line of merchandise, according to the announcement.

B. F. Goodrich Offers Stock Buying Rights

New York, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Directors of the B. F. Goodrich company today offered stockholders rights to subscribe for one share of common stock at $75 for each six shares held as of record Jan. 13. The rights expire on Feb. 3. Issues will be made from stock now authorized but not issued. George M. Moffett, T. G. Graham and S. M. Jett were elected directors to fill vacancies. No action was taken to choose a successor for W. O. Rutherford as vice president.

Buckling Down

Organizing to meet constantly keener competition means more than a rigorous resolve to fight. It means, first, the gathering of all facts as to costs—among them the all-important facts as to fixed property charges, maintenance and depreciation. These are best supplied through American Appraisal Service.

NEW ISSUE

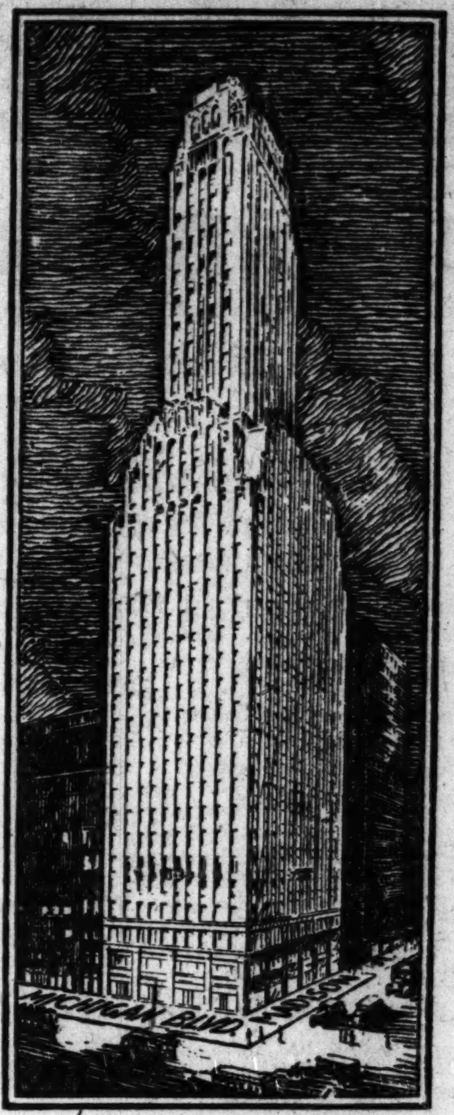
Willoughby Tower Building
(Willoughby Tower Building Corporation)
Southwest Corner of Michigan Avenue and Madison Street, CHICAGO
First Mortgage Leasehold 6% Serial Gold Bonds

Total issue of bonds under this mortgage will be $2,400,000, par value, of which $200,000, par value, in average maturities, will be subordinated in lien to the remainder of the issue and have already been sold or underwritten.

To be dated January 2, 1928 — Due in annual series, 1931 to 1943



SECURITY: These bonds are secured by a closed first mortgage upon the modern steel fireproof store and office building to be located at the southwest corner of Michigan Avenue and Madison Street, Chicago, Illinois, one of the choicest locations in Chicago for a high grade office building; together with the leasehold estate in the ground under this building.

VALUATION: The leasehold estate and the completed building have been appraised by two of Chicago's leading real estate valuators. The average of their valuations is $4,131,014. These bonds represent about 53% of this figure.

EARNINGS: A conservative independent estimate places the net earnings, before Federal Profits Tax, at over 2.57 times maximum interest on these bonds.

BUILDING: Willoughby Tower Building will have thirty-five floors, basement and sub-basement. The exterior will be mainly of Bedford stone. Interior finish will be high grade in all respects, and the structure as a whole, occupying one of the finest sites in Chicago, will be worthy of its setting.

LOCATION: The location, at the southwest corner of Michigan Avenue and Madison Street, is unexcelled for a building of this type, fronting on the central section of Chicago's leading boulevard, close to excellent transportation facilities of several kinds.

GENERAL: Completion free from mechanics' liens is guaranteed by surety bond and is also guaranteed by Peabody, Houghteling & Co. The principal stockholders of the Corporation are men of large means and wide real estate experience.

New Issue

$4,500,000
James River Bridge Corporation
First Mortgage 6½% Sinking Fund Gold Bonds

To be dated January 1, 1928 — To mature January 1, 1958

Coupon bonds $1,000 and $500 denominations, registerable as to principal. Interest payable semi-annually July 1 and January 1 in New York and Boston without deduction for normal federal income tax up to 2%. Callable at any time on thirty days' notice in whole or in part on or before January 1, 1931 at 105 and accrued interest, and thereafter and on or before January 1, 1957 at 105 and accrued interest, less ½ of 1% of face value for each period of three years or fraction thereof elapsing after January 1, 1931 to the date of redemption and after January 1, 1957 at face value and accrued interest. Refund of certain Connecticut, District of Columbia, Maryland, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Virginia taxes, upon timely and proper application as provided in the Mortgage. The National Shawmut Bank of Boston, Trustee.

PROPERTY: The James River Bridge Corporation was incorporated under the laws of the State of Virginia for the purpose of constructing, owning and operating three highway toll bridges which will afford the only direct highway connection between Newport News and the Norfolk and Portsmouth district, Virginia. These bridges will consist of one bridge approximately 4½ miles long extending from Newport News to the southern bank of the James River and two shorter bridges, one crossing Chuckatuck Creek and the other the Nansemond River. Improved roads will connect the three bridges with each other and with the existing highways leading to Newport News and to Norfolk. It is expected that the two smaller bridges will be opened for traffic the latter part of 1928 and the larger bridge in the summer of 1929.

These three bridges will make possible a direct highway route of about twenty-five miles between Newport News and Norfolk. This chain of bridges will constitute an adjunct to the Virginian State Highway development program and will be an important link in the Atlantic Coastal Highway. The bridges will also connect the eastern end of the Midland Trail from St. Louis to Norfolk with the northern portion of the Coastal Highway.

EARNINGS: A thorough study of traffic conditions in the vicinity of the three bridges has been completed by two experienced engineering organizations acting independently of each other. Their reports include a careful analysis of the traffic statistics compiled by the Virginia Highway Commission for use in formulating its road-building program, and their estimates of earnings are based primarily upon such data combined with a thorough study of conditions at the locations of the bridges, highway movement in the tributary territory, through routes, motor vehicle registration and population in the territory tributary to the bridges. As a result there has been prepared the following estimate of earnings for the first full year of operation, which is believed to be conservative:

Gross revenue	$1,209,778
Operating expenses and taxes	235,000
Net earnings before interest, depreciation and federal taxes	$974,778
Annual interest on $4,500,000 First Mortgage Bonds	292,500

Such estimated net earnings are more than 3 1-3 times the maximum annual interest charge of $292,500 on these bonds.

SECURITY: The bonds will be secured by a Closed First Mortgage on the three bridges, franchises, lands, and other properties of the Company necessary for the completion and maintenance of the bridges now owned or hereafter acquired. It is estimated the appraised valuation of the entire project, including the three bridges upon completion, will be in excess of $8,000,000, so that the total amount of these Closed First Mortgage bonds will represent less than 57% of the value of the property mortgaged. The property will be insured against loss by fire, tornado and other casualties.

FRANCHISES: The necessary approval of the War Department has been obtained. The bridges will be constructed under a special act of the Legislature of the State of Virginia which provides that the larger bridge may be purchased by the State at the end of twenty-five years after it is opened or at the end of any five-year period thereafter, and that the two smaller bridges may be purchased at the end of five years after they are opened, or at the end of any five-year period thereafter.

Price 100 and interest, to yield 6.50%

Paine, Webber & Co. Emery, Peck & Rockwood Co.

These bonds are offered for delivery when, as and if issued and accepted by us and subject to approval of counsel. The legality of this issue will be approved by Messrs. Ropes, Gray, Boyden & Perkins, Boston, who will rely upon Virginia counsel on all questions of land titles and of Virginia law. All statements herein are based on information which we regard as reliable and, while we do not guarantee them, we ourselves have relied upon them in the purchase of this security.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

O-G LEASES SHOP IN NEW MARYLAND CINEMA BLOCK

BY AL CHASE.

O'Connor & Goldberg, footwear chain store operators, have leased the store space on the southeast corner of Maryland Theater and Office building, now being erected by the 63d Street and Maryland Avenue Building corporation. This project was announced in the Sunday real estate section of THE TRIBUNE, May 29, 1927. It is on the site of the old Woodlawn theater and was sold by Andrew Karzas to B. F. Lindheimer for a reported $1,063,000.

The plans for the project have been somewhat changed since the original announcement. The building will be a one, two and four story office and store building of fireproof construction. In addition there'll be an 1,800 seat cinema, which, as already announced, has been leased to Balaban & Katz. S. W. Straus & Co. have underwritten a $1,600,000 first mortgage fee and leasehold bond issue on the entire project.

The property fronts 275 feet on 63d, east from Maryland avenue to an alley, with a depth of 266 feet on Maryland, to 63d place. The piece 86x125 on Maryland avenue is held under a lease which has ninety-eight years to run, the remainder of the property being held in fee.

There'll be space for seventeen store units in the project and approximately 100 offices which will be designed for both commercial and professional service. Special equipment for physicians and dentists will be provided. Alfred S. Alschuler is architect.

Orlando Noble of the plumbing firm of Noble & Thumm has purchased twenty-six acres at Pratt boulevard and Kostner street in Tessville from Charlotte M. Stevens, an attorney. The price was not disclosed but the sale was made subject to an incumbrance of $51,000. Mr. Noble has no plans for the immediate development of the property, holding it for investment.

Mrs. Sara M. Friedman has sold the property at 319 Sheridan road, Winnetka, overlooking the lake, to E. Mansfield Jones of the Continental National bank for an undisclosed consideration. The land fronts 200 feet on Sheridan road, a few feet north of Elder Lane park, and is improved with a three story residence designed by Pond & Pond. A. C. F. Gedge of the Winnetka office of Hill & Stone was broker. Herbert J. Friedman and Charles E. Pain were attorneys.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

There is said to be a fair accumulation of wheat on breaks, and there is a growing belief that prices are not out of line and that values are likely to hold close to the present level for some time. A large part of the professionals are buying Winnipeg and selling Chicago May, and there are a number of local operators and commission houses who are buying July and selling May, believing there will be a large carryover and that May wheat will weaken.

Several of the largest commission houses were good buyers of corn futures yesterday on weak spots. The head of one of the largest commission houses said he sees no good reason why corn should not be merchandised at about the present level, and that he does not look for values to decline to any extent. The movement in the middle west is light, and in the west liberal. A good part of the receipts here are from the Missouri river points.

Chicago Board of Trade dues for 1928 have been fixed by the directors at $200, the same as last year.

THE UNITED STATES PARCEL POST BUILDING COMPANY

6¼% First Mortgage Leasehold Serial Gold Bonds

Dated December 1, 1927 — Due Serially December 1, 1929, to June 1, 1943

THE NEW YORK TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE

Security: This issue is secured in opinion of counsel by a First Mortgage on the leasehold estate comprising approximately 24,549 square feet and five-story and basement, steel, brick and stone exterior building containing approximately 127,664 square feet, including Post Office equipment owned by the corporation. The lease to building site is for 99 years at annual rental of $29,662.50 until 1930. In 1930 annual ground rental will be increased to $32,487.50, which increase in rental is applied towards the purchase of fee. The lease further provides that fee may be purchased outright at any time at option of The United States Parcel Post Building Company and is also renewable for further period of 99 years from date of expiration. Legal title to premises has been passed upon by Messrs. Day and Day, Cleveland, Ohio, and certificate of title has been issued on land by the Title Insurance Company, Cleveland, Ohio. Adequate fire, tornado and liability insurance will be carried at all times, payable to Trustee for protection of bondholders. Purpose of this issue is to retire bonds of this corporation which are outstanding at higher interest rates.

Basement and first three floors are occupied by the United States Government Post Office Department, under non-cancellable leases at an annual rental of $78,072.50. The two upper floors are occupied by two responsible firms at an annual rental of $27,367.20 until January 1, 1930 and beginning 1930 the same tenants will pay an annual rental of $34,209.00, making total annual rental for the building, beginning January 1, 1930, $112,281.50.

Valuation: The leasehold estate in land, building and equipment owned by the corporation have been appraised by F. J. Bachelder & Co., Inc., Chicago, Illinois, as follows: Leasehold Estate $264,325.00; Building $574,217.00; Equipment $17,500.00; Total Valuation $856,042.00.

ADVERTISE IN THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE

CALLS PERSONAL ABILITY BASIS OF REAL PROSPERITY

BY HARPER LEECH.

That easy money doesn't necessarily mean easy business for the individual firm or corporation was the gist of the message brought yesterday to the Chicago Association of Commerce by President Eugene M. Stevens of the Illinois Merchants' Trust company. The big crowd which greeted him was both a tribute to the man and testimony to the persistent appetite of the business public for forecasts.

Yielding to none in his assurance as to the fundamental soundness of the present and confidence as to the future, Mr. Stevens stressed the element of personal ability, adaptability and responsibility in the problem of perpetuating and extending American prosperity.

He intimated that we shall not soon see a repetition of the days of 1918 and 1919, with a crop of new rich sired by the momentum of a rising price level.

"Progress is the normal, depression is the abnormal" in American economic life, Mr. Stevens declared, as he surveyed the business trend of recent years and noted how the fatalistic curves and undulations of the business cycle hypotheses have been knocked askew by a new world set up, and far reaching innovations in American methods of production and distribution.

◆

Attributing much of the present business stability which has made for general prosperity, while intensifying the profit making problem of the individual business, to our more adaptable credit system, Mr. Stevens noted, however, that in the last few years the percentage of banking assets eligible to rediscount had fallen from 47 to 40 per cent, as corporations have financed themselves and reduced bank lines, at the same time that the more general distribution of the ownership of their securities has naturally made their stocks and bonds the bases of a greater volume of credit transactions. While by no means all loans on securities are in aid of speculative transactions, Mr. Stevens noted that this process cannot go on forever, and while it is not a thing to worry about now, it carries with it the inevitable eventuality of firmer money.

◆

He noted also that closer supervision of foreign financing in order that it may conform to the general purposes of world stability and productiveness is in prospect. In his look abroad Mr. Stevens found satisfaction in recent gold movements and confidence that the machinery provided for transfers in the Dawes plan will be found adequate when that problem confronts the world next September.

The popular attitude toward Business today makes the coming presidential campaign presumptively of small concern, he thinks.

One of the most gratifying indications today is a very large volume of small buying of steel and building materials, he reported.

In retrospect of 1927 Mr. Stevens told of an executive who remarked that if his concern had had so good a year three or four years back "we would have given a banquet over it."

"We are richer today than a year ago," he remarked, and in describing the unprecedented levels of individual income and consumption in America today he said that it was certainly an open question as to whether prosperity had brought high wages or high wages had caused prosperity.

AUBURN AUTO RIDES TO 6¾ POINT GAIN IN CHICAGO STOCK MART

Chicago stocks were strong yesterday, advances ranging up to more than 6 points. Auburn Automobile jumped 6¾ to 127½ on buying attributed to pool action in connection with the forthcoming announcement of new models which will be introduced at the winter automobile shows. National Standard gained 2¼ to 40¾.

Interest in packing shares was developed on the belief that with the South American situation settled 1928 will make a good showing for the meat industry. Armour preferred sold up 1½ to 70, and on trading not quite so active the "A" stock advanced 2 points to 14. Swift International was another strong spot.

Middle West Utilities advanced 1⅝ and Montgomery Ward gained a point. Fractional gains were registered by Pines Winterfront, Sears-Roebuck, National Electric Power "A" and Warner Gear. Stewart-Warner eased a minor fraction and Bastian-Blessing acted soft. On small sales, Chicago, North Shore and Milwaukee sold up 2 points and Central and Southwest Utilities was up 1⅝. American Shipbuilding declined 3½ and U. S. Gypsum and Celotex were off a point each.

The governing committee of the exchange listed 45,000 shares of 6½ per cent preferred stock of the Walgreen company together with 90,000 warrants for common stock. There also were listed 50,000 shares of $10 par common stock of the Kalamazoo Stove company and $1,200,000 par value Federal Public Service corporation first lien 6 per cent series of 1927 bonds.

First Mortgage 6% Gold Bonds, Series A
Due January 1, 1958

Senor Don Antonio San Miguel, President of Guantanamo and Western Railroad Company, has summarized in part his letter dated December 14, 1927, as follows:

PROPERTY: Guantanamo and Western Railroad Company, incorporated in Maine, owns and operates about 91 miles of railway in the Province of Oriente, Republic of Cuba, extending from San Luis, where connection is made with the lines of The Cuba Railroad Company, to the Port of Boqueron on Guantanamo Bay. The main terminals are located in the City of Guantanamo and at the Port of Boqueron which is adjacent to the United States Naval Station. The Company serves an important sugar-producing territory and sugar mills with a total capacity of over 1,000,000 bags per annum. Over 90% of the tonnage carried originates on the Company's lines. The country traversed is capable of extensive additional development.

SECURITY: The Bonds, in the opinion of counsel, will be secured, upon redemption of outstanding obligations as stated below, by a direct first mortgage on all railway lines, equipment, terminals, and other physical property now owned or hereafter acquired by Guantanamo and Western Railroad Company, subject only, as to after acquired property, to existing liens thereon, or to purchase money liens created in connection with such acquisition. The total amount of Bonds to be at any time outstanding is limited to $5,000,000. After giving effect to this financing, these $3,000,000 Series A Bonds will be the only funded debt of the Company.

Additional Bonds (other than Bonds for refunding) may be issued for additions and improvements, under restrictions to be set forth in the Indenture, for an amount not to exceed 80% of the cost or fair value, whichever is less.

PROPERTY VALUATION: The value of the properties to be directly subject to the mortgage securing these Bonds was appraised as of September 1, 1927, by Messrs. Coverdale & Colpitts, Consulting Engineers, on the basis of reproduction cost less depreciation, at over $8,500,000, or over 2¾ times the principal amount of these Series A Bonds.

EARNINGS: Earnings of Guantanamo and Western Railroad Company for seven years ended June 30, 1927, as certified by Messrs. Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co., were as follows:

Year ended June 30	Gross revenues including non-operating income	Net earnings available for interest after operating expenses, maintenance and all taxes except income taxes
1922	1,464,103	604,830	393,282
1923	1,102,831	342,781	253,434
1924	1,143,450	483,005	392,658
1925	1,332,761	520,352	417,680
1926	1,299,515	374,576	266,397
Average	$1,302,646	$481,547	$330,356

Net earnings for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1927, as stated above, were equal to about 2½ times the annual interest on these Bonds and, after deducting reserves for depreciation, to about twice such interest requirements. For the seven years ended June 30, 1927, average annual net earnings were equal to over 2⅜ times and, after deducting reserves for depreciation, to over 1¾ times the annual interest on these Bonds. The reserves for depreciation for each of the above years have been at the rate of at least 4% of the cost of buildings, bridges, rolling stock, shop equipment and tools.

PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds of these Series A Bonds will be applied to the payment of a 6% Loan of $450,000 from the Cuban Government due in 1928, $600,000 First Mortgage 6% Bonds due in 1929 and $1,878,500 Refunding Mortgage 6% Bonds due in 1948; the Bonds referred to are to be presently called for redemption.

Legal details in connection with this issue will be passed upon by Messrs. Cadwalader, Wickersham & Taft, New York, and Dr. Mendez Capote, Havana. We offer these Bonds for delivery when, as and if authorized, issued and accepted by us subject to approval of legal proceedings by our counsel.

Price 97% and Accrued Interest, To Yield About 6.22% to Maturity

BUSINESS: The Kalamazoo Stove Company, incorporated under the Laws of Michigan in June, 1901, manufactures and sells direct to consumer a complete line of stoves, ranges, and furnaces. These products are sold by mail, through the medium of a catalog and through twenty-five factory owned branches.

The company is wholly unique in that it combines manufacturing with the manifold advantages of mail order selling, controlling the output and sale of its products straight from the factory to the actual users. It is in a peculiarly favored position, unhindered and unfettered by the complications of the usual distributing problems.

The business of the company is national in scope and character. A large percentage of the sales are made in the rural and small town market, where an extensive and consistent advertising program is maintained by the use of rural magazines.

SALES AND EARNINGS:

Year	Net Sales	Net Income After Taxes	Earned per Share on 50,000 Shares
1923	$1,622,475.07	$191,853.97	$ 3.83
1924	1,963,999.95	296,727.88	5.93
1925	2,439,238.68	437,733.25	8.75
1926	3,026,058.43	524,319.89	10.48
1927 Estimated	3,250,000.00	549,275.00	10.99

BOOK VALUE: Based on Balance Sheet prepared by Ernst & Ernst as of December 31, 1926, and after giving consideration to appraisal of American Appraisal Company, the book value of each share of Common Stock was $42.94, and through the reinvestment of 1927 earnings it is expected that the book value will be in excess of $50.00 per share on Dec. 31, 1927.

DIVIDENDS: Directors have declared their intention of placing this stock on an annual dividend basis of $4.50, beginning with the calendar year of 1928. Dividends will be paid quarterly on the first of April, July, October and January.

This stock is listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange and the Detroit Stock Exchange.

Statement of Condition of the OUTLYING BANKS of CHICAGO

Serving the Northwest Side

Three Neighborhood National Banks

Combined Resources Over Eleven Million Dollars

These national banks are rendering efficient, constructive service to business men, residents and property owners on the Northwest side of Chicago.

An affiliated institution, the IRVING NATIONAL MORTGAGE COMPANY, has funds for first mortgage loans on improved Chicago property and sells these investments to conservative investors, insurance companies, banks and trust companies. In 1927 this organization sold first mortgages totaling over $3,000,000—conclusive proof of its sound principles and satisfactory service.

CHICAGO BANKS ENTER 1928 WITH RECORD DEPOSITS

BY O. A. MATHER.

Although business and industry last year were somewhat less active than in 1926, Chicago banks enter this year with both loans and deposits at the high point in their history. As the result of slower business, deposits increased more than loans, thus reversing the trend of 1926.

The increase in loans suggests that a larger demand for credit for purposes of speculation largely offset the smaller amount of credit required for commercial purposes. But that last year was highly prosperous, with little unemployment and high wages, is indicated by a larger increase in savings deposits than occurred in 1925.

Evidently industrial workers practiced thrift at the same time that they maintained a high standard of living. The fact that deposits increased more than loans suggests relatively easy money market conditions for the early part of this year.

Slack in Business Indicated.

The banks made reports of their conditions yesterday as of Dec. 31 in response to calls issued by the controller of the currency and the Illinois state auditor. Compared with Dec. 31, 1926, the consolidated statements for all Chicago banks show the following changes: Loans and discounts increased $77,479,000; total deposits increased $126,169,000; cash resources declined $20,505,000, and savings deposits increased $21,856,000.

Slackening in business in the latter part of last year added to the usual seasonal winter dullness is evidenced in the current reports when compared with the statements made in response to the last previous calls as of Oct. 10, 1927. Loans and discounts declined $21,158,000, total deposits increased $33,311,000, cash resources increased $38,082,000, and savings deposits increased $25,145,000.

Comparisons of the statements of the national and state bank groups with three months and a year ago are valueless and so not made because of the consolidation on Dec. 1 of the Continental and Commercial National and Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings banks into the new Continental National Bank and Trust company and the absorption of the National Bank of Commerce by the Chicago Trust company.

New Directors Named.

Annual meetings of Chicago banks were started yesterday and from among those held came announcements of a number of new directors, officers and promotions. All of the officers of the Standard Trust and Savings bank, recently absorbed by the National Bank of the Republic, were made officers of the enlarged institution. In addition, new officers elected were: Vice president, William V. Crowley; assistant cashiers, Frank J. Itzel, G. F. Kuehnle, W. W. McIlvaine, and George J. Smith. Other changes were:

BINGA STATE—Charles S. Jackson, director and second vice president; W. B. Cowan and Carl G. Roberts, directors; J. R. Marshall, first vice president, and I. V. Cantey, auditor.

CHELTENHAM STATE — W. A. Woodsworth, director.

NATIONAL REPUBLIC COMPANY—W. C. Freeman, S. C. Vigo and J. B. Van Vleck, vice presidents.

NATIONAL REPUBLIC MORTGAGE COMPANY—F. C. Hassler, vice president; E. A. Degen, sales manager.

Increase in Morris Loans.

The Chicago Morris Plan bank announced that total loans made in 1927 were 36,224, an increase of 7,187 from the preceding year. The amount loaned totaled $9,098,651, a gain of $1,393,566 over 1926. Profits totaled $200,174, or 13.3 per cent of the invested capital. At the close of the year the capital, surplus, and undivided profits totaled $1,500,000.

Following a steady to 10c lower opening yesterday, market for hogs weakened as the day progressed, finishing at the low point in view of a liberal increase in receipts during the last half of the week. Best kinds held at $9.00 early, but stopped at $8.90 in midsession. A big share of the day's offerings cleared at $8.65@8.90, the general average lowering 10c at $8.75, against $8.45 the previous Wednesday.

Word that 66,000 hogs were on the way for today's trade had a depressing effect on the trade and instances of 15@25c decline were cited late. This supply stands within 3,900 of the largest since January, 1926. The largest day last year was 69,905 in March. In 1926 the largest day was 79,507 in January.

Cattle continued to advance, but slowed up after the release of an advance estimate of 12,000 for today, the largest for Thursday since middle of November. Buyers proceeded cautiously on afternoon rounds, but with most offerings sold at first quotations, hardly enough remained to test the late market. Choice 1,418 lb Nebraska steers topped the list at $18.25. A string of 71 cattle averaging 1,293 lbs reached $18.00. Butcher stock held firm, baby beef heifers averaging 726 lbs bringing $13.50. Calves tumbled 25@50c. Stockers and feeders moved slowly.

Choice light lambs are more scarce and the best yesterday advanced 10c at $13.60, while medium and weighty stock moved slowly at weak prices, in spots selling at slight losses. Most handy weights cleared at $13.00@13.50, with medium and heavy at $11.75@12.75. Aged and yearling sheep met fair demand at little change. Fancy lamb weight yearlings averaging 80@85 lbs brought $11.25.

WESTERN MEAT STOCKS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Meat stocks at western packing points increased 26,466,733 lbs last month, against 11,983,000 lbs last year, and made the largest gain for December since 1924, when the accumulation was 87,983,589 lbs. Total stocks as compiled by Schwarz & Co. aggregate 188,645,000 lbs, against 156,120,000 lbs last year.

An easy tone prevailed in lard yesterday, with trading mainly in liquidating January contracts and changing from this month to May at 35c difference.

Packing in the west for the season to date, as given by the Price Current-Grain Reporter, aggregates 5,947,100 hogs, against 5,624,500 hogs last year. Prices follow:

WHEAT HOLDS IN NARROW RANGE; CORN ADVANCES

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

While wheat prices held within a range of ½@¾c, there was a firm undertone a good part of the day, with the finish ⅛c higher to ⅛c lower, the latter on July. March closed at $1.30⅝; May, $1.32@1.32⅛, and July, $1.27¾. Corn was slightly easier early, but there was aggressive commission house and local buying, and the close was ⅝@1c higher, with March 87⅛@87¼c, and May 90⅛@90⅝c. Oats were ⅛@¼c higher, and rye unchanged to ⅜c lower.

Aggregate trade in wheat was not large, with part of the business in closing spreads between here and Winnipeg, the selling being in the latter market, which caused it to close ½c lower for the day, with May there around 5c over Chicago compared with 6c recently. Houses with Minneapolis connections were sellers here against purchases in their own market, presumably switching hedges.

Prospects for better weather and an increase in the movement led to scattered selling of corn early, but there was no material pressure, and when a leading local professional started to buy prices advanced sharply and at the top showed 1¼@1½c over the early low.

Country holders showed no disposition to sell cash corn to arrive freely, and arrivals here were only 141 cars, with the spot basis steady to 1½c higher.

Trade in oats was small and market easily influenced, with strength in corn the main factor. There was 50,000 bu sold to go to store. Good part of the trade in rye was in exchanging between March and May at ½c difference. A local house has canceled warehouse receipts for 135,000 bu in public elevators and it will be shipped to the seaboard on export billing. The seaboard reported 40,000 bu sold abroad.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Gains written up in the morning in many instances were erased in late trading on the stock exchange today. The reëstablishment of the 4½ per cent call money rate failed to avert a final hour reaction. Speculative Wall street was in high glee as the cost of banking accommodations dropped by two readjustments from 5½ per cent.

The market's first response to the lowering was a burst of strength. There followed some irregularity, and later, when the rate was marked down to 4½ per cent, buying was stimulated to such an extent that a vigorous forward movement was begun. Shortly before the close, however, the list began to waver again, and at 3 o'clock there were evidences of positive weakness.

Trade Exceeds 3,200,000 Shares.

As on the day before, the market's natural leaders were the least favored in the buying. Trading was in large volume, exceeding 3,200,000 shares. Much of the selling which turned the market downward at the close was said to represent profit taking by traders who had waited so that their gains would not be taxable this year.

The way the market moved is best shown by the action of the following representative stocks: Allied Chemical touched a high of 155¼, then dropped to 154⅝, to close with a net gain of 1⅜ points. Atchison opened at 193 and sold off to close at 192½, suffering a net loss of 1½ points. General Motors rose to 139½ and then declined to 138⅝. Its net gain for the day was 1⅛ points.

Speculators Buy New Haven.

Goodrich sold off from its opening price of 99⅝ to close at 94½ for a net loss of 3⅝ points. Hudson Motors closed at 85, off 1¼ points. New York Central at 162 was off 1⅜ points. Radio Corporation clased at 91, off 1⅝ points, while United States Steel common, closing at 151 after having risen to 152¼, showed a fractional loss.

New Haven common enjoyed an impressive buying movement which lifted its priced to 64⅝, the highest in ten or twelve years, and marked an advance of 2⅞ points from the day's low. This was the feature of a fairly quiet day in the rail group. The buying was said to come from a group of speculators who expect common stock dividends to be resumed this year.

Southwest Telephone.

H. R. M.—The Southwest Telephone company furnishes telephone service without competition (except in one community) to ninety-two towns and adjacent rural areas in Arkansas, Oklahoma, and Texas.

The company is issuing $1,500,000 first mortgage 6 per cent bonds, series C, making a total of $2,667,400 first mortgage bonds now outstanding.

These earnings for the latest fiscal year are equal to over 2.3 times the annual interest requirements of $161,729 on all the first mortgage bonds now outstanding, including the present issue.

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—(AP)—Heavy buying of oil shares and a few specialties featured today's strong curb market. Standard Oil of Kentucky added 2 points to its recent steady advance, selling above its 1927 high. Creole Syndicate gained more than a point, but later lost about half of it. Gulf Oil turned reactionary on realizing.

Firestone Tire and Seiberling Rubber invaded new high territory. Bancitaly was heavily purchased at rising prices. American Rolling Mills again gave a good account of itself, gaining more than 4 points. Midland Steel products common, which displayed heavy tendencies in recent sessions, also had a good gain. Other former favorites which displayed strength included General Bronze, Hellman warrants, and General Baking B.

The bond market continued to await the development of the reinvestment demand. Denver & Rio Grande Western 5s led the railway group, advancing to 91⅛, the highest price in more than a year, on sales aggregating more than $200,000 par value. The price later fell back a point. Erie convertible 4s A also exceeded their 1927 peak. High grade rail liens were generally quiet. Some of the St. Paul bonds continued to gain.

General Asphalt 6s, Armour of Delaware 5½s, and Philadelphia Reading Coal and Iron 5s were the outstanding strong spots in the industrial group, and International Telephone 4½s led the utilities. Brooklyn Union Gas declined on profit taking.

A firm trend was followed by most of the foreign issues, special attention being received by United Steel Works 6½s, with warrants. Liberty bonds were inclined to heaviness, but treasury obligations showed a slight tendency to advance. Except for a jump of about 10 points in Spanish pesetas to 17.25 cents the leading foreign exchanges were reactionary. Sterling dropped about ¼ of a cent, cables being quoted around $4.87 27-32.

Decrease Is Reported in Freight Car Loadings

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Loading of revenue freight for the week ended on Dec. 24 totaled 829,006 cars, according to reports filed today by the railroads. This was a decrease of 39,156 cars from the preceding week, reductions being reported in the loading of all commodities except grain and grain products and coal. The total, however, is an increase of 60,966 cars above the same week in 1926, which included Christmas holiday. Miscellaneous freight loading for the week totaled 276,863 cars, an increase of 24,359 cars over the corresponding week in 1926.

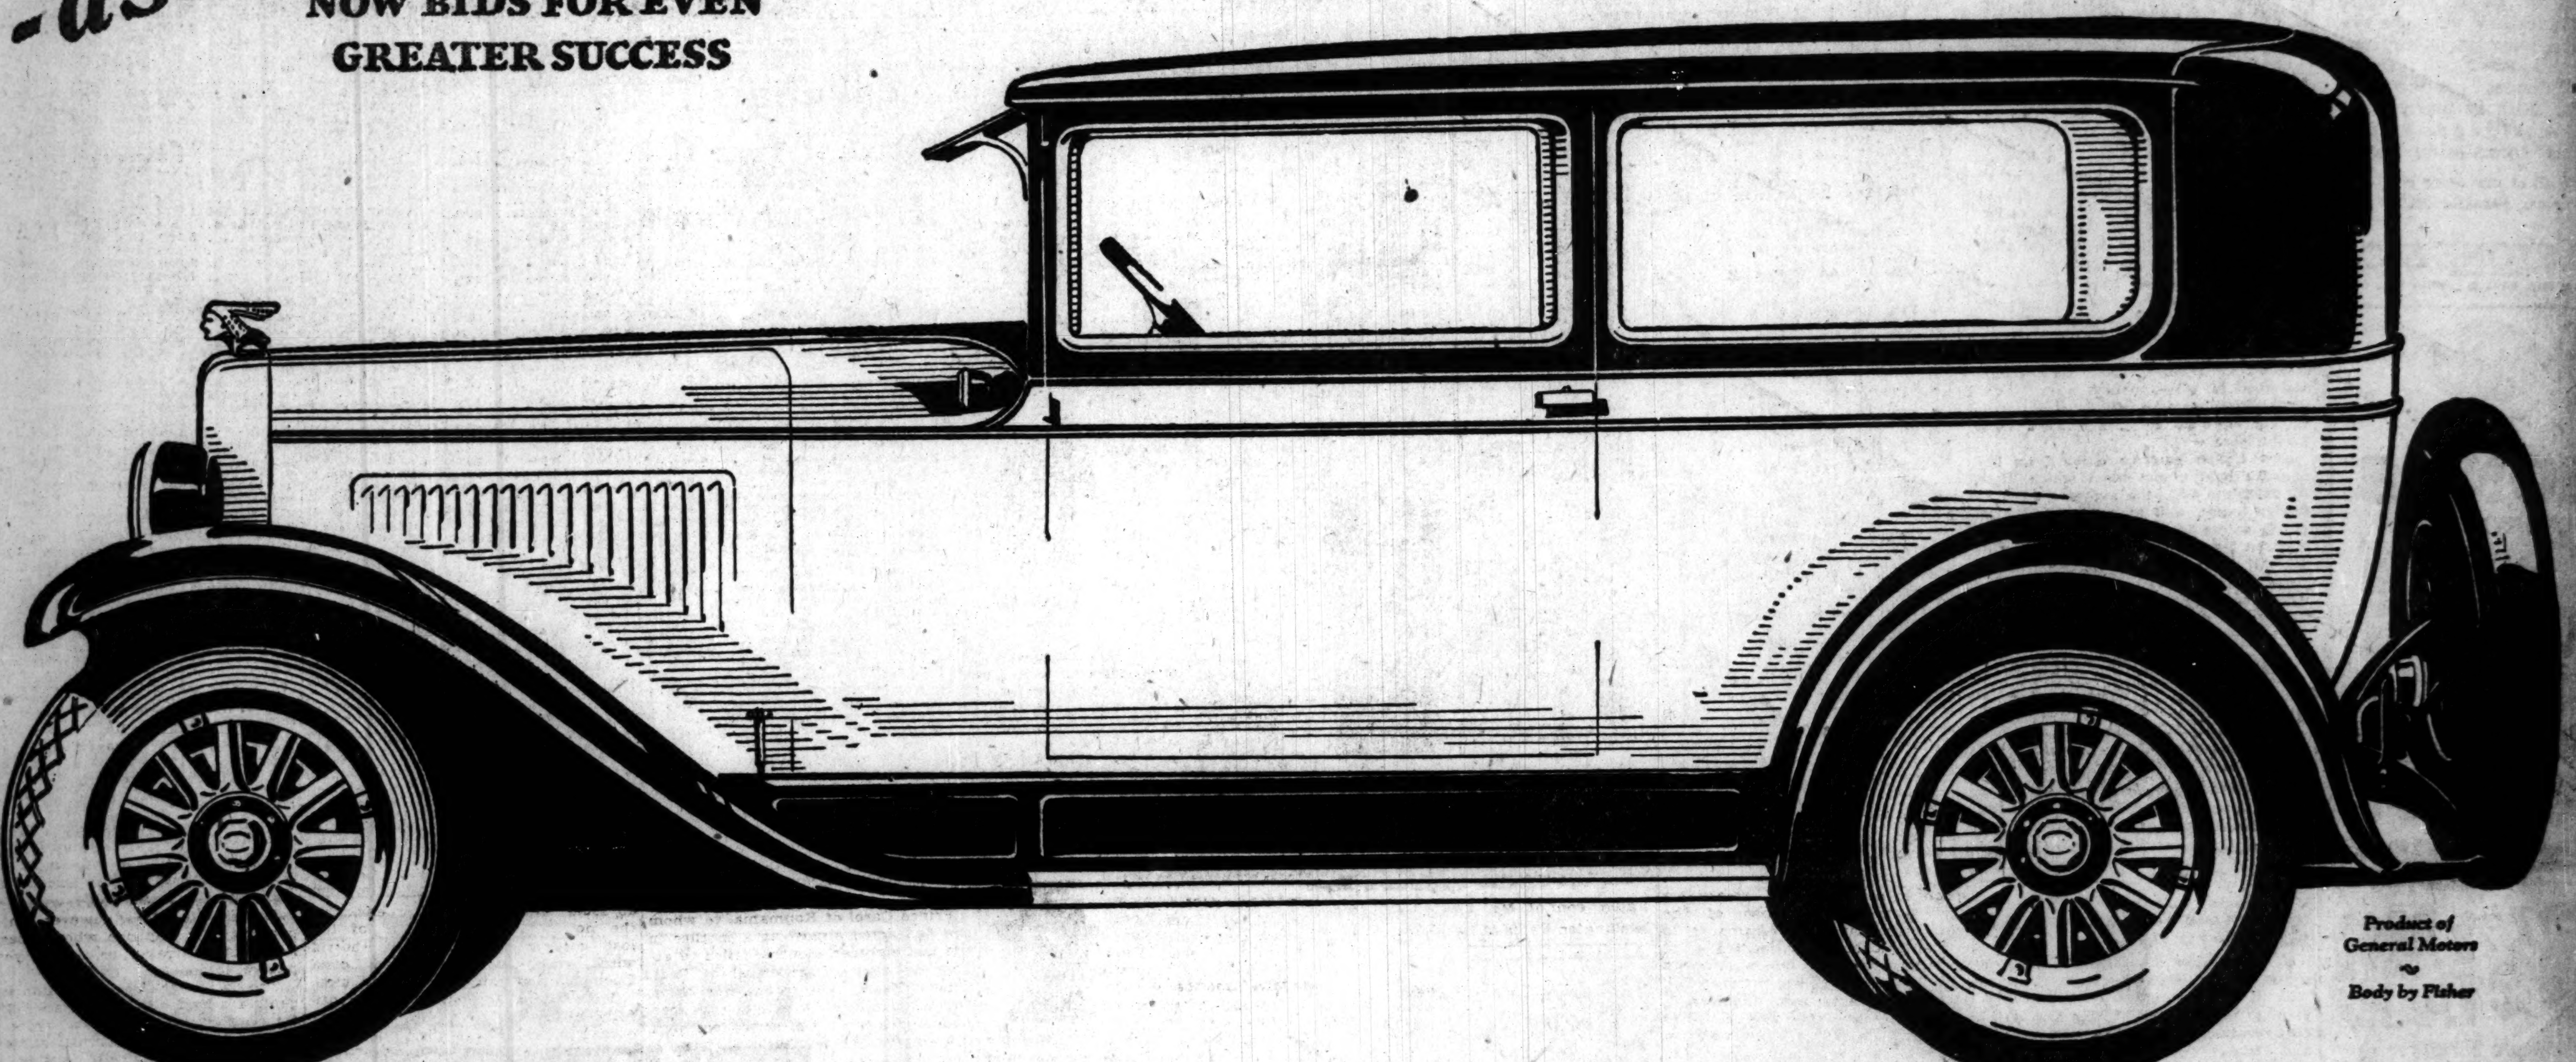
Announcing the New Series

PONTIAC SIX

With FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES

— a Successful Six

NOW BIDS FOR EVEN GREATER SUCCESS



Product of General Motors

Body by Fisher

An original and vivid type of beauty—distinctive, arresting, ultra-smart—but in no sense extreme! Higher, narrower radiator—sweeping full-crown fenders — newly designed headlamps—every detail an expression of motor car fashion at its height. As a result of such progress in creating beauty of line, the New Series Pontiac Six takes a prominent place among the style leaders of the year.

EVEN the impressive array of new features given herewith cannot convey the extent to which the New Series Pontiac Six surpasses all previous attainments in the field of low-priced sixes. After enjoying a spectacularly successful career, Pontiac Six now bids for even greater success with a car greater in every way.

Read this Partial List of Added Features

NEW FOUR-WHEEL BRAKES—Equalized and mechanically operated.

NEW GMR CYLINDER HEAD—Developed by General Motors Research. Proved on the Oakland All-American Six. Reduces knocking or detonation and eliminates thump with any type of fuel.

NEW CRANKCASE VENTILATION—eliminates crankcase condensation.

NEW MANIFOLDS AND MUFFLER—for more efficient fueling and exhaust gas scavenging.

NEW AND GREATER POWER—achieved by the foregoing engine improvements.

NEW CROSS-FLOW RADIATOR—Revolutionary new type cooling system. Virtually eliminates water vapor and alcohol losses. New Indian Head emblem.

NEW INSTRUMENT PANEL—tricluster type. Indirectly lighted.

NEW COINCIDENTAL LOCK—on instrument panel. Turning ignition key also locks transmission.

NEW STOP-LIGHT—Tail-light unit.

NEW WHEELS—larger and more massive in appearance. New hub flanges.

Emphasizing the importance of this announcement are two entirely new and additional body types: the Four-door Sedan; and the Sport Landau Sedan, a close-coupled, swagger creation, exemplifying the highest art of Fisher closed body craftsmanship. Come in and see this history-making line of Sixes, available in six body types.

The Woman in the Case

BY LOUIS TRACY

SYNOPSIS.

John Arden, returning to his rooms at the Park Palace hotel, London, in the early hours of the morning, breaks his key in the lock and is given a room in a luxurious suite by the night watchman who assures him that the rooms are untenanted. He is about to retire when two women enter the apartment. One is addressed as Esmée and the other as Mrs. Sinclair. Arden, hiding, hears them speak of the sudden death of Lord Farndale. Without being observed he lets himself out of the apartment. The next morning he reads of the mysterious death of the peer. A little later he sees Esmée on the street and is not far from her when she is knocked down by a motorcycle. Her dress is torn and he offers her his raincoat. She accepts it and he offers to get her a taxi, telling her that they live in the same hotel. Later Arden learns that the police know the identity of the two women who visited Lord Farndale but cannot locate them. They watch the railway terminals. Arden sees Esmée at one of the stations and behind Mrs. Sinclair's back takes her away with him to avoid arrest. Mrs. Sinclair, in fear of being detained as a material witness, was about to cross over to Paris with Esmée. Arden takes the girl to the rooms of his friend, Andy Burke, who turns the apartment and his housekeeper over to her. Burke is invited to share Jimmie Davidson's rooms for the night. Before leaving Andy's apartment the three friends and Detective Furneaux of Scotland Yard, who has joined them, hold a conference in Esmée's behalf.

On leaving Furneaux suggests to Arden that he call on Mrs. Sinclair, who is back at the Park Palace hotel, before going to bed, but he learns nothing from her, beyond catching a glimpse of Juan de Braganza, who claims, in spite of the girl's denials, to be Esmée's husband.

At the coroner's inquest into the death of Lord Farndale, Mrs. Sinclair is represented by a lawyer named Frankland.

On the advice of Furneaux Esmée goes back to Mrs. Sinclair. Arden meets Esmée in the park and tells her he loves her. Chief Winter of Scotland Yard tells Arden that De Braganza is going to Paris and suggests that Arden go too, and shadow him. In Paris De Braganza leads Arden to the home of Lady Doone, Lord Farndale's sister and Esmée's great aunt.

INSTALLMENT XLI.

LADY DOONE.

Then Arden told his story, in plain, straightforward language, wisely confining it to a consecutive narrative of his own share in a very unusual set of circumstances. More than once Lady Doone had to exercise some self-restraint to stop herself from breaking in. But she did not interfere by word or gesture. She had not been seventy-four years a Bermore without acquiring certain qualities rare in her sex, and a capacity for listening in silence was one of them.

When Arden had made an end with a brief account of his flight and pursuit of De Braganza, literally to her own doorstep, her ladyship did not raise the slightest doubt as to the accuracy of his recital. After a pause she asked what he knew, or had heard, of events in the Argentine, so he supplemented those parts of his earlier recital which dealt with Esmée's adventures in Buenos Aires by putting together various scraps of information gleaned from the butler and the representatives of the C. I. D.

"Ah, Buchanan," said Lady Doone, thoughtfully. "I knew him well, of course. Did he speak of me?—no matter whether ill or well—tell me everything."

I ought not to have said that, but I have seen Esmee crying because of that man's persecution.

"I was not present when he first made Esmée aware that she was your only living relative, but I gathered that he certainly said nothing calculated to keep you apart."

"What is that? What do you mean?"

"While I have been sitting here the thought has come that Esmée's place is with you and not with Mrs. Sinclair."

That thrust seemed to stir his hearer almost to anger.

"Why has she not sought me out, or written?" came the sharp retort.

"She did not know you were alive, or had ever lived."

"But is the girl a fool? Can't she read? Has she never heard of 'Burke' or 'Debrett'?"

"She cannot leave London until Lord Farndale's death is accounted for."

"Then what do you expect me to do—go to her?"

"Yes."

"But I have not crossed the channel for fifteen years. My doctor absolutely forbids it. Even if I were willing I cannot do it. I am warned that seasickness means death."

"Why not fly, Lady Doone?"

"Fly. In an aeroplane! At my age. Young man, you must be crazy!"

"I believe you would enjoy the experience immensely. One of our best pilots and a simply wonderful machine are at your service now. The pilot, Capt. Chalmers, is dining with me tonight at the Meurice. Say the word, and I'll secure him."

"If I don't get a cup of tea in a minute I shall say words that may surprise you, Mr. John Arden. Ring that bell! . . . Fly! . . . At seventy-four! Did any one ever hear such nonsense?"

Arden rose.

"I believe the tea will do the trick, ma'am," he said, greatly daring. "The weather is set fair. You will be in London in less than three hours after you leave the Rue Donau. And I assure you that a déjeuner served in the bright sunshine two thousand feet above Boulogne is a feast for gods and goddesses."

"James, make the tea extra strong today—Indian, not Chinese. What? Never mind what the doctor says. Do as I tell you."

"Well, I'm dashed," mused Arden, or something to that effect. "She'll come! The dear old sport!"

Lady Doone resumed their broken conversation with an unexpected inquiry.

"My brother will be buried at Higher Yatton," she said. "Do you know when the body is to be taken north?"

"No," said Arden. "Today, I should imagine."

"Can you find out?"

"Easily. Shall I have the reply sent here?"

"Yes. That will save time. I mean, that is, I would like to be sure about the Eaton square house being available in case I decide to cross tomorrow. If the sea is smooth I may risk it. Flying is utterly out of the question. I would fade away the instant I set eyes on the aerodrome at Le Bourget."

Her hearer elected to pass without comment more than one uncertain issue raised by her ladyship's seemingly irrelevant words. So, harking back to the definite object of his journey, he asked if her ladyship cared to tell him anything of the reasons underlying Juan de Braganza's visit.

"Why did you come here?" she countered.

"To get to know what he was after. I seem to have rather lost sight of my errand, but my excuse is that I little expected either to meet you or to be given such an opportunity to enlist your sympathy and support in Esmée's behalf."

"Well, that is what he wanted, in a sense, except that he was mainly concerned in the exercise of my authority in getting a refractory wife to recognize the proper claims of a devoted husband. I am inclined to think that he really wanted me to beat her."

"So I thought, but he showed me a most convincing marriage certificate. I know something about legal documents attested by public authorities, and if Señor de Braganza is flourishing a forgery he is running a risk which, unless my estimate of his character is greatly mistaken, he would never face."

"I am wholly unacquainted with Argentine laws or their administration," he said, "so it may be wise to treat them as on a par with those of other countries. I made no secret of that view with Esmée yesterday, and everything I hear confirms my opinion that she will have great difficulty in proving that no marriage took place. Why? Money is powerful everywhere. I am ready to believe that examination of some rural register, either in a church or in the office of some minor official—more probably the latter—will show that Juan de Braganza and Esmée Bermore were married on a given date. More than that, there may be proof that certain legal formalities were complied with long before the recorded ceremony. Of course, I accept Esmée's story from beginning to end—that there was no marriage—that all entries in any register bearing thereon are false—that her signature, if it exists, is a forgery. If I had De Braganza here now I think I could soon make him tell you that Esmée's version is the correct one, but the process of extracting the truth might endanger your life——"

"My life!" she broke in.

"His life in the first instance. And your medical adviser has warned you—"

"Go on! Do!"

"I ought not to have said that, but I have seen Esmée crying because of this man's persecution. I hate to see a woman in tears, Lady Doone."

"Especially this young woman. Is she pretty—my great niece?"

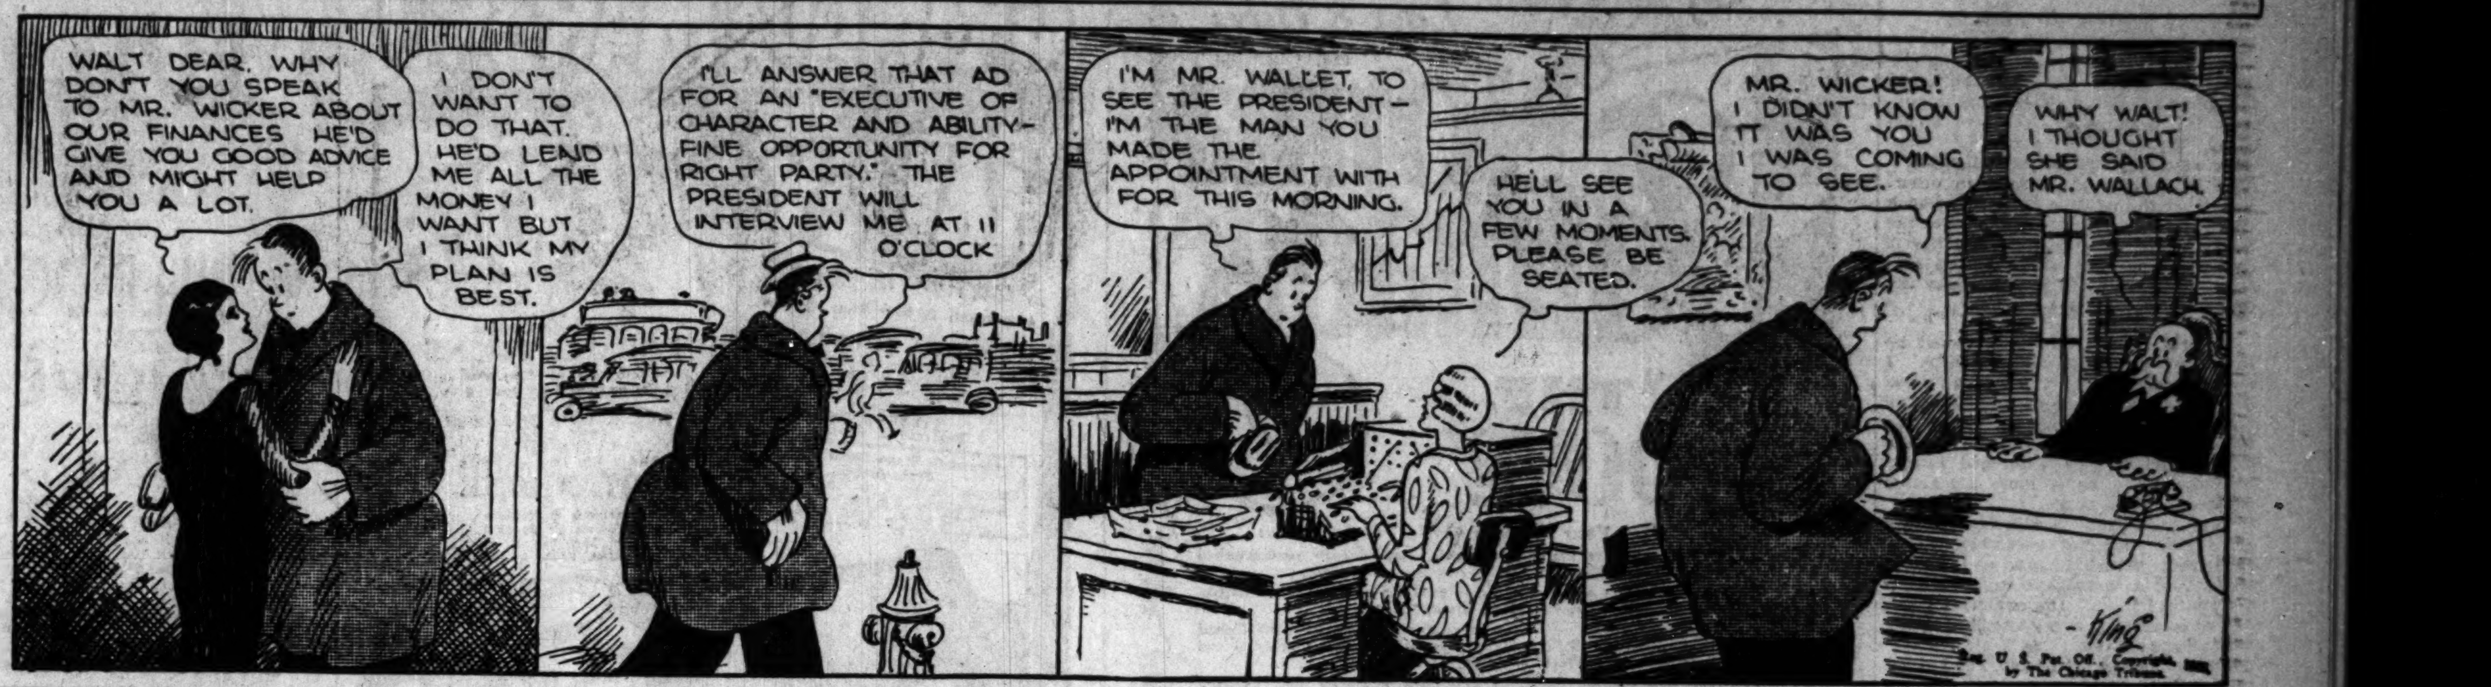
GASOLINE ALLEY—A BLIND AD, BUT IT OPENS WALT'S EYES



WALT DEAR, WHY DON'T YOU SPEAK TO MR. WICKER ABOUT OUR FINANCES HE'D GIVE YOU GOOD ADVICE AND MIGHT HELP YOU A LOT.
I DON'T WANT TO DO THAT. HE'D LEND ME ALL THE MONEY I WANT BUT I THINK MY PLAN IS BEST.
I'LL ANSWER THAT AD FOR AN "EXECUTIVE OF CHARACTER AND ABILITY—FINE OPPORTUNITY FOR RIGHT PARTY." THE PRESIDENT WILL INTERVIEW ME AT 11 O'CLOCK
I'M MR. WALLET, TO SEE THE PRESIDENT—I'M THE MAN YOU MADE THE APPOINTMENT WITH FOR THIS MORNING.
HE'LL SEE YOU IN A FEW MOMENTS. PLEASE BE SEATED.
MR. WICKER! I DIDN'T KNOW IT WAS YOU I WAS COMING TO SEE.
WHY WALT! I THOUGHT SHE SAID MR. WALLACH.

This One Is for Seekers After Higher Things

"SHADOWS OF THE STREET."
Produced by Karl Grune.
Presented at the Playhouse.
Featuring Eugene Klopfer.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

"'Shadows of the Street' is a study in disillusionment," say the Playhouse program and screen.

Quite true. A gentleman, intrigued by passing shadows seen from his window, dashes away from his placid wife and the evening bowl of soup she has prepared into the night life of the big city, thinking to find delights he feels he misses at home. To discover that gold is tinsel and laughter is hollow and bright lights are blinding and that crime and suffering stalk hand in hand through the mazes of the dance. He returns with dawn to the waiting wife—and soup—a sadder and a wiser man.

I guess I'm incapable of appreciating what are known as the "higher things." F'rinstance, many paintings over which the critics rave look like illustrations out of a medical book to me.

When it comes to a "remarkable study" such as "Shadows of the Street," my principal reaction is to feel that somebody has wasted a lot of time on something one of our own American directors—one of our INTELLIGENT American directors, I mean—could have done SO—MUCH—BETTER. I'm just a plain lowbrow, I guess.

Admitting that the film under discussion is artistic—surely it would have been more so had the people concerned in the plot been in the least interesting, which, with the exception of a toddling baby girl, they aren't. The principal character, as played, is a tiresome fellow.

I enjoyed much more the other feature on the program, "Australia's Wild Nor' West," a travel film that is a wonder. Also there is a laughable Langdon comedy for spice.

See you soon.

Seaburys Give Berea $150,000 for Gymnasium

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward Seabury of Oak Park, it was learned yesterday, are the donors of a $150,000 gymnasium for men students at Berea college, Berea, Ky. Ground was broken on Oct. 22 last for the new edifice, which will be completed next fall. Mr. and Mrs. Seabury are planning to attend the formal opening.

Besides an adequate gymnasium for the men, realizing "the dream of ten student generations," according to President W. J. Hutchins of Berea, the building will include a swimming pool and handball courts. Women students were provided with a gymnasium in 1926 by a Boston donor.

The college provides free tuition to thousands of southern mountain boys and girls, and provides each an opportunity to earn all or part of his or her individual expenses. Mr. Seabury is vice president of the Marsh & McLellan Insurance company.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question H. R. Parsons, Mount Carroll, Ill., was awarded $5.

The Question.

The Answers.

H. C. Forbes, Hotel La Salle, salesman—I have been so down on my uppers this last year that outside events lost some of their significance for me. According to the papers, Col. Lindbergh's exploits were the spectacular events of the year, but there are likely to have been important doings in other fields, of which time will reveal their significance.

Mrs. F. A. Ford, 5539 Winthrop avenue, housewife—I for one will give first honors to Mrs. Lindbergh. Were she not the model woman she is and had she not guided and directed her son by example and precept from childhood to manhood, Col. Lindbergh would not have accomplished what he has.

George R. McFadden, Joliet, Ill., stock broker—The outstanding event of 1927 so far as I am concerned was the crowning of my niece, Miss Lois Delander of Joliet, as Miss America. That title would mean little to me were it not that Lois is such an ideal young woman that the title well becomes her and she the title.

Miss Florence Arenberg, 4814 North Troy street, public school teacher—I consider the outstanding event as being the obliteration, for the time being at least, of differences between nations of the world through the airplane flights of one lone man. Debts, racial prejudices, all were forgotten.

Ed Golin, 3105 North Davlin court, electrician—Col. Lindbergh's solo flight to Paris. He literally startled the world when he made that memorable flight, and he has been adding to his laurels right along. We may expect to hear much from that young man in the future. He will be the inspiration to others to attempt and accomplish great things.

Loie Fuller Buried Among Great of Paris

Few Mourners Are Beside Dancer's Bier.

BY HENRY WALES.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
[Copyright: 1928: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, Jan. 4.—Loie Fuller, who was born in a tavern barroom on the outskirts of Chicago, went to her last rest today in the old cemetery of Père la Chaise. In that chill city of the dead there dwell many beloved of Paris, from Heloise and Abelard to Sarah Bernhardt.

All that was mortal of the dancer, who died on Monday and who was one of those rare Americans who really conquered Paris, was reduced to ashes by the flames at the old fashioned columbarium.

Though the dancer was the idol of thousands, including the greatest poets and artists of her time, few were there to see her passing. There were perhaps 150 people, many simply curious. Among the others were some of the elite of the social and artistic worlds of Paris—with a number of notable exceptions—and a tearful crowd of fellow dancers and actresses.

Prince Carol of Roumania, to whom she had acted almost as a mother in the last eighteen months, failed to appear, but sent a huge wreath of lilacs. Queen Marie, who could not come, sent a magnificent wreath of pink rosebuds and lilacs, a full seven feet high, draped with the Roumanian colors. It bore no inscription, while Carol's ribbon said: "To Loie Fuller, the great friend of my country. Carol of Roumania." Prince Nicholas Cantacuzene represented the Roumanian government.

Following the short service at the American Cathedral of the Holy Trinity the final ceremony was held at Pere la Chaise.

Visitors from Home.

Memories of Loie Fuller were recalled yesterday by three Legionaires as they expressed regret at the news of her death. They are Attorney Chauncey W. Reed of Du Page county, Frank Carey of West Chicago, and James Sykora of Batavia, who attended the American Legion convention in Paris last summer. A meeting was arranged, Attorney Reed said, after they learned that Miss Fuller had said she would be glad to see any veterans from Du Page county, where she was born. Although ill at the time, the dancer received them in her boudoir and, after a long talk, kissed them on both cheeks in farewell.

Lord Bishop of Aberdeen Arrives Here Tomorrow

The Rt. Rev. A. F. Deane, Lord Bishop of Aberdeen, Scotland, will arrive in Chicago tomorrow for a series of public addresses and gatherings. He is touring this country in the interests of a memorial cathedral in honor of Bishop Samuel Seabury, first American Episcopal bishop. Sunday morning the bishop will preach at St. Luke's church, Evanston. Monday morning he will attend the meeting at St. Mark's church, where all the Episcopal clergy of the diocese will be gathered, and will speak Monday noon before a group of business men. Tuesday he will go to Springfield to visit Lincoln's tomb. Wednesday he will be the guest of the English Speaking union, and Thursday will address a mass meeting of Episcopalians under the auspices of the Church club.

Wampas Film Star Wed to Magazine Publisher

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Hollywood received a surprise today when Iris Stuart, 1927 Wampas baby star, admitted her marriage to Bert A. MacKinnon, magazine publisher of New York. The couple were married at Las Vegas, Nev., last Tuesday. MacKinnon, who is well known in New York, met his bride while on a business trip here. Miss Stuart formerly was an artists' model in New York, being especially known for the beauty of her hands.

Christmas Opera for Children Comes Day Late for Them

BY HAZEL MOORE.

"Hansel and Gretel," the Christmas perennial of the Civic Opera's répertoire, bloomed a bit tardily at a special children's matinee at the Auditorium, yesterday. Tardily, because the opera schedule failed to agree with the school board as to the proper time for ending the holiday season, so that large numbers of would be opera patrons for their favorite opera were already starting the new year right in school.

That was a pity, for the performance under the spirited direction of Henry Weber took on a sparkle and beauty that it has not had in years. Mr. Weber held the difficult little score in beautiful proportion, taking care not to drown out the light voices, nor to spoil the sonority of the orchestra. The result was entirely what it should be—charming.

Irene Pavloska was again the perfect Hansel, rollicking and boyish, with a clarity of enunciation that was a joy. Each year she manages to add a few new bits for good measure to her acting. She aided and abetted her new Gretel, little Miss Lucille Meusel, in true brotherly fashion. Miss Meusel, too, was a delightful child, the best of a succession of Christmas Gretels. And this in spite of a light voice, which, however, she used excellently, with an enunciation second only to Miss Pavloska's. She is also the fortunate possessor of good rhythm and a delicate charm.

The remainder of the cast was much as usual, with Defrere and Lenska as the not too audible parents of the lost children, Claessens, the horrid witch, and Anna Hamlin and Lorna Doone Jackson, the dew and sand men.

The scene of the angels was beautifully handled. The only mishap occurred in the last act, when the young audience must have thought the weird and slow moving appearance of Hansel's cage from the wings a witchly necromancy.

Chicago Charity Fund in 1927 $250,000,000

More than a quarter of a billion dollars was available in Chicago last year for charitable purposes, it is revealed in a survey now being made by Frank D. Loomis, secretary of the Chicago Community Trust. Included in the survey are such institutions as hospitals, colleges, universities, museums, social settlements, and similar undertakings, many of which are not charitable as implied in relief agencies, but are classed as legal charity.

Institutional property, the Loomis report shows, was valued in 1926 at $142,765,907. This includes the University of Chicago and Northwestern university, both of which are considered as charitable institutions in the eyes of the law, together with the Crerar and Newberry libraries. The public library, the county hospital and other places where the management is determined by a general vote of the population are not included.

Permanent endowments, it is stated amounted to $123,668,001 during the same twelve months. In that period, it is emphasized, the endowment fund was increased by $14,221,166, while the value of institutional property showed the largest annual increase in Chicago history, amounting to $26,380,404.

Zane Grey Book Is Called Copyright Infringement

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 4.—[Special.] Injunction to prevent Zane Grey selling any more copies of his book, "The Thundering Herd," and demanding an accounting, charging infringement of copyright, is sought in a federal court petition filed today by Charles Maddux of Los Angeles.

Maddux says Grey's book bears a marked similarity to "The Border and the Buffalo," published by the late John R. Cook in 1907. He adds that Cook's widow assigned him rights to the book. Profits on the "Thundering Herd" have amounted to more than $500,000 Maddux states.

Tribune Prints for History on Enduring Paper

New Edition Is Lasting Record of Today.

For a limited edition every morning THE TRIBUNE is going back to the style of newsprint used in Ben Franklin's day, paper made of rags, which serves forever.

The immense circulation of the modern newspaper put the rag paper on the back shelf. Its cost is prohibitive. Forests of spruce trees now furnish the pulp turned out by the newsprint paper mills. But rags have their use.

In this edition, now limited to 500 copies each day of the final edition, THE TRIBUNE is producing an imperishable record of all our troubles, problems, and dreams of today. Historians of the next generation, those who work through old files one hundred years from now, searching for the thought and opinion of this day, will not find the paper crumbling under their hands, turned yellow and brittle.

The cost of this edition makes it available chiefly for libraries, historians, special records everywhere. It is produced primarily to furnish THE TRIBUNE an imperishable record of its own files. It offers, however, an opportunity for any one who wishes to keep a special paper, or a whole year's papers, to do so.

The cost of the special edition is 75 cents a copy for the daily paper, $2.00 for THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, which includes all features. Annual subscriptions for the daily will be $100, the Sunday only, $100, and daily and Sunday, $200.

Any one who has a special interest in any day's paper—the wedding of a daughter, the anniversary of a marriage, any report or prized story—may buy one of these special copies. Printing began Jan. 1 and back copies are available.

This edition is the result of long experimenting in the preservation of files, which become more valuable as the years go by. During the last few years THE TRIBUNE has been treating all its old files, dating back to civil war days, with a rice pulp bath. This adds texture, but becomes brittle at the edges and makes the paper impossible for photography.

The new paper is softer than the wood pulp of the regular editions. It does not crackle and stand up. But it reproduces perfectly and will keep as long as anything in the printed line except parchment. The paper is produced in eastern mills which have been experimenting for a year or two on the product.

Libraries and universities are expected to find the best use for the rag edition, but there are often special items of family interest printed which it is desired to save for the children or the children's children.

Episcopalians to Honor Suffragan Bishop Here

The Rt. Rev. Sheldon M. Griswold, suffragan bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago, will be honored next Sunday in a threefold celebration commemorating the twenty-fifth anniversary of his consecration as bishop, his sixty-seventh birthday, and his eleventh year in the local diocese. Services will begin Sunday afternoon at the Church of the Messiah, 82d street and Dante avenue. Monday morning all the Episcopal clergy of Chicago will gather at St. Mark's church, Evanston, to pay tribute to him.

In Business Girl Contest Appearance Counts 50 Per Cent

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

At a recent contest held in Newark, N. J., to choose the typical American business girl, it is interesting to note the rating was based thus:

Fifty per cent for general attractiveness.

Ten per cent for poise.

At first glance that fifty per cent for general attractiveness might confirm the jealous wife's worst suspicions. But hold on a minute. Consider efficiency and general attractiveness in their relation to each other. Whatever the relation might have been twenty years ago, today where the business girl is concerned efficiency is so involved with physical fitness that it is pretty difficult to determine the dividing line if there is one.

General attractiveness need not be construed as outstanding beauty. I mean, a young woman might be turned down at a stage recruiting office as lacking the short upper lip, the golden halo and the baby blue eye of the chorus girl and be welcomed into a business office as a most attractive person to have there.

This general attractiveness of the office girl need not necessarily be a face that would launch a thousand ships, nor a form that would launch a thousand more. It's something else again; something every efficient young woman may have. Has, I should say. It's first the look of health, the beauty of health and the enthusiasm that radiates from a vital young person. Second, it's grooming in every small personal detail—hair, skin, hands, feet. And third, it is dress—dress that may be chic, charming and flattering, but always becoming the office.

I think the poise might just as well have been included in the general attractiveness. Without it, a girl is without attractiveness, isn't she? I cannot see any reason for setting it apart from feminine charm. It is so outstanding a feature of it.

It may, however, be the experience of employers that girls otherwise attractive lack this one essential so that it becomes a virtue in itself.

Anyway, I advance the Newark contest and its ratings to my young business women readers with the suggestion that they check up around their places of business and see if the efficient young workers aren't, as well, the attractive young workers and to draw their own lessons from the observations made.

Mary Landon Baker Takes London House for "Little Season"

The affairs of Mary Landon Baker, who has occupied so much news space despite her devout aversion to such prominence, continue to be of interest to Chicago, even though she has put half a world between herself and her native heath. From London comes word that she has taken a house on one of the city's delightfully secluded old world squares, and has settled down to enjoy the "little season," with ample protection against surmises about her matrimonial future. She has employed a staff of English servants who are trained to bar the heavy doors at the first glimpse of a newspaper reporter with a question showing in the whites of his eyes. Miss Baker gave a dinner for sixteen recently, afterward taking her party to a big dance at Brunswick square. She wore an Yteb décolleté gown of yellow and gold lamé with an uneven hem, and carried a yellow and gold fan. Christmas week she gave an at home at which she wore a striking scarlet velvet afternoon gown. Except for an occasional party at the Embassy club, always a popular resort with Americans in London society, she is much more likely to be seen at purely English affairs than in Anglo-American circles, according to a correspondent.

Also from London arrives the information that a marriage has been arranged and is shortly to take place between Capt. Hugh Jack Melville, 12th cavalry, Frontier force, only son of Col. and Mrs. J. Swinton Melville of Fleets, Hampshire, and Miss Marion Neilson, daughter of Francis Neilson of 4800 Drexel boulevard, and Mrs. C. E. Neilson of 18 Buckingham Palace-gardens.

The Illinois League of Woman Voters is priding itself on its feat in getting the famous flyer, Commander Richard E. Byrd, for a lecture engagement at Orchestra hall on Jan. 25. He is to tell the story of his trans-Atlantic flight and will also give an outline of his next daring adventure, an aerial expedition to the south pole. Mrs. James W. Morrisson of 1431 State parkway is in charge of the box sale, and assisting her in the arrangements are Mrs. W. Scott Linn, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, and Mrs. George Packard.

Pots and pans, egg beaters, baking dishes, and some of the delectable new enamelware in shiny red, green, and yellow were presented to Miss Beatrice Burnet at the luncheon and kitchen shower Mrs. Ralph Chester Otis Jr. (Catherine Crerar) gave for her at the latter's apartment at 180 East Delaware place yesterday. The affair was one of the parties being given for Miss Burnet before her marriage a week from Saturday to Edward L. Hersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Field are to give a dinner party this evening at the Saddle and Cycle for their house guests, Maj. Ernest Bellaney, Capt. Arthur Boyd-Rochfort, and Capt. Cecil Boyd-Rockfort of Dublin, Ireland, who are traveling in this country with Mr. Field's brother, Norman Field of England.

◆

Miss Bertha Alling, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Van Wagenen Alling of Lake Forest, returned east yesterday for her last semester at Bryn Mawr. Miss Alling plans to pursue a career after graduation. She expects to study at the Goodman theater next winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin E. Miner of 1100 Lake Shore drive are back from an invigorating stay at Lake Placid, where they enjoyed the skiing, skating, and other winter sports.

Mr. and Mrs. George Higginson Jr. of Lenox, Mass., their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John H. P. Gould and Count and Countess Gianguilio Rucellai, all went up to New York City for a few days together before the Rucellais sailed yesterday for their residence in Florence, Italy. The Rucellais had been visiting the Higginsons since before the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Gould last August.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bassett of Madison, Wis., have been visting Mr. Bassett's mother, Mrs. William A. Yager of the Drake, and Mr. Yager for the last week.

Miss Clara Lake of 2818 Sheridan road has returned from a visit with friends in Toronto, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Warfield of 1035 East 45th street have departed for a month's stay in Florida.

WASHINGTON SOCIETY

Washington, D. C., Jan. 4.—[Special.]—Mrs. Dawes, wife of the Vice President, who returned with him this morning from their home in Evanston, where they spent the holidays, was at home this afternoon for the first time this season. She had assisting her a group of senatorial hostesses, including Mrs. Ashurst of Arizona, Mrs. Wesley Jones of Washington, Mrs. Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, Mrs. Overman of North Carolina, Mrs. Borah of Idaho, and Mrs. McLean of Connecticut. Many of the senators paid their respects to the second lady of the land, while the women of all circles of official life in Washington formed the main group of callers.

Mrs. Charles S. Deneen, wife of the senator from Chicago, was the principal guest at the luncheon given today by Mrs. Frank C. Henry, recently returned from a trip around the world. Mrs. Deneen and her debutante daughter, Miss Mina Day Deneen, will observe Thursday afternoons at home during this month at 2029 Connecticut avenue, where the Deneens have had an apartment several winters.

Mrs. Samuel Williams Earl has returned to her apartment at the Mayflower after spending the holidays with her son and family at Winnetka. She has as her guest this week Mrs. William A. James of New Haven, who came for the New Year festivities in Washington.

PATTERNS BY CLOTILDE

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

WOMAN'S DRESS.

To appear slender is the first step to smartness, and you can choose this design with assurance of a trim, neat appearance. The box plaits at the front of the skirt are decidedly youthful, and it is interestingly made of two surfaces of crêpe satin, printed velvet, plain transparent velvet, tweed, angora jersey or faille silk crêpe.

The pattern, 2992, comes in sizes 18 years and 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46 inches bust measure. Size 36 requires 4¼ yards of 40 inch material.

ENGAGED

Miss Margaret Ellen Wickum.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Margaret Ellen Wickum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Severin Wickum of 5909 Iowa street, to Charles J. Spangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clayton Spangler of Oak Park.

WEDDING

Mrs. Eileen Kelly Shufeldt, daughter of D. F. Kelly, president of the Fair store, was married in Milwaukee yesterday to Charles Pfister Vogel of Milwaukee, vice president of the Pfister-Vogel Leather company, in a quiet ceremony. After their marriage, Mr. and Mrs. Vogel motored to Chicago, where a bridal dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents at 24 Scott street. They plan to sail on Saturday for a four months' stay in Europe. The bridegroom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogel, popular in Milwaukee social circles, and recently was named beneficiary of one-fifth of the estate of his uncle, the late Charles F. Pfister, amounting to $2,700,000.

Woman Who Enters Loveless Union Lets Herself In for Woe

BY DORIS BLAKE.

"Ada" is madly in love with a young man in her father's employ. She meets him at the office evenings and drives him home. She buys him expensive presents. She invites him to accompany her to dances and theaters that father supplies the tickets for. She pursues him constantly. And she has made up her mind she is going to marry him or die.

He accepts her invitations, also her gifts. He is ambitious to get on in her father's organization. He says frankly he is not in love with the girl, but as he is not in love with any other girl—well, why not? He's rude to her, sometimes; he's selfish. He's good looking. He dresses well. And he is eager to get on.

Ada's friends wonder what sort of a married life she will have with him? It's quite taken for granted she will "land" him.

Mrs. Burton, we'll call her, fifteen years ago was also madly in love with a young man. Everybody said he married for money.

"Maybe he did," she says, but she felt it was a 50-50 bargain. She cared for his parents for ten years. When her father passed on, she was able to give her husband a wonderful start in business. He has risen to a place in the community second to none.

During the fifteen years his house has run like machinery. From the furnace to his billiard room it has run on oiled wheels. He doesn't know, she says, "that we have an ice box, a furnace or garden. That is how much interested he is in our home." His routine has been to leave the house at 9 a. m., to return at 7, to eat his dinner, read for an hour and go to bed or else go to the club and play bridge with men friends. He has gone weeks without a civil word to any one. He has gone on vacations alone year after year.

◆

"Selfish," she says. "I never dreamed a man could be so selfish. He is always smiling and interested in everything outside the home and in people outside the home.

"Wouldn't you think, after all the years of unselfish devotion I have given him, he would respond with some kindness, some attention?"

That's the tragedy of marrying a man who does not love you. Not all men who have made marriages of convenience are as callous as Mrs. Burton's husband. But the woman who lets herself in for a loveless union maps out a career of hopeless misery beside which being the wife of a loving ne'er-do-well is heaven.

Society at the Opera

Many box parties at last night's opera contained only women guests. Mrs. Henry Blair and Miss Anita Blair had one of these groups, which included Mrs. Chauncey B. Borland, Mrs. Robert McFadon, Mrs. Mark Skinner Willing and Mrs. Willing's sister, Mrs. John Kendrick Bangs of Detroit.

Another group in the John Crerar box comprised Mrs. Louis Louer, Mrs. Latimer Goodrich, Mrs. Ralph Otis, Miss Emily Otis, Miss Sarane Otis, and Miss Florence Otis.

With Mr. and Mrs. Augustus S. Peabody were Mr. and Mrs. John R. Winterbotham, Miss Elsie D. McCormick, and Arthur Heun.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reason Collins were accompanied by Dr. and Mrs. Daniel A. Orth and Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Eckhart and Mr. and Mrs. William B. Storey were together.

Mrs. Harry Pratt Judson had guests in an upper box. They were Miss Naomi Donnelley, Mrs. Hastings Moore, Dr. Preston Kyes, and Prof. Harry Bigelow.

Mrs. Hugh J. McBirney's guests were Mrs. Potter Palmer, Mrs. Waller Borden, William McKee, Henry Porter, and Robert Allerton.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

Mrs. Schuyler Leggett and her mother, Mrs. Leonard Phinizy, departed yesterday for Augusta, Ga., to spend two months at the Bon Air-Vanderbilt.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Jr., who have a home in Washington for the winter, are at the Plaza for a few days.

Mrs. James Brown Potter, who passed the holidays with relatives at Richmond, Va., has returned to the St. Regis for the winter.

Mrs. Henry Moore Wykes gave a luncheon at the Ambassador hotel yesterday to introduce her daughter, Miss Geraldine Wykes.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward D. Morgan Jr. returned to Westbury, L. I., yesterday after entertaining a party of friends over New Year's day at the Plaza.

When NESTLÉ'S flew to the North Pole

On board, as part of the emergency ration, and vital in case of a forced landing, was Nestlé's Milk Chocolate. And even when it was necessary to lighten the cargo, to discard every needless ounce, Nestlé's was retained.

Nestlé's Milk Chocolate is so rich in concentrated energy, so nourishing and appetizing, that the commander of the Byrd Arctic Expedition considered it a necessity.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $5 for each childish saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Write on one side of the paper. Address bright sayings to Aunty Bee, The Tribune, Chicago.

Little Gordon was taken from a sound sleep and made ready for a journey during the holidays, while his mother murmured what a pity it was to disturb his slumbers.

When he was finally maneuvered into his coat and cap and stood upon his feet, he said, sleepily: "I fighted the sandman, muvver, didn't I?" G. K.

◆

Victor, aged 8, always comes to school looking as if he had just stepped out of a band box.

The other day his teacher used him as a model while lecturing to her class on cleanliness. At the end of her talk she turned to him and asked: "Victor, how do you keep yourself so clean?"

"O," said Victor, "if you had my mother, you'd be clean, too." A. D. S.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

In Great Difficulty.

"I am quite deaf and am gradually getting worse, so it is most uncomfortable. If I could learn lip reading it would help me, but I cannot leave home to attend classes. Do you think any of your readers might be able to advise me on the subject.

"MRS. H. R."

Will you tell Mrs. H. R. what you know about lip reading? I am sure some one among our army of readers can help her.

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

No Place for Jealousy.

"Dear Miss Blake: Do you think a little jealousy is true love? J. W."

With love there comes an absolute faith and trust which leaves no room for doubt nor jealousy, which is born of a lack of confidence and mistrust, J. W. Don't let jealousy creep in—not even a little bit of it.

The New Footgear Protection

That fits like a glove

All smart shops are showing Shuglovs in Nude, Gray, Brown and Black, with two types of heels. The Universal is for military, military high and spiked heel. The Cuban for the lower and flatter heels.

$5.00 a pair

Shuglov is made of featherweight rubber . . . washable, inside and out. They snap on or off in a jiffy. The trim decorative top is worn up or down with equal smartness.

* Pronounced Shoe-Glove

STYLISTS in footgear knew that women would welcome a new note of style in footgear protection. So in designing Shuglov they sought first to achieve exquisite style . . . then perfect fit.

And what an accomplishment! Women tell us candidly it is the first time they have found footgear protection they are glad to wear. Everywhere . . . smart women are wearing them.

They have changed the unsightly methods of yesterday to a thing of charm. Slip into a pair at your favorite shop. Note the well-groomed feeling . . . the perfect fit . . . the harmonizing colors . . . the slenderizing effect on the ankle.

You will join the host of admirers who have accorded Shuglov an initial season of outstanding success. You, too, will wear Shuglovs because you cannot resist their charm.

How One Mother Dealt with a Hard Problem

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Sometimes what some one else has done under circumstances similar to yours will help you to solve your difficulty, even though you may not use the same means they did. This is in connection with one of those practical problems that are not apt to get into books of psychology or child study—and yet are almost universally met with by parents.

My son was a very little fellow and one day he and a chubby, winning neighbor of his were playing in our big back yard.

"Listen, Mike," he said, "let's get those bricks and all the flower pots down from the wall. But don't tell your mother—we can just put them all back again ourselves. Come on—but don't tell your mother."

"O, my mother won't mind—but I'll ask her. Mommie—Mommie——"

And of course I told them they could have the bricks and the flower pots.

This made about the third time I had overheard a conversation like this, with "Don't tell your mother" at the end of each one. The little boy was a nice youngster, but evidently had been managed in such a way at home that he felt the need of doing things under cover.

Naturally this set me thinking. What was the best way to deal with this attitude that some children have towards their playmates' mothers and their own mothers, too? I wanted to retain the confidence of my son, to preserve his freshness, to safeguard him, without overdoing it, and especially without giving anything approaching a sinister color to "Don't tell your mother" in his mind.

I thought about it a lot and at last I sat down in the big chair with him one day and talked about it seriously, but not solemnly. I told him that what mothers were for and what they wanted more than anything in the world was to make their children happy and healthy, that one way of doing this was for them to know all about them and everything that happened to them. If they got hurt their mother needed to know about it so she could take care of them. When they ate she needed to know about that so they could have the right sort of food to make them strong.

Then I explained, although I hated to, that all boys weren't as good friends with their mothers as he and I were, and they sometimes did things without their mothers knowing it or tried to hide things from them. And not only that, but they tried to get other boys to do the same by saying "Don't tell your mother."

Then I told him that such boys' mothers couldn't take the right care of their boys, and that if any boy said that to him he was to pay no attention to it. I explained to him that there was nothing in the world he couldn't tell his mother—no matter what it was about and no matter who said it. That he was never to let any one keep him from telling me things.

When he got started at school I found I had builded well.

This may not be your way, but be sure that in some way you prepare your children for "Don't tell your mother." After all, they're only little things and they need much guidance in this world so full of unguided children.

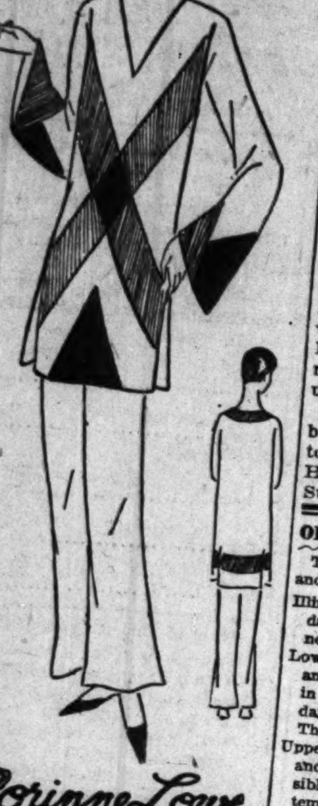
These Beach Pajamas Recall the Sunny Lido



by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—If, as our English friends express it, we are given to putting on a little "side," why not extend the tendency to putting on a little seaside? Certainly there is no better way of doing this than by getting yourself beach pajamas. For this garment, so universal on the Lido, has never been widely adopted on this side of the water and for that reason we pioneers who do wear them may always feel somewhat exclusive.

The above spectacular model shows that the modernistic influence is just as potent on the beach as elsewhere. For a jumper of magenta satin uses this arresting futuristic treatment of bands and triangles in black and green. Atoning for such decorative excesses in the front, the back of the jumper is treated only to a plain green band. The trousers are of plain magenta satin.

Speaking of resort wear in general, it may be said that the classic combination of white and red has been held over from previous seasons to make a southern landscape more pictorial. Of course, one refers here to sports wear, for it is in that domain that the tonal alliance has always received its real encouragement.

There are numerous imported models bearing out the favor accorded red and white, but one must select as especially eloquent a Goupy sports model topping a white crêpe de Chine skirt with a Canton crêpe blouse in brilliant red. The jumper is quite long and is belted narrowly in white leather. A futuristic design of discs is printed on the Canton crêpe.

Her Sunday Best.

It was October. I was 16. The most important thing in my mind just then was Halloween, for I was invited to a masquerade party.

The doorbell rang and I opened the door to find the small daughter of a neighbor and her 17 year old brother standing on the porch. As I invited them in the little girl said, "Mother said I could come over and show you my dress before I go to the party."

She was wearing a dress of bright orange of a peculiar style and it was quite large. She looked queer to me. But I told her I thought her costume would win the prize at the party, and I surely hoped it would. I also remarked that I thought it was quite unique.

Then came my embarrassment. Her brother, with whom I had been trying to gain favor, said, "O, that is not a Halloween costume; that is her new Sunday dress."

Tribune Cook Book

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Buttermilk Buckwheat Pancakes.

One of the most reliable of the old cook books has this to say about buckwheat flour: "Buckwheat flour when properly ground is perfectly free from grits. The grain should be run through the smutter with a strong blast before grinding and the greatest care taken through the whole process." Adulteration with rye or corn cheapens the flour.

"The pure buckwheat is best and is unsurpassed for griddle cakes. To make a batter warm one pint of sweet milk and one pint of water. Put half this mixture in a stone crock and add five teacups of buckwheat. Beat well until smooth, add the rest of the milk and water and finally a teacup of yeast, or the same ingredients and proportions may be used, adding two tablespoons of molasses or sugar and using one quart of water instead of one pint each of milk and water."

Remember, this is an ancient recipe and will make about four times the batter most families need today. In making a buckwheat batter without yeast I have been told that only buttermilk would do, and that the following recipe was 'way below par. There always may be reasons why a recipe is below par that has nothing to do with the recipe itself. The one who told me the following recipe was below par said no sweetening should be added, but laid great stress on the buttermilk.

But some one else found the following recipe all right and I thought it was pretty good myself. Sift into a bowl one cup of buckwheat flour—be sure it is not the prepared flour, but the plain—with two teaspoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, and one tablespoon of sugar. Use for this one and one-half cups of water because buckwheat flour swells more than wheat flour.

Mix thoroughly and bake at once on a thoroughly well and evenly heated griddle. The flavor of this pancake depends upon the nice roasting or browning it gets on a perfectly heated and controlled griddle.

We are willing to admit that sour milk and baking soda, or buttermilk and soda, will make one sort of a pancake better than the sweet milk or water, and, on the whole, we believe it is the sort the larger number of eaters prefer. So there you are. Work out your own preferences. They may be pronounced, but that is no reason for decrying those of another.

To Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to make. Saves about $2

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is, pine has a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified honey, instead of sugar syrup. This makes a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, and tastes good.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, bronchitis, and hoarseness.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

PINEX For Coughs

"How could I talk —with that throat?"

Carry a bottle of pleasant Formamint tablets with you. To treat sore throat, one every hour; as a preventive, one every two hours. All druggists.

Salesmen, Solicitors, Etc.

ATTENTION, SALESMEN!

Will 1928 be just "another year" for you, or the most important in your life?

It will be another year of "headaches" and "heartaches" for some—for the kind of man who is in a rut who knows he is in it and who lacks backbone enough to make a constructive move to get out of it.

But for the others—for the clear eyed, aggressive ready-to-face-the world type of man it will mean something else—a new deal—a new opportunity—another chance to cash in on his energy, his ability and the good times that all the economists predict.

THE HARMON ORGANIZATION has looked into the future, has seen what 1928 holds and had laid its plans so that all of the men associated with its sales force shall enjoy to the maximum the rewards that are the inevitable result of good hard team work, intelligently directed.

MEN, 23 TO 50 YEARS OLD.

We need good men—many of them—men of the same type that we now have in our sales force which we believe is second to none, men who can capitalize on our record of uninterrupted success, who can walk and talk and tell the truth, who are serious and hold permanent connections, who realize the dollar and cents value of an opportunity to represent the largest and oldest real estate firm in the country, a concern with 40 years' successful development in 31 American cities behind it, an organization where sales resistance is at a minimum.

To such men we offer the opportunity of a lifetime. 1928 will be our biggest year. We have several new properties in Chicago that will be placed on the market this year. These properties will be backed by newspaper advertising. We have a profit sharing plan for salesmen that is unique in its liberality. We don't want and won't take drifters. We want men who have made big money. We will offer them a chance to make more money than they ever made before. Experience is unnecessary. We will train you and work with you. Come in and let us lay our cards on the table and tell you what we are willing to do for you and what we expect from you in return.

HARMON NATIONAL REALTY TRUST,

Successors to
Wm. E. Harmon & Co.,
140 S. Dearborn-st., Room 543.

Saleswomen.

A $9,000,000 YEAR
JUST CLOSED

creates this new opportunity for a few ambitious women. As Chicago's largest real estate operators we have succeeded in making the largest volume of subdivisions sales in the middle west, over $9,000,000 for 1927.

We are planning for a bigger year in '28 and will employ 20 new saleswomen, with or without experience. Must be over 25 years old, ambitious, and have good references. This means a chance to become a success with the most successful firm.

If you are experienced you can start earning at once. If you have no experience but are willing to start learning the Bartlett way we will give you an interview. Permanent position, year round employment and the backing of our name and 29 years of proven service makes our saleswomen make money. Salary and commission to those who meet our qualifications as to integrity, sincerity and willingness to work. Apply in person only.

6TH FLOOR, 69 W. WASHINGTON-ST.

A REAL OPPORTUNITY.

Girls, women, neat appearing; salary and commission if desired when qualified; not real estate or insurance; only thing of its kind, sells on sight. See this quick. Mr. Wesch, 2024 S. Wabash.

FULL OR PART TIME.

Many women have tried selling real estate and failed. It was not their fault, but the connection they made. Our 22 years in business has taught us how to teach you to make from $5,000 per year up. Time with us is so valuable that we must run this ad blind in order to make suitable arrangements for interview. You cannot fail if you follow instructions. Give phone if you have one. Address K A 479, Tribune.

STUDEBAKER GUARANTEED CARS

Below is only a partial list of Studebaker cars that we are offering to the public. Frankly, we believe these slightly used automobiles are marked substantially below the market price. What is just as important, however, is the protection given every customer who makes a purchase. These cars are "certified" and carry a 30 day free service guarantee. They have been thoroughly inspected by expert Studebaker mechanics and reconditioned in our own shops. In addition, each automobile is sold under the full terms of the Studebaker Used Car Pledge, that allows 5 days' free driving trial.

STUDEBAKER BROUGHAM. A late model Standard Six that was thoroughly reconditioned. The upholstery and finish look new. In fact, this dandy car will give you new car satisfaction. Extras are heater, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Today, $585.

ERSKINE SEDAN. This beautiful "Little Aristocrat" was owned for two months by a North Shore contractor. He wanted a larger car, the Studebaker Commander, and we obtained this custom built six cyl. car at a very favorable price. Today it's still in the original brand new condition. Equipped with 4 wheel brakes, spare tire, bumper, etc. A remarkable value for $645.

STUDEBAKER COMMANDER. 5 pass. Big Six Sedan. Here is a duplicate of the famous car that broke all worlds' records by going 25,000 miles in less than 23,000 minutes! This Studebaker is a real beauty and the motor could not be improved. Equipped with 4 wheel brakes, snubbers, spare tire, bumpers, etc. Only $1,195.

STUDEBAKER COACH. A Special Six that was in storage for eight months. Before that it was driven so carefully that you will be surprised by its wonderful condition. It's equipped with spotlight, spare tire, bumpers, etc. Reduced to $745.

STUDEBAKER ROADSTER. A snappy sport car with low slung lines and very spirited performance. It's a Standard Six with a bright green finish and valuable equipment, including windshield wings, spare tire, bumpers, etc. Special for $685.

STUDEBAKER BROUGHAM. A recent model Big Six equipped with the most powerful motor of its size and weight. Mechanically it's smooth and powerful. The exterior is distinctive and an inspection will prove that the inside is very luxurious. There are footrests and the upholstery is handsome. Equipped with snubbers, spare tire, bumpers, etc. Will not remain long at $1,045.

STUDEBAKER SPORT COUPE. A Dictator model that only had a few months' service. It has an attractive light green paint job and the engine is in tip-top shape. Has a rumble seat and the equipment includes 4 wheel brakes, snubbers, bumper, spare tire, etc. You can make a substantial saving at our price of $985.

STUDEBAKER SEDAN. The famous Special Six that was only driven Sundays and evenings for pleasure purposes. A demonstration will show you conclusively that the performance is unusually efficient. The appearance is all that could be desired. Extras are snubbers, spare tire, bumpers, etc. Today, $795.

LIBERAL TERMS.

Open Evenings and Sundays.
